CALIFORNIA.

A Legislature, except half the Senate, which holds over, was chosen in September, 1877. The people also voted on the question of calling a convention to amend the State Constitution respecting the appointment of the Judiciary. Wm. Irwin (Dem.) was elected Governor in 1875 by a plurality of 30,187 over T. G. Phelps (Rep.) and John Bidwell (Ind.). The next election for State officers occurs on the first Wednesday in September, 1879. Delegates to a Constitutional Convention are to be elected the present year.

The vote, on calling a convention to revise the Constitution, was 146,105, of which 73,460, or 815 more than the required majority, were in favor of a convention.

CONNECTICUT.

No State officers were chosen in 1877. Sheriffs were elected in the several counties, and the people voted upon two constitutional amendments, the first of which prohibits the giving of extra compensation to any public officers or employees, and the second prohibits counties, towns, cities, boroughs or other municipalities from subscribing to the capital stock or purchasing the bonds of railroad corporations. The vote upon the first was 23,913 for, and 7,451 against; upon the second, 26,832 for, and 4,526 against. State officers were chosen in November, 1876, to serve two years, Richard D. Hubbard (Dem.) being elected over Henry C. Robinson (Rep.) by a plurality of 3,420. The next State election occurs November 5, 1878.

Total vote for Governor, 1876, 46,874; President, 1876, 46,772; 1872, 33,293.

NOTE—In the above table the vote for President and Governor in 1876 is given as first officially canvassed, and certified by the Secretary of State. On the recount under order of the Supreme Court, the following figures were certified to as the vote for Governor: Stearns (Rep.), 23,984; Drew (Dem.), 24,179; Drew's majority, 195. The board of canvassers made a number of corrections on the ground of fraud and informality, most of which were disregarded by the Supreme Court.

The Senate Elections Committee investigated the returns, and reported that the official canvass was legal and conclusive, that the Board had the right to seek the true vote behind the returns, and that its action regarding Baker, Duval, Alachua, Jackson and Manatee counties was fully justified by the law and the facts. A Committee of the House of Representatives reached opposite conclusions.

The vote for Electors was not counted in the Supreme Court canvass, but another canvass was made in obedience to an act of the Legislature, resulting as follows: Hayes, 24,350; Tilden, 24,440; Tilden's majority, according to this showing, 90. This canvass was made by the new Democratic State officers.

The vote for Lieutenant-Governor was as follows: Official count—Rep., 23,578; Dem., 23,737; Rep. majority, 305. Supreme Court count—Rep., 23,895; Dem., 24,243; Dem. majority, 348.

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor, James B. McCreary; Lieutenant-Governor, John C. Underwood; Secretary of State, J. Stoddard Johnston; Attorney-General, Thomas E. Moss; Auditor, D. Howard Smith; Treasurer, Jas. W. Tate; Insurance Commissioner, Bedford Leslie, Superintendent of Public Instruction, H. A. M. Henderson; Register of the Land Office, Thos. D. Marcum; Commissioner of Agriculture and Horticulture, W. J. Davie—all Democrats.

Legislature—Almost unanimously Democratic.

LOUISIANA.

No election was held in 1877, State officers to serve four years having been chosen in 1876. Stephen B. Packard (Rep.) was declared elected by the Returning Board, which threw out the votes of several parishes and parts of parishes, because of intimidation and fraud. The same count also returned the Hayes electors as chosen, and produced a Republican majority in the Legislature. The Democrats, however, contested the count, claiming the election of Nicholls as Governor, the Tilden electors, and a Democratic Legislature. As a result, rival Legislatures were organized, and both candidates for Governor were inaugurated, Packard being protected in the State House by United States troops. The contest was finally settled by the withdrawal of the troops, and the defection of some of the Republican members of the Legislature, when Nicholls was inducted into office and recognized as Governor. The next State election occurs November 5, 1878, when a Treasurer, eighteen Senators and various local officers will be chosen.

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor, Zebulon B. Vance; Executive Clerk, Lee S. Overman; Lieutenant-Governor, Thomas J. Jarvis; Secretary of State, Joseph A. Englehard; Auditor, Samuel L. Love; Treasurer, J. M. Worth; Attorney-General, Thomas S. Kenan; Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. C. Scarborough—all Democrats. Supreme Court—Chief Justice, W. H. N. Smith, Democrat; Associate Justices, Edwin G. Reade, Will. B. Rodman, W. P. Bynum, W. T. Faircloth; Clerk, W. H. Bagley—all Republicans.

Legislature—Senate: Republicans, 10; Democrats, 40. House: Republicans, 36; Democrats, 82. Democratic majority on joint ballot, 76.

OHIO.

A Governor and other State officers and Legislature were chosen in October, Richard M. Bishop being elected Governor by a plurality of 22,520 against Republican, Prohibition, Workingmen and Greenback candidates. The next State election occurs October 8, 1878, when the Secretary of State, Judge of the Supreme Court, members of the Board of Public Works and Congressmen are to be chosen.

CANDIDATES.

Governor—Wm. H. West, Rep.; Richard M. Bishop, Dem.; H. A. Thompson, Pro.; Stephen Johnson, Workingmen's and Greenback.

Lieutenant-Governor—Ferd. Vogeler, Rep.; Jabez W. Fitch, Dem.; Geo. R. Jenkens, Pro.; Chris. Lewis, W. and Gr.

Judge Supreme Court—W. W. Johnson, Rep.; John W. Okey, Dem.; D. C. Montgomery, Pro.; M. L. Clark, W. and Gr.

Attorney-General—Geo. K. Nash, Rep.; Isalah Pillars, Dem.; D. W. Gage, Pro.; Geo. A. Duncan, W. and Gr.

Clerk Supreme Court.—Dwight Crowell, Rep.; R. J. Fanning, Dem.; George Dodd, Pro.; E. P. Pitkin, W. and Gr.

School Commissioner.—J. F. Lukens, Rep.; Jas. J. Burns, Dem.; J. W. Lindsey, Pro.; John C. Logan, W. and Gr.

Board of Public Works.—Aug. W. Luckey, Rep.; Martin Schilder, Dem.; Amos Miller, Pro.; C. C. Strong, W. and Gr.

Treasurer.—John M. Milliken, Rep.; Anthony Howells, Dem.; Arza Alderman, Pro.; Joseph Jenkins, W. and Gr.

The Workingmen's ticket given above is the result of a fusion between the Workingmen and Greenback men at Columbus. The original Workingmen's ticket nominated at Cincinnati consisted of L. H. Bond for Governor, Frank Skarda for Lieutenant-Governor, Peter H. Clark for School Commissioner, L. A. Hines for State Treasurer, Frederick Arnsperger for Clerk of the Supreme Court, and Peter McGeeney for the Board of Public Works. This ticket polled 12,489 votes, nearly three-fourths of which were in Hamilton county. The straight Greenback ticket included, as separate nominations, John B. Powell for Lieutenant-Governor, Samuel E. Adams for the Supreme Court, Charles E. Bonsall for Clerk, Marshall O. Wagner for Attorney-General, and Jacob Ribbitt for the Board of Public Works.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

No election occurred in 1877, State officers to serve two years having been chosen in 1876. Daniel H. Chamberlain (Rep.) was declared elected Governor by the Republican Legislature, which met under the protection of the Federal troops. Hampton (Dem.) had a majority of the votes returned, but the canvassing officers threw out the counties of Edgefield and Laurens, because of intimidation and fraud. Hampton claimed the election, and was also inaugurated by the Democrats. After Hayes was inaugurated President, the troops were withdrawn, and the Hampton government took possession, the Republicans submitting under protest. The next election for State officers occurs November 5, 1878. The following table gives the vote, as officially canvassed, omitting the vote of Laurens and Edgefield on Governor:

Total vote for President, 1876, 182,766; Governor, 1876, 169,294; President, 1872 (including 187 for O'Connor), 95,160. The vote for President is the highest cast for Electors-at-Large on each ticket. A committee of the House of Representatives compiled a statement of the vote for Electors from the precinct returns, which gave the Republican Electors an average of 92,104 votes, and the Democratic Electors an average of 91,439 votes.

Edgefield and Laurens counties, though strongly Republican at every previous election since the war, gave a large apparent Democratic majority, which was plainly the result of organized terrorism and wholesale murder.

The Democrats claimed the election of Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, on the following statement of votes, Laurens and Edgefield counties being included: Governor, Rep., 91,127; Dem., 92,261; Dem. majority, 1,134. Lieutenant-Governor, Rep., 91,550; Dem., 91,689; Dem. majority, 139. Small majorities were also claimed for the Democratic candidates for Comptroller and Superintendent of Education. The following was the "official" count for minor State officers:

TERMS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.

Regular term, January 15th, 1878, to December 24th, 1878, with such recesses from time to time as the court may direct.

Justices of the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court consists of thirty-three Justices. The State is divided into eight judicial districts, and four Justices are elected in each, except the first, which elects five. Elections for Justices of the Supreme Court are held every alternate odd year. As fast as the terms of Justices expire, elections take place for a term of fourteen years. For General Term purposes, the State is divided into Judicial Departments. The Governor designates the Justices to hold the General Terms. In each department there is a Presiding Justice, who holds office during the term for which he was elected to the bench, and two associates, who hold office for five years, unless the terms for which they were elected sooner expire.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Senate consists of 32 members, who are elected in November of every alternate year, ('77, '79, etc.), and hold their offices for two years from the first of January next succeeding. The State is divided into 32 districts, each electing one Senator. The Senators receive an annual salary of $1,500, and also $1 for each ten miles of travel in going to or returning from the place of meeting once in each session. Ten dollars per day in addition is allowed when the Senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when acting as a court for the trial of impeachments. The Lieutenant-Governor is ex officio President of the Senate.

Clerk—JOHN W. VROOMAN, of Herkimer. Sergeant-at-Arms—WIEDMAN DOMINICK, of Schoharie. Door-keeper—JAMES G. CAW.

First District.

(Suffolk, Queens and Richmond counties. Population, in 1875, 171,460; in 1865, 129,075.)

JAMES M. OAKLEY (Dem.), of Jamaica, Queens county. Mr. O. was born in New York city, June 19, 1839; received an academic education; is a real estate broker; was member of Assembly, 1871-'75, five years, serving on the Committees on Roads and Bridges, Banks, Militia, Public Buildings, and Sub-Committee of the Whole; appointed Quarantine Commissioner April 5, 1877, and was elected to the Senate by a majority of 2,298* over James Otis (Rep.) The Republican plurality in 1875 was 904.

Second District.

7TH DISTRICT. (Parts of wards 9, 15 and 16; population, in 1865, 23,882.) ISAAC I. HAYES (Rep.), of New York city (51 West Tenth street). Mr. H. was born in Chester county, Pa., March 5, 1832; was educated in public and private schools, and in the Academy at Westtown, Chester county, Pa.; graduated in Medicine from the University of Pennsylvania in 1853; has been a Farmer, Teacher, Physician and Arctic Explorer, and is at present an Author and Lecturer. Soon after graduating he accompanied Dr. E. K. Kane on his Arctic Expedition as Surgeon and was absent two years and a half. In 1860, he commanded an expedition to the same regions, and was absent about a year and a half. This was entirely a private and purely a scientific enterprise, and the expedition was fitted out after three years' effort, partly at Dr. Hayes' expense and partly at the expense of individuals and scientific societies. He also explored Greenland in 1869, and visited Iceland in 1874 to take part in the millennial celebration of the colonization of that country. In 1872 he published a paper, which attracted some attention, in relation to the injury being done to the harbor of New York by encroachments along the water front. Other papers on hydrographic subjects in connection with commerce occasionally appeared from his pen. Besides numerous pamphlets and papers on various scientific subjects, especially in relation to exploration and travel, and also a number of purely literary articles, he has written the following works: "The Open Polar Sea," "An Arctic Boat Journey," "Cast Away in the Cold," and "The Land of Desolation." In the Arctic regions he reached a point within 480 miles of the North Pole, nearer than any other explorer has ever approached. For his discovery of the most northerly known land, he received gold medals from the leading scientific societies of the world and numerous decorations. Early in the war of the Rebellion he entered the Army as Brigade Surgeon. He afterward became a Surgeon of United States Volunteers with rank of Major and brevet rank of Colonel. He built and commanded until the close of the war the Army Hospital at West Philadelphia, Pa., capable of accommodating 4,000 patients. It was the largest hospital ever built, and was famous for its good discipline and hygienic regulations. Since 1865 he has resided in New York city. Dr. Hayes was formerly a Whig, but since 1856 he has been a Republican. He took part in the Convention which nominated Fremont, and subsequently rendered efficient service to that candidate on the stump. He also stumped this and other States in the recent Presidential canvass. His first service in a political office was as member of Assembly in 1876, '77, in which he served as Chairman of the Committee on State Charitable Institutions, and member of Ways and Means, Commerce and Navigation, and Insurance. He was elected to the last House by a majority of 725, his plurality, in 1875, being 1,375, and a majority over two candidates of 1,060, the largest ever given in the district, except under the Tweed regime, when fraudulent voting was charged. His majority last fall, over John Carey (Tam. Dem.), was 716, which was 300 ahead of the State ticket. In the House he has been identified with rapid transit measures, the State survey bill, reform in the pilotage laws, free canal advocacy, speedy completion of unfinished insane asylums, and other important matters of legislation.

Seneca County.

Population, in 1865, 27,653; in 1875, 27,299.

DIEDRICH WILLERS, Jr. (Dem.), of Varick. Mr. W. was born in Varick, Seneca county, November 3, 1833. His father, Rev. Dr. Diedrich Willers, still living at the age of eighty years, is an influential and greatly esteemed clergyman of the German Reformed Church. He is a native of Germany, and being then in the army of Hanover, with the allied forces under the Duke of Wellington, he participated in the battle of Waterloo in 1815. Mr. Willers' mother is also still living at an advanced age. He was educated at common schools and at Seneca Academy; taught school and worked on a farm for several years; commenced to learn the printer's trade but abandoned it because of ill health; read law and attended a course at the Albany Law School, and was admitted to the bar, but never actively engaged in practice. He was designed for the ministry, but he early took an active interest in politics, and the design was not carried out. He cast his first vote for Greene C. Bronson for Governor in 1854 and took an active part in the Presidential canvass of 1856. In the fall of 1857 he was appointed to a clerkship in the Secretary of State's office, by Gideon J. Tucker, the then Secretary, and served under successive incumbents until 1863, when he was appointed Private Secretary to Governor Seymour. In 1864, at the close of Gov. Seymour's term, he resumed farming for a time; serving two years, meanwhile, in the Board of Supervisors, and being chosen Chairman of the Board. In 1867 he was appointed by President Johnson to a clerkship in the office of the second Auditor of the Treasury, but relinquished the position in about nine months to take the office of Deputy Secretary of State under Homer A. Nelson. In 1871 he was the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, but though he led his ticket handsomely, he was defeated with his associates. In 1872 he was appointed Assistant Paymaster General on the staff of Gov. Hoffman, and was detailed for the duty of examining bills in the Executive chamber. In 1873 he was one of the Secretaries of the Constitutional Commission. On the adjournment of that body he once more returned to home and farm life, but in the ensuing November he was nominated by acclamation for Secretary of State on the Democratic ticket, and elected by about 10,000 majority. During his term he gave his constant personal attention to the daily routine of business, and to the meetings of the State boards of which he was a member, his votes being uniformly cast in behalf of economy and reform. Before the meeting of the Democratic convention in 1875, he wrote a letter declining a re-nomination, mainly on account of his health, which had become much impaired. Soon after the close of his term he spent five months in Europe. He was nominated for the Assembly last fall by acclamation, and was elected over two opponents, D. H. Evans (Rep.) and T. A. Jennings (Gr. and Lab. Ref.), by a majority of 79, the Democratic majority in 1876 being 560.

Williams; entered the sophomore class of Hamilton College in the fall of 1866, and remained a year; taught mathematics in the Ithaca Academy the next year, and entered the junior class of Cornell University in the fall of 1868, when it first opened, and graduated in 1870. Since January 1, 1872, he has practiced law. He has always been a Democrat. In 1868, while a junior at Cornell, he stumped Tompkins county for Seymour and Blair, for whom he cast his first vote. He also canvassed the county for Greeley and Brown in 1872. He was elected District Attorney of Tompkins county in 1873, by a majority of 415, being the first and only Democrat elected to a county office in the county in twenty-two years. He was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention at St. Louis in 1876, and also to the Saratoga convention of the same year. In June, 1874, he was chosen Trustee of Cornell University by the Alumni of that institution, in accordance with the charter, and still holds the position. In March, 1874, he was elected Corporation Counsel by the Trustees of the village of Ithaca, and has been regularly re-elected every year since, still holding the office. November 15, 1875, he resigned the office of District Attorney, having served a little over half the term. He was a member of Assembly in 1876, serving on the committees on Public Education, Engrossed Bills and Game Laws, and elected to the present House by a plurality of 367, his opponents being Silas R. CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

To be submitted to the people in November, 1878, if adopted by the present Legislature.

Qualifications of Voters.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article two of the Constitution.

Resolved, That section one of article two of the Constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of this State one year next preceding an election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are, or hereafter may be, elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people; but the Legislature may provide that elections for members of city boards shall be so regulated as to give to minorities a proportionate share of representation therein. Provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the State or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election district; and the Legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which, and the time and place at which, such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election district in which they respectively reside.

Boards of Supervisors and Aldermen.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article three of the Constitution.

Resolved, That section twenty-two of article three of the Constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such manner and for such period as is or may be provided by law. In any such city the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the board of aldermen thereof, except such duties and powers as involve the making of contracts, procuring supplies, or creating, auditing or allowing county charges, all which duties and powers, whether now existing or hereafter to be created, shall be exercised and performed exclusively by the board of finance.

Schools.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to the Constitution in relation to the Schools.

Resolved, That article nine of the Constitution be amended by the addition of the following sections:

§2. Free common schools shall be maintained throughout the State forever. The Legislature shall provide for the instruction in the branches of elementary education in such schools of all persons in the State between the ages of five and twenty-one years, for the period of at least twenty-eight weeks in each year.

§3. Neither the money, property or credit of the State, nor of any county, city, town, village or school district, shall be given, loaned or leased, or be otherwise applied, to the support or in aid of any school or instruction under the control or in charge of any church, sect, denomination or religious society; nor to or in aid of any school in which instruction is given peculiar to any church, creed, sect or denomination, or to or in aid of any such instruction; nor to or in aid of any school or instruction not wholly under the control and supervision and in charge of the public school authorities. This section shall not prohibit the Legislature from making such provision for the education of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and juvenile delinquents, as it may deem proper, except in institutions in which instruction is given peculiar to any church, creed, sect, denomination or religious society; nor shall it apply to or effect the Cornell University endowment fund, hitherto pledged and appropriated.

Supreme Court.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section six of article six of the Constitution.

Resolved, That section six of article six of the Constitution be amended so that it shall read as follows:

§6. There shall be the existing supreme court with general jurisdiction in law and equity, subject to such appellate jurisdiction of the court of appeals as now is or may be prescribed by law; and it shall be composed of the justices now in office, with one additional justice, to be elected as hereinafter provided, who shall be continued during their respective terms and of their successors. The existing judicial districts of the State are continued until changed pursuant to this section. Five of the justices shall reside in the district in which is the city of New York, and five in the second judicial district, and four in each of the other districts. The Legislature may alter the districts without increasing the number, once after every enumeration, under this Constitution, of the inhabitants of the State.

Prohibiting the Loan of Public Money for Private Purposes, and Restricting Indebtedness.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section eleven of article eight of the Constitution.

Resolved, That section eleven of article eight of the Constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§11. No county, city, town or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become directly or indirectly the owner of stock in, or bonds of, any association or corporation; nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness, except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provision for the aid or support of its poor, as may be authorized by law. No county or city shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose or in any manner to an amount which, including existing indebtedness, shall exceed five per cent. of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city, subject to taxation, as it appeared by the assessment rolls of said county or city, at the last assessment for State or county taxes, prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; and all indebtedness in excess of such limitation, except such as may now exist, shall be absolutely void, except as herein otherwise provided. No county or city, whose present indebtedness exceeds five per cent. of the assessed valuation of its real estate, subject to taxation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount until such indebtedness shall be reduced within such limit, except such indebtedness as may be provided for by the tax levy for the then current year, and except that the Legislature, if it is deemed necessary for the interests of said city or county, may authorize it to contract further indebtedness to an amount not exceeding, for any one year, one dollar per capita of each of its population, as ascertained by the last State census, and for a period not exceeding five years in any case. No law shall hereafter be passed authorizing any indebtedness of or the issuing of any bonds or evidence of debt by any county or city, unless such law shall provide that such indebtedness, bonds or evidence of debt, shall be made payable in equal amounts in each year, during a period not in any case to exceed twenty years from the contracting of such indebtedness; and such law shall provide that such city or county shall, in each year, levy and raise by taxation a sum sufficient to pay the interest on such debt and the amount thereof coming due in each year, which said provisions, as to time of payment and the taxation therefor, shall be irrevocable. The money raised for the payment of such interest and principal shall be applied for that purpose, and none other, until the whole of such indebtedness is paid.

Municipal Government.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to the Constitution, to be known as article seventeen thereof.

Resolved, That the Constitution be amended by adding thereto a new article to be known as article seventeen, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE XVII.

§1. The power of the Legislature to provide for the organization and government of cities shall be exercised in accordance with the provisions, and subject to the limitations and restrictions hereinafter contained, and the powers and franchises of every existing city government must be exercised in conformity therewith. The Legislature shall, at its first session after the adoption of this article, provide by law for carrying into effect all the provisions contained therein.

§2. City elections shall be held separately from the State and National elections, and in March or April.

§3. The legislative power conferred on any city, shall be vested in a board of aldermen, to be elected by the electors qualified under article second of the Constitution, which shall be the common council of said city; but no power hereinafter vested in the board of finance shall be conferred on or exercised by the board of aldermen. No power shall be conferred by the Legislature on the board of finance except the powers conferred by this Constitution, or such as may be necessary to carry the powers granted thereby into effect. In case of a veto of any legislative act of the board of aldermen by the mayor, the board shall have power to pass the same, notwithstanding the mayor's veto, by a recorded vote of two-thirds of all the members elected, provided that such vote be taken at the next meeting of the board after the communication of the veto.

§4. The executive power of every city shall be vested in the mayor and in such executive officers and departments as may be created by law. The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city, and he shall see to the faithful performance of their duties by the several executive officers and departments thereof. He shall be elected by electors qualified under article second of the Constitution, for such term, and he shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may prescribe. He shall nominate, and with the consent of the board of finance, appoint the chief officer or head of the financial department and the chief law officer or head of the law department; and he shall have power to appoint the head or chief officers of the other executive departments. With the written approval of the Governor, the mayor may remove the head or chief officers of any executive department. He shall have power to investigate their accounts and proceedings; have access to all books and documents in their offices, and may examine them and their subordinates under oath, as to all matters relating to the performance of their official duties. He shall also have power to veto any legislative act of the board of aldermen. The mayor may be removed by the Governor for cause, as in the case of sheriffs; and in case of such removal, the Governor shall appoint a mayor to fill the vacancy who shall hold office until the next succeeding city election, at which election a mayor shall be elected for the full term of the office. The Legislature shall provide for the filling of a vacancy in the office of mayor, otherwise occurring, until the next succeeding city election, and also for the discharge of the duties of the mayor during his temporary absence or disability. Heads of departments shall have power to appoint and remove their subordinate officers and employees, but the Legislature may regulate by law the qualifications for such appointments, and the conditions of such removals.

§5. There shall be elected in every city of this State a board of finance, to consist of not less than six nor more than fifteen members, who shall possess the qualifications required for electors of members of said board.

§6. In cities having a population, according to the State census next preceding the election, of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, the board of finance shall be elected by the electors of the city (otherwise qualified under article second of the constitution) who shall, for two years next preceding the election, have paid an annual tax on property owned by them, and officially assessed for taxation in such city, of the assessed value of not less than five hundred dollars, or shall have actually paid during the same period a yearly rent, for premises in said city occupied by them for purposes of residence or lawful business, of not less than two hundred and fifty dollars. In cities having a population, according to the State census next preceding the election, of not more than one hundred thousand inhabitants, the board of finance shall be elected by the electors of the city, (otherwise qualified under article second of the constitution), who shall, for two years next preceding the election, have paid an annual tax on property owned by them, and officially assessed for taxation in such city, or who shall have actually paid during the same period a yearly rent for premises in said city occupied by them for purposes of residence or lawful business, of not less than one hundred dollars. In cities having a population, according to the State census next preceding the election, of not more than twenty-five thousand inhabitants, the board shall consist of six members. In cities having a population of over twenty-five thousand inhabitants, and not more than fifty thousand, it shall consist of nine members. In cities having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, and not more than one hundred thousand, it shall consist of twelve members; and in cities having a population of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, it shall consist of fifteen members. At the first election one-third of the board shall be elected for a term of one year, one-third thereof for a term of two years, and one-third thereof for a term of three years; and thereafter the term of office shall be three years. The existence of any vacancy in the board shall not of itself suspend the exercise of its powers and duties. The Legislature shall, at its first session after the adoption of this article, and thereafter from time to time, as may be necessary, provide by general law for the registration, in every city, of electors qualified to vote for the board of finance, and for filling vacancies in said board, and may change the number of members of which the said board shall consist in any city, provided that the number shall not, in any case, be less than six, and that one-third of the board shall be elected annually.

§7. The board of finance shall, in every fiscal year, make estimates of the sums of money necessary for the proper administration of the city government during the next fiscal year, and which are to be raised by taxation or supplied by the revenue of the city derivable from other sources, and applicable to general purposes. Such estimates shall include the sums requisite for the payment of the interest on bonds or other city debts drawing interest, the principal of any debts payable during the year, judgments against the city, the sums sufficient to make good all deficiencies in the payment of taxes on personal estate for the last preceding year, and any deficiencies in the collection of taxes on real estate for any preceding year which may be found by the board to be uncollectable, and also any defic-encies in the collection of the estimated revenues from other sources and all other sums required by law to be raised by taxation. The estimates shall also separately state the aggregate amount of moneys in the treasury or receivable during the next fiscal year, applicable to general purposes, in which may be included any prior unexpended appropriations which, in the judgment of the board, may not be required to meet existing liabilities; and shall in like manner, separately state the aggregate amount to be raised by taxation. The board shall submit the estimates, when completed to the mayor, who shall, within ten days thereafter, return the same to the board, with his approval, or with his objection, if any he have, in writing, specifying the items objected to; and the items thus objected to, but no others shall be reconsidered and finally determined by the board. The board shall, after the return of the estimates by the mayor, and the action of the board upon the items objected to, if any, or in the event of a failure of the mayor to return the same as above required, proceed by resolution to declare the estimates to be final and adopted, and the several sums of money therein estimated as necessary, shall become and be appropriated to and for the departments and officers therein mentioned, and for the objects and purposes therein mentioned. The aggregate amount to be raised by taxation shall be stated in such resolution, and shall thereupon be levied and collected in the manner provided by law for the levying and collecting of city taxes. The board of finance may, during any current fiscal year, by a unanimous vote, and with the approval of the mayor, in case of pestilence, conflagration, or any other unforeseen public calamity, transfer sums of money appropriated to one department, object or purpose, and not required to satisfy existing liabilities, to another department, object or purpose. A vote of the majority of the entire board shall be necessary to the passage of any measure or resolution; and a vote of two-thirds of the entire board shall be necessary to the adoption of the estimates hereinbefore provided for, or any item thereof, or to authorize the issue of any stock or bonds, and in such other cases as are hereinafter specified. It shall be the duty of the several departments, boards and officers, and the common council, to furnish all such statements and accounts as the board of finance may require, and at such times and in such manner as the said board may prescribe; and the board of finance shall also have power to examine the books and papers of the several executive departments and officers, and to examine such officers upon oath concerning their official business.

§ 8. No debt or liability shall be incurred by any department, board or any officer in any city, unless there shall be at the time an unexpended appropriation applicable thereto sufficient to satisfy the same and all debts and liabilities previously incurred and payable out of such appropriation; and all contracts and engagements in contravention hereof shall be void. Nor shall any debt or liability of the city be paid, except out of money in the treasury appropriated to the purpose of paying such debt or liability. No city government, or any department thereof, shall grant any extra compensation to any officer, servant, agent, contractor, or employee.

§ 9. The Legislature shall itself have no power to pass any law for the opening, making, paving, lighting or otherwise improving or maintaining streets, avenues, parks or places, docks or wharves, or for any other local work or improvement in or for a city, but all authority necessary for such purposes shall be by law conferred on the city government; nor shall the Legislature impose any charge on any city, or civil division of the State containing a city, except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House. Any local work or improvement in or for a city, the cost of which is to be wholly paid by the city at large, must be authorized by resolution, passed by the vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to the board of aldermen and board of finance respectively. Any such work or improvement, the cost of which is to be wholly paid otherwise than by the city at large, must be authorized by the vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to the board of aldermen, with the consent of a majority in interest, to be ascertained in such a manner as the Legislature may prescribe, of all the owners of land within the district of assessment limited for the cost of such work or improvement. Any such work or improvement, the cost of which is to be paid in part by the city at large, and a part by local assessment, must be authorized by a resolution passed by the vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to the board of aldermen and board of finance, respectively, with the consent of a majority in interest, to be ascertained as hereinbefore directed, of all the owners of the land within the prescribed district of assessment.

§ 10. No money shall be borrowed by any city government for the purpose of defraying any of the expenses of the city for which an appropriation has been made, except in anticipation of the revenue of the year in which the same may be borrowed, applicable to such purposes; and all moneys so borrowed must be paid out of such revenue, or out of revenues specially provided to supply any deficiency in the collection thereof; provided, however, that temporary loans, in anticipation of taxes, may be renewed, so far as such taxes may not have been collected, when the same are, in the opinion of the board, fully secured by valid liens on real estate. No city shall borrow any money for any other purpose, except under and in accordance with the following conditions and limitations, in addition to any other conditions and limitations contained in the constitution:

1. The debt must be for some single work or object only, and must be authorized by a resolution passed by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the board of finance, and approved by the mayor, distinctly specifying such work or object, and the amount of the debt to be incurred.

2. The Legislature must, before the creation of such a debt, assent thereto by a law passed by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House. Such law shall also distinctly specify the single work or object for which the debt is created, and the amount of the debt authorized, and shall contain provisions for a sinking fund to meet the same at maturity, and requiring at least ten per cent of the principal to be annually raised by taxation and paid into the sinking fund.

§ 11. Except as prescribed by the first section of this article, no change in the organization of, or in the distribution of powers in, a city government, or in the terms or tenure of office therein, shall be made by the Legislature, unless by an act passed upon the application of the city, made by resolution both of the board of aldermen and of the board of finance, respectively, approved by the mayor, or by an act which shall have received the sanction of two successive Legislatures.

Resumption and the Silver Question.

From the President's Annual Message, December, 1877.

Upon a most anxious and deliberate examination which I have felt it my duty to give to the subject, I am but the more confirmed in the opinion which I expressed in accepting the nomination for the Presidency, and again upon my inauguration, that the policy of resumption should be pursued by every suitable means, and that no legislation would be wise that should disparage the importance or retard the attainment of that result. I have no disposition, and certainly no right, to question the sincerity or the intelligence of opposing opinions, and would neither conceal nor undervalue the considerable difficulties and even occasional distresses which may attend the progress of the nation towards this primary condition to its general and permanent prosperity. I must, however, adhere to my most earnest conviction that any wavering in purpose or unsteadiness in methods, so far from avoiding or reducing the inconvenience inseparable from the transition from an irredeemable to a redeemable paper currency, would only tend to increased and prolonged disturbance in values, and, unless relieved, must end in serious disorder, dishonor and disaster in the financial affairs of the government and of the people. The mischiefs which I apprehend, and urgently deprecate, are confined to no class of the people, indeed, but seem to me most certainly to threaten the industrious masses, whether their occupations are of skilled or common labor. To them, it seems to me, it is of prime importance that their labor should be compensated in money which is in itself fixed in exchangeable value by being irrevocably measured by the labor necessary to its production. This permanent quality of the money of the people is sought for and can only be gained by the resumption of specie payments. The rich, the speculative, the operating, the money dealing classes may not always feel the mischiefs of or may find casual profits in a variable currency, but the misfortunes of such a currency to those who are paid salaries or wages are inevitable and remediless.

In any legislation providing for a silver coinage, regulating the quality of legal tender, it seems to me of great importance that Congress should not lose sight of its action as operating in a two-fold capacity and in two distinct directions. If the United States Government were free from public debt, its legislative dealing with the question of silver coinage would be purely sovereign and governmental, under no restraints but those of constitutional power and the public good as affected by the proposed legislation. But in the actual circumstances of the nation, with a vast public debt distributed very widely among our own citizens, and held in great amounts also abroad, the nature of the silver coinage measure as affecting this relation of the Government to the holders of the public debt becomes an element in any proposed legislation of the highest concern. The obligation of the public faith transcends all questions of profit or public advantage otherwise, and its unquestionable maintenance is the dictate of the highest expediency as well as the most necessary duty, and will ever be carefully guarded by Congress and people alike.

The public debt of the United States to the amount of $729,000,000 bears interest at the rate of six per cent., and $728,000,000 at the rate of five per cent., and the only way in which the country can be relieved from the payment of these high rates of interest is by advantageously refunding the indebtedness. Whether the debt is ultimately paid in gold or in silver coin is of but little moment compared with the possible reduction of interest one-third by refunding it at such reduced rate. If the United States had the unquestioned right to pay its bonds in silver coin the little benefit from that process would be greatly overbalanced by the injurious effect of such payment, if made or proposed against the honest convictions of the public creditors. All the bonds that have been issued since February 12, 1873, when gold became the only unlimited legal tender metallic currency of the country, are justly payable in gold coin or in coin of equal value. During the time of these issues the only dollar that could be or was received by the Government in exchange for bonds was the gold dollar.

To require the public creditors to take in repayment any dollar of less commercial value, would be regarded by them as repudiation of the full obligation assumed. The bonds issued prior to 1873, were issued at a time when the gold dollar was the only coin in circulation or contemplated by either the government or the holders of the bonds as the coin in which they were to be paid. It is far better to pay these bonds in that coin than to seem to take advantage of the unforeseen fall of silver bullion to pay in a new issue of silver coin thus made so much less valuable. The power of the United States to coin money and to regulate the value thereof ought never to be exercised for the purpose of enabling the government to pay its obligations in a coin of less value than that contemplated by the parties when the bonds were issued. Any attempt to pay the national indebtedness in a coinage of less commercial value than the money of the world would involve a violation of the public faith and work irreparable injury to the public credit.

In adapting the new silver coinage to the ordinary uses of currency in the every day transactions of life, and prescribing the quality of legal tender to be assigned to it, a consideration of the first importance should be so to adjust the ratio between the silver and the gold coinage, which now constitutes our specie currency as to accomplish the desired end of maintaining the circulation of the two metallic currencies and keeping up the volume of the two precious metals as our intrinsic money. It is a mixed question for scientific reasoning and historical experience to determine how far and by what methods a practical equilibrium can be maintained which will keep both metals in circulation in their appropriate spheres of common use. An absolute equality of commercial value free from disturbing fluctuations is hardly attainable, and without it an unlimited legal tender for private transactions assigned to both metals, would irresistibly tend to drive out of circulation the dearer coinage and disapprove the principal object proposed by the legislation in view. I apprehend, therefore, that the two conditions of a near approach to equality of commercial value between the gold and silver coinage of the same denomination and of a limitation of the amounts for which the silver coinage is to be a legal tender, are essential to maintaining both in circulation. If these conditions can be successfully observed, the issue from the mint of silver dollars would afford material assistance to the community in the transition to redeemable paper money, and would facilitate the resumption of specie payments and its permanent establishment.

I respectfully recommend to Congress that in any legislation providing for a silver coinage and imparting to it the quality of legal tender there be impressed on the measure a firm provision exempting the public debt heretofore issued and now outstanding from payment either of principal or interest in any coinage of less value than the present gold coinage of the country.

From the Rochester Republican Platform, 1877.

Public faith, honest industry, and the general prosperity, demand a sound currency of coin and paper convertible into coin, and the already near approach to specie payments, enforces the wisdom and the duty of faithfully pursuing the necessary steps to full resumption within the time now fixed by law.

Civil Service Reform.

[From the President's Inaugural.]

I ask the attention of the public to the paramount necessity of reform in our civil service, a reform not merely as to certain abuses and practices of so-called official patronage, which have come to have the sanction of usage in this several departments of our Government, but a change in the system of appointment itself; a reform that shall be thorough, radical and complete; a return to the principles and practices of the founders of the Government. They neither expected nor desired from public officers any partisan service. They meant that public officers should owe their whole service to the Government and to the people. They meant that the officer should be secure in his tenure as long as his personal character remained untarnished, and the performance of his duties satisfactory. They held that appointments to office were not to be made nor expected merely as rewards for partisan services, nor merely on the nomination of members of Congress, as being entitled in any respect to the control of such appointments.

The fact that both the great political parties of the country, in declaring their principles prior to the election, gave a prominent place to the subject of reform of our civil service, recognizing and strongly urging its necessity, in terms almost identical in their specific import with those I have here employed, must be accepted as a conclusive argument in behalf of these measures. It must be regarded as the expression of the united voice and will of the whole country upon this subject, and both political parties are virtually pledged to give it their unrestrained support.

The President of the United States of necessity owes his election to office to the suffrage and zealous labors of a political party, the members of which cherish with ardor, and regard as of essential importance, the principles of their party organization. But he should strive to be always mindful of the fact that he serves his party best who serves the country best.

From the Cincinnati Republican Platform.

Under the Constitution, the President and heads of departments are to make nominations for office, the Senate is to advise and consent to appointments, and the House of Representatives is to accuse and prosecute faithless officers. The best interest of the public service demands that these distinctions be respected—that Senators and Representatives who may be judges and accusers should not dictate appointments to office. The invariable rule for appointments should have reference to the honesty, fidelity and capacity of appointees, giving to the party in power those places where harmony and vigor of administration require; its policy to be represented, but permitting all others to be filled by persons selected with sole reference to the efficiency of the public service and the right of citizens to share in the honor of rendering faithful service to their country.

The President's "Civil Service Order."

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington, June 22, 1877. }

SIR:—I desire to call your attention to the following paragraph in a letter addressed by me to the Secretary of the Treasury, on the conduct to be observed by the officers of the General Government in relation to the elections:

"No officer should be required or permitted to take part in the management of political organizations, caucuses, conventions, or election campaigns. Their right to vote and to express their views on public questions, either orally or through the press, is not denied, provided it does not interfere with the discharge of their official duties. No assessment for political purposes on officers or subordinates should be allowed."

This rule is applicable to every department of the Civil Service. It should be understood by every officer of the General Government that he is expected to conform his conduct to its requirements.

Very respectfully,

R. B. HAYES.

From the President's Annual Message, Dec. 3, 1877.

My experience in the executive duties has strongly confirmed the belief in the great advantage the country would find in observing strictly the plan of the Constitution which imposes upon the Executive the sole duty and responsibility of the selection of those federal officers who by law are appointed, not elected, and which in like manner assigns to the Senate the complete right to advise and consent to or to reject the nominations so made, while the House of Representatives stands as the public censor of the performance of official duties, with the prerogative of investigation and prosecution in all cases of dereliction. The blemishes and imperfections in the civil service may, as I think, be traced, in most cases, to a practical confusion of the duties assigned to the several departments of the Government. My purpose in this respect has been to return to the system established by the fundamental law, and to do this with the heartiest co-operation and most cordial understanding with the Senate and House of Representatives. The practical difficulties in the selection of numerous officers for positions of widely varying responsibilities and duties are acknowledged to be very great. No system can be expected to secure absolute freedom from mistakes, and the beginning of any attempted change of custom is quite likely to be more embarrassed in this respect than any subsequent period. It is here that the Constitution seems to me to prove its claim to the great wisdom accorded to it. It gives to the Executive the assistance of the knowledge and experience of the Senate which, when acting upon nomination as to which they may be disinterested and impartial judges, secures as strong a guaranty of freedom from errors of importance as is possible in human efficacy. In addition to this, I recognize the public advantage of making all nominations as nearly as possible impersonal in the sense of being free from mere caprice or favor in the selection, and in those offices in which special training is of greatly increased value, I believe such a rule as to tenure of office should obtain, as may induce men of proper qualifications to apply themselves industriously to the task of becoming proficient.

From the Rochester Republican Platform, Sept., 1877.

We insist on purity, frugality and efficiency in every branch of the public service, National and State. To that end we hold these requirements practical and just:

First—No needless office or officer, or public agent should exist.

Second—Compensation for official service should be fair and just.

Third—Fit men and no others should hold public trusts.

Fourth—Every official, high or low, should be required at all times faithfully to perform his duty and the whole of it.

Fifth—No official or officeholder should be subject to political or partisan assessments, or to interference in any way with his political rights or action, and plain laws should forbid and punish all attempts to make or enforce such assessments, or to control or abridge in any respect the absolute freedom in political action, which in this country belongs to all voters alike.

In connection with this subject we recur with satisfaction to that portion of the letter of acceptance of Mr. Hayes, wherein he declares that "the founders of our government meant that the officer should be secure in his tenure as long as his personal character remained untarnished and the performance of his duties satisfactory." In furtherance of this view, we commend as worthy of consideration leg-isolation making officers secure in a limited fixed tenure, and subject to removal only as officers under State laws are removable in this State, on charges to be regularly and openly preferred and adjudged.

Southern Pacification.

From the Cincinnati Republican Platform, 1876.

The permanent pacification of the Southern section of the Union and the complete protection of all its citizens in the free enjoyment of all their rights, are duties to which the Republican party is sacredly pledged. The power to provide for the enforcement of the principles embodied in the recent constitutional amendments is vested by those amendments in the Congress of the United States, and we declare it to be the solemn obligation of the Legislative and Executive departments of the Government to put into immediate and vigorous exercise all their Constitutional powers for removing any just causes of discontent on the part of any class, and securing to every American citizen complete liberty and exact equality in the exercise of all civil, political and public rights. To this end we imperatively demand a Congress and a chief executive whose courage and fidelity to these duties shall not falter until these results are placed beyond dispute or recall.

From the President's Inaugural Address.

The permanent pacification of the country upon such principles and by such measures as will secure the complete protection of all its citizens in the free enjoyment of all their Constitutional rights is now the one subject in our public affairs, which all thoughtful and patriotic citizens regard as of supreme importance.

Only a local government which recognizes and maintains inviolate the rights of all is a true self-government.

With respect to the two distinct races whose peculiar relations to each other have brought upon us the deplorable complications and perplexities which exist in those States, it must be a government which guards the interests of both races carefully and equally. It must be a government which submits loyally and heartily to the Constitution and the laws—the laws of the Nation and the laws of the States themselves—accepting and obeying faithfully the whole Constitution as it is. Resting upon this sure and substantial foundation, the superstructure of beneficent local governments can be built up, and not otherwise. In furtherance of such obedience to the letter and the spirit of the Constitution, and in behalf of all that its attainment implies, all so-called party interests lose their apparent importance, and party lines may well be permitted to fade into insignificance. The question we have to consider for the immediate welfare of those States of the Union, is the question of government or no government, of social order and all the peaceful industries and the happiness that belong to it, or a return to barbarism. It is a question in which every citizen of the Nation is deeply interested, and with respect to which we ought not to be, in a partisan sense, either Republicans or Democrats, but fellow-citizens and fellow-men, to whom the interests of a common country and a common humanity are dear.

The evils which afflict the Southern States can only be removed or remedied by the united and harmonious efforts of both races, actuated by motives of mutual sympathy and regard. And while in duty bound and fully determined to protect the rights of all by every Constitutional means at the disposal of my administration, I am sincerely anxious to use every legitimate influence in favor of honest and efficient local self-government as the true resource of those States for the promotion of the contentment and prosperity of their citizens.

Let me assure my countrymen of the Southern States that it is my earnest desire to regard and promote their truest interests, the interests of the white and of the colored people both and equally, and to put forth my best efforts in behalf of a civil policy which will forever wipe out in our political affairs the color line, and the distinction between North and South, to the end that we may have not merely a united North or a united South, but a united country.

From the Rochester Republican Platform, Sept., 1877.

The office of government is to conserve order, peace and safety, and to protect every citizen in the enjoyment of every right implied by the Constitution and the laws. Unity and fraternal relations in all States and sections, and between all States and sections, are of the first and highest importance, and the Republican party of New York will heartily support every measure authorized by law adapted to establishing and maintaining commercial and industrial prosperity and tranquillity, justice and obedience to lawful authority. The Constitution ordains that "The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican form of government." The only Republican government known to the Constitution of any American State is a government chosen by the people. The question whether a case has arisen requiring the President to employ military force to protect lawful State authority against domestic violence, is by the Constitution committed to his decision and to his responsibility. Taking no issue with any decision which has been made by the National Executive in respect to the employment of troops, and expressing no opinion in regard to the methods and attendant proceedings employed in any instance, we cherish the hope that the action taken in relation to the Southern States will result in peace, tranquillity and justice, and no act of the Republicans of New York conducive to its good effects shall ever be withheld.

From the President's Annual Message, Dec. 3, 1877.

The discontinuance of the use of the army for the purpose of upholding local governments in two States of the Union was no less a Constitutional duty and requirement, under the circumstances existing at the time, than it was a much needed measure for the restoration of local self-government and promotion of national harmony. The withdrawal of the troops from such employment was effected deliberately and with solicitous care for the peace and good order of society and the protection of the property and persons and every right of all classes of citizens. The results already attained are of such importance that we may with confidence patiently await the desired consummation that will surely come with the natural progress of events.

It may not be improper here to say that it should be our fixed and unalterable determination to protect by honorable and proper means under the Constitution and the laws the lately emancipated race in the enjoyment of their rights and privileges, and I urge upon those to whom heretofore the colored people have sustained the relation of bondmen the wisdom and justice of humane and liberal local legislation with respect to their education and general welfare. A firm adherence to the laws, both national and State, as to the civil and political rights of the colored people, now advanced to full and equal citizenship, the immediate repression and sure punishment by the National and local authorities within their respective jurisdictions of every instance of lawlessness and violence toward them, is required for the security alike of both races, and is justly demanded by the public opinion of the country and the age. In this way the restoration of harmony and good will and the complete protection of every citizen in the full enjoyment of every Constitutional right, will surely be attained. Whatever authority lies with me to this end I shall not hesitate to put forth. Whatever belongs to the power of Congress and the jurisdiction of the courts of the Union, they may confidently be relied upon to provide and perform; and to the legislatures, the courts, and the executive authorities of the several States, I earnestly appeal to secure by all the adequate, appropriate and reasonable means within their powers these common and uniform rights of a united people which loves liberty, abhors oppression and revere justice.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

All domestic mail matter must be prepaid by postage stamps. All letters received in the office with stamps cut from stamped envelopes, or with such postage stamps as were in use prior to 1861, or with revenue stamps on them, are treated as "unmailable," and sent to the Dead Letter Office. Departmental postage is prepaid by special stamps, prepared and furnished by the Post-Office Department. Letters deposited in city lamp-post boxes must have the requisite number of stamps before placing them therein. Depositing money in the boxes does not insure their being prepaid. Newspapers are not taken at city lamp-post boxes. A letter on which one full rate of postage is prepaid, but on which further postage is chargeable, will be forwarded, when deposited in a post-office, and the deficient postage at single rates collected on delivery. If the postage is left wholly unpaid, or is prepaid, less than one full rate, it will be "held for postage" and sent to the Dead-Letter Office. Should it reach its destination by inadvertence, however, it will be charged with double postage on delivery, with allowance of any amount less than one full rate which has been prepaid thereon. "One full rate" means, in the case of mail letters, three cents. All matter other than letters must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded except possibly by inadvertence, in which case double postage will be collected on its delivery. Letters addressed to initials or fictitious names are not deliverable unless the address contains a designated place of delivery. The following are the rates payable on the different classes of domestic mail matter:

First Class.

On letters, sealed packages, mail matter wholly or partly in writing (except book manuscripts and corrected proof sheets passing between authors and publishers, and except local or "drop" letters); on all printed matter so marked as to convey any other or further information than is conveyed by the original (except the correction of typographical errors); on all matter not otherwise chargeable with letter postage, but which is so wrapped or secured that it cannot be conveniently examined by postmasters without destroying the wrapper or envelope; on all newspapers, magazines and periodicals sent from publishers to subscribers and inclosing any article whatever except bona fide supplements or bills and receipts for subscriptions; and on all packages of matter not in itself chargeable with letter postage, but in which is inclosed or concealed any letter or other thing chargeable with letter postage, 3 cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of packages limited to four pounds. On local or "drop" letters, at offices where free delivery by carriers is established, 2 cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of packages limited to four pounds. On local or "drop" letters, at offices where free delivery by carriers is not established, 1 cent per half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of package limited to four pounds.

Second Class.

On newspapers and periodicals issued weekly or oftener, sent from a known office of publication, or news agency, to regular subscribers or news agents, 2 cents per pound. On newspapers or periodicals, including magazines, sent from a known office of publication, or news agency, to regular subscribers or news agents, and issued less frequently than once a week, 3 cents per pound. These rates are payable by the publisher or news dealer at the office of mailing, and at the time the matter is deposited in the post-office. Postage on printed matter to Canada and other British North-American Provinces can be prepaid only to the boundary line—the rates being the same as on domestic matter of the same kind. "Exchanges" are rated the same as subscribers' papers, and have the privilege of free circulation in the county of publication, the same as county papers.

Third Class.

By act of July 12, 1876, pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, magazines, books, periodicals, hand-bills, posters, sheet-music (printed), prospectuses, maps, proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets, and regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes or free circulation, or for circulation at nominal rates, are subject to postage at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof; and printed cards and blanks, lithographs, prints, chromo-lithographs, engravings, photographs and stereoscopic views, book manuscripts, unsealed circulars, seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, bulbs, flexible patterns, samples of ores, metals, minerals and merchandise, sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes and wrappers, unprinted cards, plain and ornamental paper, card-board, and other flexible material, and all other mailable matter of the third class not herein enumerated, one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

All packages of matter of the third class must be so wrapped or enveloped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily and thoroughly examined by postmasters, without destroying the wrappers; but seeds and other articles liable, from their form or nature, to loss or damage, unless specially protected, may be inclosed in unsealed bags or boxes which can readily be opened for examination of the contents and reclosed; or sealed bags, made of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents clearly, without opening, may be used for such matter.

Matter of the third class, inclosed in sealed envelopes, notched at the ends or side, or with the corners cut off, cannot be mailed, except at letter postage rates.

Matter of the second and third classes, containing any writing whatever, will be charged with letter postage, except as follows:

The sender of any article of the third class of mail-matter may write his or her name or address therein, or on the outside thereof, with the word "from" above or preceding the same, or may write briefly or print on any package the number and names of the articles inclosed.

Postal Cards

may be procured at any post-office, at a cost of 1 cent each. The message, etc., must be always written on the back of the card. If any thing but the address is written on the face, letter postage must be paid by stamps, or the card will not be forwarded. Nothing whatever must be attached to the card. Postal cards will be forwarded from one office to another, in case of removal of the person addressed, but will in no case be returned to the writer, nor sent to the Dead-Letter Office, nor advertised.

Domestic Money Orders

are issued at any money-order post-office in the United States, payable at any other money-order post-office, in sums of not more than fifty dollars. Larger amounts can be sent to the same person by additional orders. RATES: On orders not exceeding $15, 10 cents; over $15 and not exceeding $50, 15 cents; over $50 and not exceeding $100, 20 cents; over $100 and not exceeding $500, 25 cents.

Foreign Money Orders.

At the principal money-order post-offices in the United States (including all the larger post-offices), money orders, payable at money-order post-offices in Great Britain, Ireland and Switzerland, may be procured at the following rates: On orders not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $30, 50 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $50, 75 cents; over $50 and not exceeding $100, $1; over $100 and not exceeding $500, $1.25. Orders can also be obtained on Germany at the following rates: On orders not exceeding $5, 15 cents; over $5 and not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40 and not exceeding $50, $1.25.

Unclaimed Letters.

All letters remaining unclaimed for thirty days in a post-office after being advertised, are sent to the Dead-Letter Office, except letters bearing a request to return to the writer if not called for within a specified time, and letters bearing the name and address of the writer on the outside. Such letters are returned direct to the writers without advertising.

Forwarding Letters Free.

Prepaid and free letters are forwarded from one post-office to another, at the request of the persons addressed, without additional postage. But a letter which has been once delivered to an authorized person cannot be remailed to a new address without the prepayment of additional postage. Drop-letters, when forwarded by mail to another post-office, must be prepaid at 3 cents per half ounce. No mail matter, except letters or postal cards, can be forwarded to a new address except on prepayment of postage by stamps at regular rates.

Registered Letters.

Letters can be registered to any part of the United States and Territories and to foreign countries, on payment of a registration fee of 10 cents. All registration fees must be paid by stamps, and the postage on all registered letters must also be prepaid in full by stamps. The public are desired by the Post-office never to send money or valuable articles in unregistered letters. Postmasters at all post-offices are obliged to register letters and packages when requested to do so.

Foreign Postage.

For letters not over half an ounce, to Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Netherlands, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Denmark, Egypt, Greece and Turkey, 5 cents.

[A one-cent adhesive postage stamp must be affixed to each postal card sent to the above countries in addition to the one-cent stamp already printed thereon.]

Letters, postal cards, newspapers, magazines, books, engravings, sheet music, etc., sent to Canada, are subject to the same rates and regulations as domestic mail matter of the same class. Patterns and samples of merchandise, including grains and seeds, packages limited to eight ounces, must be prepaid at a uniform rate of ten cents per package, so enclosed, as to be easily examined.

Suggestions.

All mail matter should be plain and fully directed. In addition to the town or city and State, the name of the county should be added, if known; though the latter is not necessary in the case of matter for New York, Chicago, or other large cities.

All mail matter for large cities should be directed to the street and number of the person or firm addressed, or to box number. Letters for large cities, addressed to transient residents and intended "to be called for," should be marked.

Postage-stamps should be affixed to the upper right hand corners of letters, and the use of envelopes of dark colors or fanciful forms should be avoided. Sealing-wax should not be used on mail matter in hot weather, nor at any time on letters directed to tropical countries.

Letters are sometimes "held for postage," in consequence of the failure of the stamps to adhere after the letters have been mailed. This difficulty can be avoided by taking care to wet moderately both sides of the stamps.

Glass, liquids, poisons and explosive materials are excluded from the mails by law, and, if deposited in a post-office, will not be forwarded.

Cases of serious loss or delay should be reported to the "Second Assistant Postmaster-General, Washington, D. C.;" ordinary cases to the local postmaster.

Every letter, newspaper or other packet sent by mail, should be securely folded and fastened.

IN the forty years that the MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL has been before the public, thousands of patent medicines have been ushered into the market and retired, while this old Remedy has held on its way, increasing in popularity with each succeeding year. MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL is known familiarly the whole length and breadth of the land, and the name of the Secretary, Mr. John Hodge, of Lockport, has a fame as wide as the medicine he dispenses. We have no data as to the number of bottles sent out from the manufactory last year, but the quantity must have been enormous. The company distribute two millions of almanacs and domestic recipe books annually, and when it is remembered that these are given away, some idea of the extent of the advertising enterprise may be formed. A medicine that will stand the test of forty years, as the MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL has done, needs no special indorsement at this late day.—[Buffalo Courier.

THE GREAT PANACEA.—In this season of rheumatism, chilblains, frost-bites, etc., nothing better can be kept in the house than MERCHANT'S celebrated GARGLING OIL. It is peculiarly adapted to family use, yet it answers equally well for horses and other animals. It is free from stain, and at the same time very efficacious in all instances where a liniment is required.—[Rochester (N. Y.) Daily Union and Advertiser.

Merchant's Gargling Oil!

A Liniment for Man and Beast.

"Whether for use on man or beast, Merchant's Gargling Oil will be found an invaluable Liniment, and worthy of use by every resident in the land. We know of no proprietary medicine or article now used in the United States which shares the good will of the people to a greater degree than this. Yellow wrapper for animal and white for human flesh."—N. Y. Independent.

Extract from a letter from G. H. Simmonds, Unionville, Ia., July 24, 1873.—"I am selling more Gargling Oil than all the liniments put together, and I am keeping twelve different kinds. I think it is the best remedy for horseflesh in existence, and can say it without fear of successful contradiction."

Extract from a letter from Shoemaker & Co., Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 17th, 1873.—"It is the popular horse liniment in this country."

Extract from a letter from Geo. A. Snell, Braman's Corners, N. Y., Aug. 9th, 1873. — "I sell more of your Gargling Oil than of all other liniments combined, and have seen it used on horses and cattle with good effect when others have failed."

Extract from a letter from Pattee & Co., Derry, N. H., Aug. 26th, 1873.—"We think your Gargling Oil one of the best articles for what it is recommended that we have ever used or sold."

Extract from a letter from Snowdon & Gibbs, Concordia, Kan., July 28th, 1873.—"We sell more of your Gargling Oil than of any liniment we keep."

Merchant's Gargling Oil as a Family Liniment.

We are now, and have been for some years, preparing the Oil free from stain, to be used as a common liniment for human flesh, extracting the coloring ingredient which has heretofore rendered it objectionable. This Oil possesses all the medicinal properties of that prepared with the dark tinge for horses and cattle, and will be found one of the best remedies for all purposes where a liniment is required that has ever been manufactured.

From J. K. Fisher, Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 31, 1857.—"Your Gargling Oil is doing much better here than formerly, since its virtues have become known; and the bottles put up for family use, without stain, are much sought for."

The Gargling Oil called "Family Oil," although prepared intentionally for human flesh, answers as well for beasts; vice versa, the dark Oil answers as well for human flesh, only it will stain and discolor the skin, but not permanently. Yellow wrapper for animal and white for human flesh.

Merchant's Gargling Oil as an Internal Remedy.

Merchant's Gargling Oil is a diffusible stimulant and carminative. It can be taken internally when such a remedy is indicated, and is a good substitute for pain killers, cordials and anodynes. For Cramps or Spasms of the Stomach, Colic, Asthma, or Internal Pain, the dose may be from fifteen to twenty drops, on sugar, or mixed with syrup in any convenient form, and repeated at intervals of three to six hours. Yellow wrapper for animal and white for human flesh.

MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL is the Standard Liniment of the United States. Established 1833. Large size, $1; medium, 50c; small, 25c; small size for family use, 25c. Manufactured at Lockport, N. Y., by M. G. O. Co., and sold by all druggists.

THE EVENING JOURNAL ALMANAC.

The Year 1879.

The year 1879 is the latter part of the 5639th and the beginning of the 5640th since the creation of the world, according to the Jews. It answers to the 6592d of the Julian Period, the 2632d from the foundation of Rome, 2655th year of the Olympiads, and the year 7387-88 of the Byzantine era. The 104th year of American Independence begins July 4.

Eclipses in the Year 1879.

There will be three Eclipses this year—two of the Sun and one of the Moon, none of them visible in the United States, as follows:

I. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, January 22, Washington mean time. Invisible in North America, but visible in South America, the South Atlantic Ocean, Africa, and a part of Asia.

II. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, July 19, Washington mean time. Invisible in North America, but visible in the South Atlantic Ocean, Africa, and a part of Asia.

III. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon, December 28, Washington mean time. Invisible in America.

MORNING STARS.—Mercury, until March 4; from April 17 to June 18; August 23 to October 5, and from December 10 to the end of the year.

Venus, from September 23 to the end of the year.

Mars, until November 12.

Jupiter, from February 8 to August 31, after which date Jupiter sets before sunrise, and rises so near to sunset as to be properly accounted an evening star.

Saturn, from March 26 to October 3, after which date Saturn begins to set before sunrise, earlier every day.

EVENING STARS.—Mercury, from March 4 to April 17; June 18 to August 23, and from October 5 to December 10.

Venus, until September 23.

Mars, from November 12 to the end of the year.

Jupiter, until about February 8; and from June 11, rising before midnight, to the end of the year.

Saturn, until March 26; and from July 3, rising before midnight, to the end of the year.

ELECTRIC TIME-KEEPING.—At a certain hour in every day, in any one of the principal offices of the Pennsylvania railroad—at Jersey City or at Philadelphia, for instance—there is a moment's pause in the rattle of the telegraphic instruments, and then in one of them we see and hear the armature moving back and forth, not with the irregular motion impressed upon it by the operator's finger, but with a uniform beat every second. It sounds like a clock ticking somewhere in the room; it is a clock ticking, but the regulating clock is many hundreds of miles away, and it is marking off minutes and seconds in this manner, at one and the same moment in hundreds of points, in distant cities on main or branch roads.

TREASURES.—The English crown diamonds were displayed at the Paris exposition. They are valued at $8,500,000. They are kept in a thick iron chest, and are guarded by sentinels day and night. There is a diamond of eighty-six diamonds of various sizes, in the middle of which is the celebrated Koh-i-Noor, alone valued at $320,000; also a collar of 108 diamonds, in the centre of which is an emerald, said to be the purest and most beautiful extant. A second diamond is a blending of diamonds and emeralds. In the centre is the large Kandavassy diamond, valued at $600,000. It would be rated at a higher sum were it not for a slight defect. These, and many other valuables of the kind, belong to the English crown. The Kandavassy was formerly the eye of a one-eyed Hindoo deity, and has been but lately added to the collection.

UNWHOLESOME AIR IN BEDROOMS.—Many persons complain of always getting up tired in the morning. This is often due to defective ventilation of the bedroom, or from using an undue amount of bedclothes and bedding. Again, it is a common error to suppose that by simply opening a window a little at the top a room can be ventilated. There must be an outlet as well as an inlet for the air.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

EXECUTIVE.

President.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, of Fremont, Ohio. Term expires March 4, 1881.

The President is chosen by Electors, who are elected by the People, each State having as many as it has Senators and Representatives in Congress. He holds office four years; is Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States; has power to grant pardons and reprieves for offenses against the United States; makes treaties by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; nominates and, with the consent of the Senate, appoints all Cabinet, Diplomatic, Judicial and Executive officers; has power to convene Congress or the Senate only; communicates to Congress, by message, at every session, the condition of the Union, and recommends such measures as he deems expedient; receives all Foreign Ministers; takes care that the laws are faithfully executed, and the public business transacted. Salary, $50,000 a year.

WILLIAM K. ROGERS, Ohio, Private Secretary.
O. L. PRUDEN, New Jersey, Assistant Private Secretary.

WM. H. CROOK, District of Columbia, Executive Clerk.

CHAS. L. CHAPMAN, New York, Executive Clerk.

Vice-President.

WILLIAM A. WHEELER, of Malone, N. Y.

The Vice-President is chosen by the Electors at the same time and in the same manner as the President; is President of the Senate, and has the casting vote therein. In case of the death, resignation, disability or removal of the President, his powers and duties devolve upon the Vice-President for the residue of his term. In cases of vacancy, where the Vice-President succeeds to the Presidential office, the President of the Senate becomes ex-officio Vice-President. Salary, $8,000 a year.

CABINET.

Secretary of State.

WILLIAM M. EVARTS, of New York.

The State Department preserves the public archives, records, laws, arguments and treaties, and supervises their publication; conducts all business and correspondence arising out of foreign relations, makes out and records passports, commissions, etc.

Secretary of the Treasury.

JOHN SHERMAN, of Ohio.

The Treasury Department receives and has charge of all moneys paid into the United States Treasury; has general supervision of the fiscal transactions of the Government, the collection of revenue, the auditing and payment of accounts and other disbursements; supervises the execution of the laws relating to the Commerce and Navigation of the United States, the Revenues and Currency, the Coast Survey, the Mint and Coinage, the Light-House Establishment, the construction of Marine Hospitals, Custom-Houses, etc. The First Comptroller prescribes the mode of keeping and rendering accounts for the civil and diplomatic service and the public land. To him the First, Fifth and Sixth Auditors report. The Second Comptroller prescribes the mode of keeping and rendering accounts for the army, navy and Indian departments, and to him the Second, Third and Fourth Auditors report. The First Auditor adjusts the accounts of the customs, revenues, civil service and private acts of Congress. The Second Auditor adjusts accounts relating to pay, clothing and recruiting of the army, the arsenals, armories and ordnance, and the Indian department. The Third Auditor adjusts accounts for army subsistence, fortifications, military academy and roads, quartermaster's department and military claims. The Fourth Auditor adjusts the navy accounts, the Fifth diplomatic, and the Sixth, postal affairs.

Secretary of War.

GEORGE W. MCCRARY, of Iowa.

The War Department has charge of business growing out of military affairs, keeps the records of the army, issues commissions, directs the government of troops, superintends their payment, stores, clothing, arms and equipments and ordnance, constructs fortifications and conducts works of military engineering and river and harbor improvements.

Secretary of the Navy.

RICHARD W. THOMPSON, of Indiana.

The Navy Department has charge of the Naval Establishment and all business connected therewith, issues Naval Commissions, instructions and orders, supervises the enlistment and discharge of seamen, the Marine Corps, the construction of Navy Yards and Docks, the construction and equipment of Vessels, the purchase of provisions, stores, clothing and ordnance, the conduct of Surveys and hydrographical operations.

Secretary of the Interior.

CARL SCHURZ, of Missouri.

The Department of the Interior has charge of the survey, management, sales and grants of Public Lands, the examination of Pension and Bounty Land claims, the management of Indian affairs, the examination of Inventions and award of Patents, the collection of Statistics, the distribution of Seeds, Plants, etc., the taking of Censuses, the management of Government mines, the erection of Public Buildings, and the construction of wagon roads to the Pacific.

Postmaster-General.

DAVID M. KEY, of Tennessee.

The Post-Office Department has charge of the Postal System, the establishment and discontinuance of Post-offices, appointment of Postmasters, Special Agents, Postal Clerks, Route Agents, etc., the contracts for carrying the mails, the Money Order Office, the Dead Letter Office, maintains an inspection to prevent frauds, mail depredations, etc.

Attorney-General.

CHARLES DEVENS, of Massachusetts.

The Attorney-General is the head of the Department of Justice. He is the legal adviser of the President and heads of departments, examines titles, applications for pardons and judicial and legal appointments, conducts and argues suits in which Government is concerned, etc.

XLVTH CONGRESS.

The Constitution requires nine years' citizenship to qualify for admission to the Senate, and seven years to the House of Representatives. An act approved July 26, 1866, requires the Legislature of each State, which shall be chosen next preceding the expiration of any Senatorial term, on the Second Tuesday after its first meeting, to elect a successor, each House nominating viva voce, and then convening in Joint Assembly to compare nominations. In case of agreement, such person shall be declared duly elected; and if they do not agree, then balloting to continue from day to day, at 12 m., during the session, until choice has been made. Vacancies are to be filled in like manner. The members of each House receive a salary of $5,000 per annum, and mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile. For each day's absence, except when caused by sickness, $8 per diem is deducted from the salary. The President pro tem. of the Senate receives the same compensation as the Vice-President. The Speaker of the House of Representatives receives double the salary of a member.

SENATE—76 MEMBERS.

WM. A. WHEELER, of New York, Vice-President, and President of the Senate.

THE RESUMPTION ACT.

An Act to provide for the resumption of specie payments.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

SEC. 1. That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required, as rapidly as practicable, to cause to be coined at the mints of the United States silver coins of the denominations of 10, 25 and 50 cents, of standard value, and to issue them in redemption of an equal number and amount of fractional currency of similar denominations; or, at his discretion, he may issue such silver coins through the mints, the sub-treasuries, public depositories, and post-offices of the United States: and, upon such issue he is hereby authorized and required to redeem an equal amount of such fractional currency until the whole amount of such fractional currency outstanding shall be redeemed.

SEC. 2. That so much of section 3,524 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as provides for a charge of one-fifth of one per cent, for converting standard gold bullion into coin is hereby repealed, and hereafter no charge shall be made for that service.

SEC. 3. That section 5,177 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, limiting the aggregate amount of circulating notes of national banking associations, be and is hereby repealed; and each existing banking association may increase its circulating notes in accordance with existing law without respect to said aggregate limit; and new banking associations may be organized in accordance with existing law without respect to said aggregate limit; and the provisions of law for the withdrawal and redistribution of national bank currency among the several States and Territories are hereby repealed. And whenever and so often as circulating notes shall be issued to any such banking association, so increasing its capital or circulating notes, or so newly organized as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to reduce the legal tender United States notes in excess only of $300,000,000 to the amount of 80 per cent of the sum of national bank notes so issued to any such banking association as aforesaid, and to continue such redemption as such circulating notes are issued until there shall be outstanding the sum of $300,000,000 of such legal tender United States notes and no more. And on and after January 1, A. D. 1879, the Secretary of the Treasury shall redeem in coin the United States legal tender then outstanding on their presentation for redemption at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States, in the city of New York, in sums of not less than $50. And to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to prepare and provide for the redemption in this act authorized or required, he is authorized to use any surplus revenues, from time to time in the Treasury, not otherwise appropriated, and to issue, sell, and dispose of at not less than par in coin, either of the descriptions of bonds of the United States described in the act of Congress approved July 14, 1870, entitled "An act to authorize the refunding of the national debt," with like qualities, privileges and exemptions to the extent necessary to carry this act into full effect, and to use the proceeds thereof for the purpose aforesaid. And all provisions of law inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Approved January 14, 1875.

The following supplementary act was passed May 31, 1878:

Be it enacted, etc., That from and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for the Secretary of the Treasury, or other officers under him, to cancel or retire any more of the United States legal tender notes. And when any of said notes may be redeemed or received into the Treasury, under any law, from any source whatever, and shall belong to the United States, they shall not be retired, canceled or destroyed, but they shall be re-issued, and paid out again, and kept in circulation. Provided, That nothing herein shall prohibit the cancellation and destruction of mutilated notes, and the issue of other notes of like denomination in their stead, as now provided by law. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

THE FISHERIES AWARD.

Text of the award at Halifax, November 23, 1877. Paid November, 1878.

The undersigned, Commissioners appointed under Articles XXII and XXIII of the Treaty of Washington, of the 8th of March, 1871, to determine, having regard to the privileges accorded by the United States to the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, as stated in Articles XIX and XXI of said treaty, the amount of any compensation which in their opinion ought to be paid by the Government of the United States to the Government of Her Britannic Majesty in return for the privileges accorded to the Citizens of the United States, under Article XVIII of the said treaty—having carefully and impartially examined the matters referred to them, according to justice and equity, in conformity with the solemn declaration made and subscribed by them on the 15th day of June, 1877.

Award the sum of $5,500,000 in gold, to be paid by the Government of the United States to the Government of Her Britannic Majesty, in accordance with the provisions of the said treaty.

Signed at Halifax, this 23d day of November, 1877.

MAURICE DELPOSSÉ.

A. T. GALT.

The United States Commissioner is of opinion that the advantages accruing to Great Britain under the Treaty of Washington are greater than the advantages conferred on the United States by said treaty, and he cannot therefore concur in the conclusions announced by his colleagues.

And the American Commissioner deems it his duty to state further that it is questionable whether it is competent for the Board to make an award under the treaty except with the unanimous consent of its members.

E. H. KELLOGG,
Commissioner.

The following is the act of Congress on the subject:

An Act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the Government.

That the sum of five and one-half million of dollars in gold coin be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and placed under the direction of the President of the United States, with which to pay the Government of Her Britannic Majesty the amount awarded by the Fisheries Commission, lately assembled at Halifax, in pursuance of the Treaty of Washington, if, after correspondence with the British Government, on the subject of the conformity of the awards to the requirements of the treaty and to the terms of the question thereby submitted to the Commission, the President shall deem it his duty to make the payment without further communication with Congress.

Merchant's Gargling Oil has become one of the most popular liniments for human flesh that is now prepared, while for horses and cattle it has no equal in the world. We are assured by those who have used it for the piles—one of whom is a distinguished physician—that among all the various pile remedies, none afforded such speedy relief as the Gargling Oil.—Louisville (Ky.), Daily Democrat, June 4, 1856.

Total vote for Governor, 1876, 46,874; President, 1876, 46,772; 1872, 33,293.

NOTE—In the above table the vote for President and Governor in 1876 is given as first officially canvassed, and certified by the Secretary of State. On the recount under order of the Supreme Court, the following figures were certified to as the vote for Governor: Stearns (Rep.), 23,984; Drew (Dem.), 24,179; Drew's majority, 195.

* Includes 487 for O'Connor.

† Includes 236 Prohibition.

The full vote for Congressmen, 1878, has not been received. In the first district, the vote was: Democratic, 11,532; Republican, 8,301. In the second district the canvassers gave Hull (Dem.) a small majority by falsifying the vote of Brevard and other counties, but several of the canvassing officers have been convicted and sent to the penitentiary for the crime. Governor Drew gave a certificate of election to Hull, and though the Supreme Court has since directed him to give the certificate to Bisbee, he has refused to obey the mandate. Bisbee was really elected by about 600 majority.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

State officers and Congressmen were chosen in 1878. Wade Hampton, Dem. being re-elected Governor without opposition. The Republican convention made no nominations for State officers, stating, in one of its resolutions, that "owing to the condition of affairs in the State occasioned by rifle-club rule and two years of Democratic supremacy, it is impossible for the Republican voters in many counties, without incurring great personal danger, to organize for the campaign, or to vote at the election when held." Nominations were made in the Congress-

The vote of 1876 is that cast for President. The exact vote of each party in 1878 cannot be given, owing to the fact that the Democrats and Greenbackers were united wholly or partially in some of the States, while in Louisiana, and in a few of the Congressional districts, Republicans and Greenbackers were united. Coalitions with the Independent vote were also made in some cases.

THE POPULATION OF THE EARTH, ETC.—The total population of the earth is set down in the fifth publication of Behm & Wagner's well-known "Bevölkerung der Erde"—issued in 1878—at 1,439,145,300, divided among the continents as follows: Europe, 312,398,480; Asia, 831,000,000; Africa, 205,219,500; Australia and Polynesia, 4,411,300; America, 86,116,000.

The estimated area of the United States, inclusive of Alaska and other territories, is 3,337,257 sq. miles. The largest State is Texas, 237,321 sq. miles; and the smallest is Rhode Island, 1,306. The population of the States and Territories at the last United States census (1870) was 38,899,768, and is now estimated at over 45,000,000. The largest State in point of population in 1870 was New York (4,357,647), Pennsylvania coming next with 3,502,311.

TERMS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.

Regular Term, January 15th, 1879, to December 24th, 1879, with such recesses from time to time as the court may direct.

Justices of the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court consists of thirty-three Justices. The State is divided into eight judicial districts, and four Justices are elected in each, except the first, which elects five. Elections for Justices of the Supreme Court are held every alternate odd year. As fast as the terms of Justices expire, elections take place for a term of fourteen years. For General Term purposes, the State is divided into Judicial Departments. The Governor designates the Justices to hold the General Terms. In each department there is a Presiding Justice, who holds office during the term for which he was elected to the bench, and two associates, who hold office for five years, unless the terms for which they were elected sooner expire. The Justices receive a salary of $6,000 per annum, and an annual allowance for expenses.

GENERAL TERMS OF THE SUPREME COURT FOR 1879 AND 1880.

Chapter 408 of the Session Laws of 1870 divides the State into four judicial departments. In pursuance of chapter 766, Laws of 1871, as amended by chapter 778, Laws of 1872, the justices appointed to hold general terms in the several departments have designated the following times and places for holding the same:

First Department, for 1879—On the first Mondays in January, March, May and October, at the Court House in the city of New York.

Second Department, for 1879 and 1880—On the second Monday of February, at the Court House in Kings county; On the second Monday of May at the Court House in Poughkeepsie; On the second Monday of September at the Court House in Kings county; On the second Monday of December, at the Court House in Kings county.

Third Department, for 1879 and 1880—On the fourth Tuesday in January, at the City Hall in Albany; On the first Tuesday in May at the Court House in Ithaca; On the first Tuesday in September, at the Town Hall in Saratoga Springs; On the third Tuesday in November, at the City Hall, Albany.

Fourth Department, for 1879—On the first Tuesday of January, at the Court House in the city of Utica; On the first Tuesday of April, at the Court House in the city of Rochester; On the second Tuesday of June, at the Court House in the city of Buffalo; On the first Tuesday of October, at the Court House in the city of Rochester. For 1880—First Tuesday in January, at the Court House in the city of Syracuse; On the first Tuesday of April, at the Court House in Rochester; On the second Tuesday of June, at the Court House in Buffalo; On the first Tuesday of October, at the Court House in Rochester.

Special Terms and Circuits remain, and are to be held according to existing appointments, which will be found on Calendar pages.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Senate consists of 32 members, who are elected in November of every alternate year, (79, 81, etc.) and hold their offices for two years from the first of January next succeeding. The State is divided into 22 districts, each electing one Senator. The Senators receive an annual salary of $1,500, and also $1 for each ten miles of travel in going to or returning from the place of meeting once in each session. Ten dollars per day in addition is allowed when the Senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when acting as a court for the trial of impeachments. The Lieutenant-Governor is ex officio President of the Senate.

Clerk—JOHN W. VROOMAN, of Herkimer. Sergeant-at-Arms—WIEDMAN DOMINICK, of Schoharie. Door-keeper—JAMES G. CAW, of Schenectady.

First District.

(Suffolk, Queens and Richmond counties. Population, in 1875, 171,460; in 1865, 129,075.)

JAMES M. OAKLEY (Dem.), of Jamaica, Queens county. Mr. O. was born in New York city, June 19, 1839; received an academic education; is a real estate broker; was member of Assembly 1871-75, five years, serving on the committees on Roads and Bridges, Banks, Militia, Public Buildings, and Sub-Committee of the Whole; appointed Quarantine Commissioner April 5, 1877, and was elected to the Senate by a majority of 2,298* over James Otis (Rep.) The Republican plurality in 1875 was 904.

Second District.

(1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th, 7th, 11th, 13th, 15th, 19th and 20th wards of Brooklyn, Kings county. Population, in 1875, 188,423; in 1865, 138,589.)

JAMES F. PIERCE (Dem.), of Brooklyn. Mr. P. was born in Madrid, St. Lawrence county, April 8, 1830. His parents were natives of New England, his father being a physician and graduate of Dartmouth College. He was educated at St. Lawrence academy; studied law with Judge Henry L. Knowles, at Potsdam, and Job Pierson and Wm. A. Beach, at Troy, and was admitted to the bar in 1851, when only twenty-one years of age. After admission he spent three years in Florida, and on his return located at Canton, St. Lawrence county, where he practiced law until he removed to New York, in 1865. A year later he removed to Brooklyn, where he has since been engaged in the practice of his profession. In 1862, though a Democrat, he was elected County Clerk of St. Lawrence county, and for several years he represented that county in Democratic State conventions. He was a member of the Senate, 1868-'69, '70 and '71, serving as chairman of the committees on Commerce and Navigation and Retrenchment, and member of Railroads and Insurance, and was re-elected by a majority of 528 over Eugene D. Berri (Rep.), the Democratic majority in 1875 being 1,867.

Third District.

(6th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 12th, 14th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 21st, 22d, 23d, 24th and 25th wards of Brooklyn, and the country towns of Kings county. Population, in 1875, 317,876; in 1865, 172,235.)

JOHN C. JACOBS (Dem.), of Brooklyn. Mr. H. was born in Chester county, Pa., March 5, 1832; is of English and Irish extraction; was educated in public and private schools, and in the Academy at Westtown, Chester county, Pa.; graduated in medicine from the University of Pennsylvania in 1853; has been a farmer, teacher, physician and Arctic explorer, and is at present an author and lecturer on literary and scientific subjects and travels. Soon after graduating he accompanied Dr. E. K. Kane on his Arctic Expedition as Surgeon and was absent two years and a half. In 1860 he commanded an expedition to the same regions, and was absent about a year and a half. This was entirely a private and purely a scientific enterprise, and the expedition was fitted out after three years' effort, partly at Dr. Hayes' expense and partly at the expense of individuals and scientific societies. He also explored Greenland in 1869, and visited Iceland in 1874 to take part in the millennial celebration of the colonization of that country. In 1872 he published a paper, which attracted some attention, in relation to the injury being done to the harbor of New York by encroachments along the water front. Other papers on hydrographic subjects in connection with commerce occasionally appeared from his pen. Besides numerous pamphlets and papers on various scientific subjects, especially in relation to exploration and travel, and also a number of purely literary articles, he has written the following works: "The Open Polar Sea," "An Arctic Boat Journey," "Cast Away in the Cold," and "The Land of Desolation." In the Arctic regions he reached a point within 480 miles of the North Pole, nearer than any other explorer had ever approached. For his discovery of the most northerly known land, he received gold medals from the leading scientific societies of the world and numerous decorations. Early in the war of the Rebellion he entered the Army as Brigade Surgeon. He afterward became a Surgeon of United States Volunteers with rank of Major and brevet rank of Colonel. He built and commanded until the close of the war the Army Hospital at West Philadelphia, Pa., capable of accommodating 4,000 patients. It was the largest hospital ever built, and was famous for its good discipline and hygienic regulations. Since 1865 he has resided in New York city. Dr. Hayes was formerly a Whig, but since 1856 he has been a Republican. He took part in the Convention which nominated Fremont, and subsequently rendered efficient service to that candidate on the stump. He also stumped this and other States in the recent Presidential canvass. He was a member of Assembly in 1876, '77, '78, serving the first years on Ways and Means, and Insurance, the second on Commerce and Navigation, Ways and Means, and Insurance, and the third as Chairman of Canals, and member of Ways and Means, Cities and Insurance. He was elected in the fall of 1876 by a majority of 725, his plurality, in 1875, being 1,375, and a majority over two candidates of 1,060, the largest ever given in the district, except under the Tweed regime, when fraudulent voting was charged. His majority, in 1877, over John Carey (Tam. Dem.), was 716, which was 300 ahead of the State ticket. Last fall his plurality was 1,277, his opponents being J. K. Perley (Tam. Dem.), J. H. Whitmore (Ind. Dem.), and Peter Bossuet (Gr.)

His district is actually Democratic. In the House he has been identified with New York city measures, the State survey bill, reform in the pilotage laws, free canal advocacy, speedy completion of unfinished insane asylums, etc., and was the author of the "Free Canal Resolutions," the "Hayes Finance Bill," and other important measures. As Chairman of the Canal Committee last year, he secured the passage of the toll sheet with unprecedented promptness.

21ST DISTRICT. (Part of the 12th and 19th wards; population, in 1865, 20,264.) J. C. JULIUS LANGBEIN (Rep.), of New York city (293 Broadway.) Mr. L. was born in Germany, September 22, 1845. His grandfather was a Burgomaster, or Mayor, of his native city. He was educated in the public schools and Bisbee's Military and Collegiate Academy of Poughkeepsie; was formerly a clerk in a counting house; studied law with Colonel Rush C. Hawkins, and is at present engaged in legal practice. In connection with his brother he was the author of "Langbein's District Court Practice," and both were proctors and attorneys in the famous Rohlwagen will case, in which he was appointed guardian of the infant children and receiver and trustee of the estate, and also counsel for the Horse Owners' Association of the 10th, 11th and 17th wards. He was also author of the "Origin and History of the American Flag." He enlisted in Co. B, 9th N. Y. Vols. (Hawkins' Zouaves) as a drummer boy, May 4, 1861, being then only 13 years of age. He was discharged as such, May 4, 1863, because of expiration of term of service. He participated in the battles of Big Bethel, capture of Forts Hatteras and Clark on Hatteras Inlet, N. C., Roanoke Island, Camden or South Mills, N. C., burning of Winton, N. C., South Mountain, Antietam, 1st Fredericksburgh and Suffolk. He had a horse shot under him at Antietam while charging across the stone bridge on the Antietam river. For personal bravery at battle of Camden or South Mills, N. C., he was mentioned in regimental orders and granted a furlough for 30 days. He went to New York city, returned to the front, and remained with the regiment until its term of service expired. He was considered an excellent drummer, and was a great favorite with officers and men of the 9th Army Corps, while in the field. He was an aspirant for a cadetship in the West Point Military Academy, his application being indorsed by all the officers, from the several grades, up to Gen. Burnside, then Commander-in-Chief of the Army of the Potomac, and would have been successful but for the assassination of President Lincoln, as Gen. Burnside had personally interested himself in the matter. He served seven years in the 1st Infantry N. G. S. N. Y. (Hawkins' Zouaves), rising from private to Captain. In the army he was known by the name of "Jennie," on account of his then girlish appearance. In the July riots of 1863, he had command as Captain of Co. E, 1st Infantry N. G. S. N. Y. Politically, he has always been a Republican; was delegate to the State Convention that nominated Gen. Dix the first time he ran for Governor; and has been Assistant Adjutant-General, Department of New York, Grand Army of the Republic. In November, 1876, he came within two votes of receiving the Republican nomination for Judge of the Marine Court, the honor being entirely unsought. He was a member of Assembly in 1877, being the first straight Republican ever elected in the district, and serving on the Committees on Judiciary and Sub-Committee of the Whole, and was elected to the present House by a plurality of 1,162, his opponents being Alexander Thain (Tam. Dem.), elected to the last House by a plurality of 1,353, Joseph P. Fallon (Ind. Dem.), whom he defeated in 1876 by 72 votes, C. E. Collenberg (Gr.), and Charles W. Dayton (Ind.) Mr. L. received no other than Republican indorsement, and the district usually gives from 3,000 to 4,000 Democratic majority.

THE NEW CAPITOL.

ITS OCCUPATION BY THE LEGISLATURE, AND THE OPENING RECEPTION.

The central section of the north wing of the new Capitol building, embracing the permanent apartments of the Assembly and Court of Appeals, the latter being temporarily assigned to the use of the Governor and Senate, was taken possession of by the Legislature on the 7th of January, 1879.

The proceedings were simple and informal. Both bodies gathered in the Assembly chamber of the old Capitol, when the Senate, headed by Lieutenant-Governor Dorsheimer and Attorney-General Schoonmaker, escorted the members of the Assembly to their new quarters. On reaching the Assembly chamber, Lieutenant-Governor Dorsheimer took the Chair, and after calling both bodies to order, said:

The Senate has escorted the Assembly from the old Capitol to the new one; and now in this presence I declare the chambers formally transferred to the Legislature. The Senate will now retire to its own room.

The Senate then met in its chamber, and after prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. E. Halley, D. D., the President spoke as follows:

Senators—I have during the last four years been so closely associated with the construction of the building, the partial completion of which we this day celebrate, that I do not find any language in which it would be appropriate for me to address you. I will, therefore, simply trespass upon your patience long enough to express the hope that you will find the arrangements that have been made for you comfortable and satisfactory, and also that the most agreeable and friendly relations which I have heretofore enjoyed with each and all of you, may continue to the end of my term of office. Gentlemen, I welcome you to the temporary Senate chamber.

Regular legislative business was then proceeded with.

The Assembly was called to order by Edward M. Johnson, Clerk of the previous Assembly, and a prayer appropriate to the occasion was offered by the Rev. Irving Magee, D. D., of Albany. The members present then took the oath of office, and adjourned until next day.

Owing to the detentions occasioned by a severe snow storm, the House did not organize until Thursday, the 9th, when Hon. Thos. G. Alvord, of Onondaga, was elected Speaker, and Edward M. Johnson, of Otsego, Clerk.

The following address was delivered by Speaker Alvord on taking the Chair:

Gentlemen, Members of the Assembly:

Seventy years ago, this great State, then but thirty-two years in its course of greatness, first erected for itself a permanent Capitol building. Upon the completion of one-half of the age of that building, and when I had lived nearly one-half of my present years, the people of my native county made me their representative within its walls, and now, upon abandoning it and entering into this new and magnificent Capitol, I am to serve the same people for my twelfth legislative term. During that period of time and services, my associates of the Assembly have twice before imposed the duty and conferred the privilege upon me of presiding over their deliberations. And now you, my friends, the representatives of a great party, have, by your votes, just determined that the crowning honor of my public service shall date from the dedication of these legislative halls. To express my high appreciation of this kindly act of yours, I cannot believe it necessary to use language other or more potent than the good and homely comprehensive and honest old Saxon expression—I thank you.

It may be well and not inappropriate, in the circumstances surrounding us to-day, but without any attempt at elaboration or detail, to allude briefly to the past history of the State as contrasted with our present position.

At the date when the building just abandoned was erected and dedicated to legislative use, the population of our State was less than the number of our legal voters of to-day; and the number of those then entitled to vote was about one-twentieth of our present voting population. In material wealth we have made the same comparative and gratifying progress. In that better and more enduring class of riches which consists in the education of the people, our advance has been still more remarkable, and can hardly be compassed by figures or expressed by comparison. At that time the geographical boundaries of our State were far in the wilderness, while to-day, with the exception of a small portion of unproductive territory, our wide domain is dotted with populous cities and thriving villages, or covered with the cultivated farms of the husbandman.

It is unnecessary here to elaborate this train of thought. My only purpose in making this comparison is to impress upon you the vast increase of responsibility—consequent upon this growth—which rests upon you as the representatives of the people.

I deem it neither my duty nor my right, and certainly it is not my intention, to dictate or even to suggest any definite line of policy, or any form or substance of legislation, for your consideration and adoption. The position I occupy is simply that of the administrator of rules established by yourselves for your own government. Whatever experience and ability I may bring to the discharge of that important and delicate duty, your cordial co-operation and support alone will crown them with success.

In conclusion, gentlemen, permit me to say that the eyes, not only of your constituents, but of the whole country are upon you. The mere formal dedication of this stately structure to the purposes of legislation will sink into insignificance when compared with the baptism which it shall receive at your hands as its chosen sponsors. Its foundations are deep and enduring—its walls are lofty and massive—its area is broad and comprehensive—its decorations and equipments are attractive and useful and in the highest style of art. Let it be our purpose, we, whose names and memories are to go down for ages, linked with this initiative, that all our acts as legislators shall, in every respect, be the complement and parallel of the building itself.

THE RECEPTION IN HONOR OF THE EVENT.

A reception given by citizens of Albany took place in the new Capitol on the evening of the 7th of January. Several thousand invitations were issued, and a large and brilliant company, which included many distinguished citizens of this and other States, was assembled. The total number in attendance was estimated at upward of 8,000, a large proportion of whom were ladies. Music was furnished by Austin's orchestra, of Albany, in the main hall, and Gilmore's band of New York, in the Assembly chamber. Refreshments were served under a canopy in the open central court by Charles E. and Warren Leland.

His Honor, Michael N. Nolan, Mayor of Albany, assisted by the committee of citizens, received the guests in the room assigned to the use of the Governor. Among those present during the evening were Hon. David M. Key, Postmaster-General; Governor Lucius Robinson, and his Staff, the latter in uniform; ex-Governor Horatio Seymour; ex-Governor John T. Hoffman; all the present State officers, and numerous ex-State officers; Judges of the Court of Appeals, and Justices of the Supreme Court; Members and ex-Members of Congress; Members and ex-Members of the Senate; Members and ex-Members of the Assembly; together with eminent jurists, divines, journalists, publicists, and men of prominence in various walks of life. Letters of regret were received from President Hayes; Vice-President Wheeler; Wm. M. Evarts, Secretary of State; John Sherman, Secretary of the Treasury; the Marquis of Lorne, Governor-General of Canada; Cardinal McCloskey; ex-Secretary of State Hamilton Fish; General W. T. Sherman; ex-Governor Samuel J. Tilden; ex-Governor Myron H. Clark; Wm. H. Vanderbilt, and many others, who were unable to attend.

The details of the reception were in charge of the following:

FORMAL COMMEMORATION.

On the 25th of January, Hon. Hamilton Harris offered in the Senate a joint resolution, which was unanimously adopted in both Houses, providing for a joint committee of three from each House, to act, in conjunction with the new capitol commissioners to arrange for a formal ceremony in commemoration of the departure of the Legislature from the old Capitol. The following committee was appointed in pursuance of the resolution: On the part of the Senate: Messrs. Hamilton Harris, William H. Robertson, Alex. T. Goodwin. On the part of the Assembly: Messrs. George B. Sloan, James W. Husted, Erastus Brooks.

This committee made a report, which was agreed to, recommending the following as the order of observance:

The Senate and Assembly to meet in joint convention in the Assembly Chamber on the 12th day of February at 7½ o'clock p. m.

The Governor and his military staff, the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals and the Associate Judges thereof and the State officers, to be invited to be present.

The order of procedure of the joint convention to be as follows:

Prayer.

Introductory address by the Lieutenant-Governor

Address by the Speaker.

Historical address by Erastus Brooks, member of Assembly.

Benediction.

NEW YORK PARTY PLATFORMS, 1878.

The Republican Platform.Adopted at Saratoga, September 26, 1878.

The Republicans of New York, appealing to twenty years of struggles and triumphs as the proof of Republican patriotism and fidelity, and meeting the high demands of the hour in the same unflinching spirit which saved the Union and established it on the firm foundation of freedom, make the following declarations:

1. The faith of the Nation is sacredly pledged to the payment of the public debt and the redemption of the public promises according to the spirit and letter of the engagement, and our good name and well-being require that the Nation's honor shall be kept as inviolate as the Nation's life.

2. Under the management of succeeding Republican Administrations the country has advanced to the point of specie resumption, and the highest interests of business no less than the plighted faith of the Republic demand that there shall be no step backward and no postponement. With this steady progress we hail the auspicious signs of reviving trade and industry, and congratulate the people upon this practical evidence that, if the good work shall be completed, the depression which grew out of the financial disorders forced upon us by the war of rebellion, will give place to the returning confidence and permanent prosperity which can rest alone on the fixed monetary standard of the commercial world, on settled values and full security and certainty for the future.

3. Standing unalterably for the constitutional principles of hard money, we insist that the greenback, instead of being dishonored and depreciated, shall be made as good as honest coin; that labor's dollar shall mean a real dollar; that the fluctuations and uncertainties which rob toil and paralyze trade shall cease; that our currency shall be made the best currency by making all parts of it, whether paper or coin, equivalent, convertible, secure and steady; and all public servants, whether Executive Officers, Senators or Representatives, whose acts or votes conduce to this high object, deserve our approbation.

4. The Electoral Commission was a wise and honorable mode of settling a dangerous dispute; all parties were bound to abide its decisions and any attempt to undo or impair the conclusion it established is unpatriotic and revolutionary.

5. While sincerely seeking fraternal relations in all just efforts and aspirations, we summon the people to renewed vigilance and untinching warfare against the vast horde of claims and raids on the Treasury, which count for success on Democratic rule under the mastery of a Solid South, and which would fall with special hardship on New York as the chief tax-paying State in the Union.

6. We demand free and unintimidated elections in the South as in the North, and the full recognition and observance of the equal rights and liberty of all citizens, as ordained by the amended Constitution; and until they shall be secured, the work of the Republican party to protect human rights will be unfinished.

7. We renew our declarations for the elevation of the public service on the basis of a secure tenure during the faithful performance of official duties for a fixed term; for the pure, frugal and efficient administration of National, State and local affairs; for unyielding resistance to any further land grants or subsidies to corporations or monopolies; for grateful recognition of the brave soldiers and sailors of the Republic; and for common schools free from sectarian influence and unmenaced by sectarian appropriations.

8. While recognizing with satisfaction that many patriotic Democrats do not share its spirit and impulses, we arraign the dominant force of the Democratic party as the constant disturber of the public tranquillity and confidence; as the wanton foe of public security in its persistent assaults on the authority and stability of the established government; as attempting to weaken the nation by crippling the army in a time of uncertainty and danger; as guilty of false pretenses in claiming for the Democratic House a reduction in public expenditures whose fraudulent character is proved by the necessity for heavy deficiency bills; as dependent on a Solid South and thereby subservient to all its demands; as aggravating the troubles of the country by mischievous agitation throughout the period of its supremacy in the House of Representatives; as faithless to the obligations of national honor and the chief support of the wild schemes of inflation, repudiation and utter financial disorder which imperil public credit and business security; and its further or greater success would be a national calamity.

9. An emergency in the history of the country second only to the great struggle for its existence now confronts us. As then the Republican party was the sole organized political protection against national disruption, and patriotic citizens of whatever party names rallied under its standard for the defense of the Union, so now the Republican organization is the only efficient bulwark against national repudiation and disgrace, and it again invites all good citizens of whatever previous political ties to unite with it in preserving the national honor. To all Republicans this great exigency especially appeals to rise to its high obligations and join heart and hand for the triumph of those vital principles upon which the security and welfare of the Republic depend.

The Democratic Platform.Adopted at Syracuse, September 25, 1878.

The Democratic party of the State of New York re-affirms the following principles set forth in the platform adopted in 1874 and 1877, and indorsed by a large majority of the people of this State:

Gold and silver coin and paper convertible into coin at the will of the holder the only currency of the country.

Steady steps towards specie payments, honest payment of the public debt. We congratulate the State and country upon the practical relative value of the Greenback currency of the Government with gold and silver.

The preservation of the public faith.

Tariff for revenue.

No government partnership with protected monopolies.

Home rule, to limit and localize most jealously the powers intrusted to public servants, whether municipal, State or Federal. No centralization.

Equal and exact justice to all men. No political legislation.

No partial taxation.

Official accountability rigidly enforced by all civil and criminal remedies. No private use of public funds by public officers.

Corporations chartered by the State always subject to State supervision in the interest of the people.

The party in power is responsible for all legislation while in power.

Economy in public expense that labor may be lightly burdened and the laborer fully paid for his work.

Resolved, That the provisions of the State Constitution are mandatory in regard to the apportionment of members of the Senate and Assembly, and the failure of the Republican party for three successive years after the taking of the census to apportion the State is a grave crime against the people and a dishonest, infamous refusal to obey the plain directions of the fundamental law.

Resolved, That by the infamous conspiracy of force and fraud the high officials and unrepudiated leaders of the Republican party annulled and reversed the nation's choice for the Presidency, put the defeated candidate in the chair of Washington, and cheated the people of that reform of the Federal Government which their ballots had demanded and ordained, and it is the stern resolve of the American people that such fraud has been perpetrated for the last time.

Resolved, That we point with pride to the honest, just and economical administration of Governor Robinson and our other Democratic State officers; in the name of the Democratic party of the State of New York, we cordially and earnestly approve and indorse the same.

The National Greenback Labor Platform.

Adopted at Syracuse, July 24, 1878.

Whereas, The so-called Democratic and Republican parties have legislated in the interest of the money power of this country and Europe, and against the interests of land and labor, which are the sources of all wealth, therefore we assert our complete independence of the said parties, and declare our entire confidence in, and adhesion to, the National Greenback Labor Party, which name is hereby adopted by us, and that the following are the principles enunciated to guide us in the government of the state and nation, should Providence permit us to attain to the same.

First. The greenback dollar must be a full legal tender for the payment of all debts, public and private, and by the government issued, protected and received as absolute money.

Second. We declare all acts of congress changing the original bond contract, to wit: of 1869, 1870, 1873, and the resumption act of 1875, were enacted without the consent, privity or procurement, and were and are a fraud upon the rights of the people; therefore we demand the immediate calling in and payment of all bonds in absolute paper money, without regard to the time they may have on their face, and no further issue by the government of any bonds.

Third. We demand the repeal of the national bank act, the immediate withdrawal from circulation of national bank notes, and the substitution thereof of absolute paper money.

Fourth. Equal taxation of all property owned by individuals or corporations.

Fifth. That the increasing poverty of the working classes is attributed in a great part to the monopoly of soil, the national source of wealth, and therefore we demand the adoption of land limitation laws.

Sixth. That it is the duty of the legislature of the State to limit the growth of railroad monopoly and save the citizens from the great abuses in railway transportation that now prevail to make serious inroads upon the business prosperity of all classes of citizens, including small stockholders of the railways. Commissioners, consisting of men whose business does not identify them with railroads, men of known character and ability, should investigate and ascertain the actual cost of rail transportation, to the end that proper legislation may be had for the railways of the State.

Seventh. We favor a protective tariff, prohibiting the importation of all manufactured articles of which raw material is produced and labor to manufacture the same is found in the country. All articles which we do not or cannot produce or manufacture to be admitted free.

Eighth. We demand the establishment of a labor bureau for the purpose of obtaining reliable statistics to form a basis for intelligent legislation on labor questions, especially with regard to the hours of labor, which should be reduced in proportion as the use of machinery increases and in conformity with other causes which throw workers out of employment.

Ninth. We demand the abolition of the system of letting out by contract the labor of convicts in our prisons and reformatory institutions.

Tenth. An income tax based upon constitutional limitation and graduating upward but leaving untouched all incomes under one thousand dollars.

Eleventh. We demand that the salaries of all officers of our States, counties and cities, who receive more than one thousand dollars per annum, be reduced one-half for all salaries above that amount.

Twelfth. We recommend a wise and judicious system of internal improvements.

Thirteenth. We demand a thorough reform in the system of public school education so as to establish agricultural, mechanical and commercial schools in addition to the common schools; to prevent other schools being established or sustained out of the public school funds, or said funds being used for other than school purposes; to prevent the oft-repeated changes and monopoly of the sale of textbooks being forced upon the people, as well as other measures which will insure a good common-school education for the poorest in our State at the least possible expense.

Fourteenth. As political snuffage is a primitive element in the construction of law, we demand that any person or organization of persons who may be convicted of traffic in votes, or in any manner directly or indirectly designedly interfering with such rights, shall be incapacitated for voting and for holding any official position in the United States.

Fifteenth. We are opposed to the importation of servile Chinese labor to come into competition with the honest labor of this country.

Sixteenth. That interest and usury are the greatest curses of humanity, and we demand legislative enactments prohibiting the same.

* It will be noticed that there is a difference in the amounts represented by these two statements as the principal of the debt July 1, 1869, and July 1, 1870. This difference is explained thus: In the principal of the debt, as shown by the monthly debt-statements of those dates, the bonds purchased for the sinking fund and paid for from money in the Treasury, were included as a part of the outstanding debt and were also treated in the cash as a cash item, or asset, for the reason that at that time there was no authority of law for deducting them from the outstanding debt. Congress, by the sixth section of the act of July 14, 1870, directed that these bonds should be canceled and destroyed and deducted from the amount of each class of the outstanding debt to which they respectively belonged, and such deductions were accordingly made on the books of the department in the table of the debt in the annual report.

* The unusually large payment of interest on the public debt during the fiscal year 1878, is accounted for by payments of interest which had accrued in former years, and by the fact that from July 1, 1877, to July 1, 1878, a large amount of 6 per cent bonds (interest payable January and July) were funded in bonds bearing 4½ and 4 per cent interest, payable quarterly. Had the 6 per cent bonds not been converted, the interest thereon from January 1, 1878, to July 1, 1878, would not have been due and paid until after the beginning of the fiscal year 1879; but the quarterly interest on the 4½ and 4 per cent bonds fell due and was paid during March and April of the fiscal year 1878, and thus caused an apparent increase of interest for the year.

Merchant's Gargling Oil has become one of the most popular liniments that is now prepared. It is beyond a doubt, the best liniment in the world for the diseases advertised. Its use has not only become general in every State of the Union, but large quantities of this valuable preparation are annually sent to foreign countries.—The Revue (N. Y.)

Cost of Collecting the Revenue.

Year ended June 30, 1878.

For salaries and expenses of collectors, including pay of deputy collectors, clerks, etc.....	$1,810,000
For salaries and expenses of revenue agents, surveyors of distilleries, gaugers, storekeepers, and miscellaneous expenses.....	1,466,000
For dies, paper and stamps.....	452,000
For salaries, of officers, clerks and employees in the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, ...	253,410
Detecting and bringing to trial and punishment persons guilty of violating the internal revenue laws, ...	75,000

Total.....$4,056,410

Being less than three and three-quarters per cent upon the whole amount collected.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue estimates the revenue of the current fiscal year at $115,000,000, the expense of collecting which will probably be $3,875,000.

It is also estimated that the annual loss to the Government from the illicit manufacture of spirits in the mountain regions of West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and in some portions of Missouri, Arkansas, and Texas, is nearly, if not quite, equal to the annual appropriation for the collection of the tax throughout the whole country.

The force engaged in collecting the revenue, besides one hundred and ninety-three clerks and bureau officers at Washington, embraces one hundred and twenty-six collectors, eight hundred and seven deputy collectors, two hundred clerks, messengers and janitors, six hundred and seventy-nine gaugers, six hundred and thirty-two storekeepers and gaugers, four hundred and fifty storekeepers, and forty-one tobacco inspectors.

* Valuations of 1877.

State Tax—How Levied.

The State Tax of 1878 is levied for the following purposes: For schools, 1 69-1000 mills; for general purposes, 1 531-1000 mills; for canals, 3-10 mill. Total, 2 9-10 mills, which is estimated to yield $7,941,297.94. The gross valuation of taxable property in 1868 was $1,766,089,140. The gross valuation in 1878 was $2,738,378,600. Increase in ten years, $972,289,460. Decrease of valuation of 1878 compared with 1877, $17,361,718.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

All domestic mail matter must be prepaid by postage stamps. All letters received in the office with stamps cut from stamped envelopes, or with such postage stamps as were in use prior to 1861, or with revenue stamps on them, are treated as "unmailable," and sent to the Dead Letter Office. Departmental postage is prepaid by special stamps, prepared and furnished by the Post-office Department. Letters deposited in city lamp-post boxes must have the requisite number of stamps before placing them therein. Depositing money in the boxes does not insure their being prepaid. Newspapers are not taken at city lamp-post boxes. A letter on which one full rate of postage is prepaid, but on which further postage is chargeable, will be forwarded, when deposited in a post-office, and the deficient postage at single rates collected on delivery. If the postage is left wholly unpaid, or is prepaid, less than one full rate, it will be "held for postage" and sent to the Dead Letter Office. Should it reach its destination by inadvertence, however, it will be charged with double postage on delivery, with allowance of any amount less than one full rate which has been prepaid thereon. "One full rate" means, in the case of mail letters, three cents. All matter other than letters must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded except possibly by inadvertence, in which case double postage will be collected on its delivery. Letters addressed to initials or fictitious names are not deliverable unless the address contains a designated place of delivery.

The following are the rates payable on the different classes of domestic mail matter:

First Class.

On letters, sealed packages, mail matter wholly or partly in writing (except book manuscripts and corrected proof sheets passing between authors and publishers, and except local or "drop" letters); on all printed matter so marked as to convey any other or further information than is conveyed by the original (except the correction of typographical errors); on all matter not otherwise chargeable with letter postage, but which is so wrapped or secured that it cannot be conveniently examined by postmasters without destroying the wrapper or envelope; on all newspapers, magazines and periodicals sent from publishers to subscribers and inclosing any article whatever except bona fide supplements or bills and receipts for subscriptions; and on all packages of matter not in itself chargeable with letter postage, but in which is enclosed or concealed any letter or other thing chargeable with letter postage, 3 cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of packages limited to four pounds. On local or "drop" letters, at offices where free delivery by carriers is established, 2 cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of packages limited to four pounds. On local or "drop" letters, at offices where free delivery by carriers is not established, 1 cent per half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of package limited to four pounds.

Second Class.

On newspapers and periodicals issued weekly or oftener, sent from a known office of publication, or news agency, to regular subscribers or news agents, 2 cents per pound. On newspapers or periodicals, including magazines, sent from a known office of publication, or news agency, to regular subscribers or news agents, and issued less frequently than once a week, 3 cents per pound. These rates are payable by the publisher or news dealer at the office of mailing, and at the time the matter is deposited in the post-office. Postage on printed matter to Canada and other British North-America Provinces can be prepaid only to the boundary line—the rates being the same as on domestic matter of the same kind. "Exchanges" are rated the same as subscribers' papers, and have the privilege of free circulation in the county of publication, the same as county papers.

Third Class.

By act of July 12, 1876, pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, magazines, books, periodicals, hand-bills, posters, sheet-music (printed), prospectuses, maps, proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets and regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes or free circulation, or for circulation at nominal rates, are subject to postage at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof; and printed cards and blanks, lithographs, prints, chromo-lithographs, engravings, photographs and stereoscopic views, book manuscripts, unsealed circulars, seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, bulbs, flexible patterns, samples of ores, metals, minerals and merchandise, sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes and wrappers, unprinted cards, plain and ornamental paper, card-board, and other flexible material, and all other mailable matter of the third class not herein enumerated, one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

All packages of matter of the third class must be so wrapped or enveloped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily and thoroughly examined by postmasters, without destroying the wrappers; but seeds and other articles liable, from their form or nature, to loss or damage, unless specially protected, may be inclosed in unsealed bags or boxes which can readily be opened for examination of the contents and reclosed; or sealed bags, made of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents clearly, without opening, may be used for such matter.

Matter of the third class, inclosed in sealed envelopes, notched at the ends or side, or with the corners cut off, cannot be mailed, except at letter postage rates.

Matter of the second or third classes, containing any writing whatever, will be charged with letter postage, except as follows:

The sender of any article of the third class of mail-matter may write his or her name or address therein, or on the outside thereof, with the word "from" above or preceding the same, or may write briefly or print on any package the number and names of the articles inclosed.

Postal Cards

may be procured at any post-office, at a cost of 1 cent each. The message, etc., must be always written on the back of the card. If any thing but the address is written on the face, letter postage must be paid by stamps, or the card will not be forwarded. Nothing whatever must be attached to the card. Postal cards will be forwarded from one office to another, in case of removal of the person addressed, but will in no case be returned to the writer, nor sent to the Dead-Letter Office, nor advertised.

Domestic Money Orders

are issued at any money-order post-offices in the United States, payable at any other money-order post-office, in sums of not more than fifty dollars. Larger amounts can be sent to the same person by additional orders. Rates: On orders not exceeding $15, 10 cents; over $15 and not exceeding $30, 15 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, 20 cents; over $40 and not exceeding $50, 25 cents.

Foreign Money Orders.

At the principal money-order post-offices in the United States (including all the larger post-offices), money orders, payable at money-order post-offices in Great-Britain, Ireland and Switzerland, may be procured at the following rates: On orders not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40 and not exceeding $50, $1.25. Orders can also be obtained on Germany at the following rates: On orders not exceeding $5, 15 cents; over $5 and not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40 and not exceeding $50, $1.25.

Unclaimed Letters.

All letters remaining unclaimed for thirty days in a post-office, after being advertised, are sent to the Dead-Letter Office, except letters bearing a request to return to the writer if not called for within a specified time, and letters bearing the name and address of the writer on the outside. Such letters are returned direct to the writers without advertising.

Forwarding Letters Free.

Prepaid and free letters are forwarded from one post-office to another, at the request of the persons addressed, without additional postage. But a letter which has been once delivered to an authorized person cannot be remailed to a new address without the prepayment of additional postage. Drop-letters, when forwarded by mail to another post-office, must be prepaid at 3 cents per half ounce. No mail matter, except letters or postal cards, can be forwarded to a new address except on prepayment of postage by stamps at regular rates.

Registered Letters.

Letters can be registered to any part of the United States and Territories and to foreign countries, on payment of a registration fee of 10 cents. All registration fees must be paid by stamps, and the postage on all registered letters must also be prepaid in full by stamps. The public are desired by the Post-office never to send money or valuable articles in unregistered letters. Postmasters at all post-offices are obliged to register letters and packages when requested to do so.

Registry of Third Class Mail Matter.

The registry system was extended to third class matter October 1, 1878, and all packages of such matter may now be registered, and will be treated in the mails the same as registered letters. Both postage and registry fee must be fully prepaid by stamps affixed to the package. The registry fee is uniformly ten cents for each package.

Foreign Postage.

For letters not over half an ounce, to Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Netherlands, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Norway, Portugal, Roumania, Servia, Switzerland, Denmark, Egypt, Greece and Turkey, 5 cents.

[A one-cent adhesive postage stamp must be affixed to each postal card sent to the above countries in addition to the one-cent stamp already printed thereon.]

Letters, postal cards, newspapers, magazines, books, engravings, sheet music, etc., sent to Canada, are subject to the same rates and regulations as domestic mail matter of the same class. Patterns and samples of merchandise, including grains and seeds, packages limited to eight ounces, must be prepaid at a uniform rate of ten cents per package, so enclosed, as to be easily examined.

Suggestions.

All mail matter should be plain and fully directed. In addition to the town or city and State, the name of the county should be added, if known: though the latter is not necessary in the case of matter for New York, Chicago, or other large cities.

All mail matter for large cities should be directed to the street and number of the person or firm addressed, or to box number. Letters for large cities, addressed to transient residents and intended "to be called for," should be marked.

Postage-stamps should be affixed to the upper right hand corners of letters, and the use of envelopes of dark colors or fanciful forms should be avoided. Sealing-wax should not be used on mail matter in hot weather, nor at any time on letters directed to tropical countries.

Letters are sometimes "held for postage," in consequence of the failure of the stamps to adhere after the letters have been mailed. This difficulty can be avoided by taking care to wet moderately both sides of the stamps.

Glass, liquids, poisons and explosive materials are excluded from the mails by law, and, if deposited in a post-office, will not be forwarded.

Cases of serious loss or delay should be reported to the "Second Assistant Postmaster-General, Washington, D. C.;" ordinary cases to the local postmaster.

THE FEARLESS,

MANUFACTURED BY

MINARD HARDER, Cobleskill, N. Y., .

IS UNEQUALED for EASE OF TEAM, GOOD WORK and DURABILITY, and is the ONLY RAILWAY THRESHING MACHINE that received AN AWARD ON BOTH HORSE POWER, AND THRESHER and CLEANER, at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION, PHILADELPHIA, 1876.

Exhibited at various State and County Fairs since the Centennial Exhibition, and FIRST PREMIUM AWARDED IN EVERY INSTANCE.

The most thorough and important trials that have ever taken place prove these Horse Powers to be the LIGHTEST RUNNING ON RECORD; and this fact is fully corroborated by users of these Powers wherever they have come in competition with others.

The Threshers and Cleaners possess UNEQUALED CAPACITY for separating and cleaning grain. Their superiority in separating was clearly shown by the result of the Centennial Trial, the chief feature of the award there given THE FEARLESS being for its ingenious arrangements which INSURE SEPARATION of the grain from the straw.

One-Horse, Two-Horse, and Three-Horse Powers, adapted to horses, mules and oxen, and to the driving of Threshers, Clover Hullers, Saw Machines, Fodder Cutters, Feed Mills, Cotton Gins, and all other Farm Machinery that admits of being driven by horse power.

Machines Mounted when so ordered.

MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL.

This standard liniment has been before the people for over forty years, it having been first manufactured in 1833, and it is safe to assert that no preparation in the market has so fully stood the test of time, and been received with such universal favor as the Gargling Oil. It is found in nearly every household in this country, and is also sold extensively in Europe. From a very small beginning the Gargling Oil Company has been obliged to steadily increase its facilities for manufacturing, and now employs an army of men, and occupies magnificent buildings of its own. Much of the success of the company is due to the careful and efficient management of Mr. John Hodge, who for some time has held the responsible position of Secretary, and who is also the proprietor of the Hodge Opera House, one of the finest buildings in Lockport, N. Y. The Gargling Oil is for sale at all the drug stores.—Quincy (Ills.) Whig.

While rocking in this chair, automatic pads move upon the parts impaired can be used at home. At Dr. Gale's CURE, additional discipline is given—all benefits derivable from rubbing, kneading, electricity, or Swedish movements are embodied in Dr. Gale's invented processes. Immediate relief and cures guaranteed, at his Cure.

Address, Dr. D. TILLOTSON GALE, Albany, N. Y.

Hon. Chas. E. Smith, Regent N. Y. State University, and editor Albany Evening Journal, writes of Dr. Gale and his movement cure as follows:

"The Medical Chair is the invention of our townsman, Dr. Gale. It indicates thoughtful study, and understanding of the laws of digestion and arterial circulation. Of the cures effected by Dr. Gale, he has remarkable testimony. The editor of this paper is able, from his own experience, to attest Dr. Gale's special and signal skill."

LIQUID PAINTS.

These paints are in every respect strictly first-class, and second to no others ever produced in purity, richness and permanency of color, and beauty of finish. They are prepared ready for the brush in sixteen newest shades and standard colors, suitable for the tasteful decoration of dwellings and all classes of buildings, inside and out, and for all purposes where a perfect protective coating is required, and, covering body and durability considered, they are twenty-five per cent. cheaper than the best White Lead or any other kind of paint now in use.

 The contract for Supplying Paints for the Metropolitan Elevated Railroad of New York City was Awarded to us. This is the largest contract ever made for painting any single structure in this country.

ASBESTOS ROOF PAINT.—Brown and gray and cream, for tin and shingle roofs, iron work, agricultural implements, fences, outbuildings, etc. We guarantee this to be a better article than has ever before been offered to the public for similar purposes.

 The largest area of tin roof in the world (the Permanent Exhibition Building at Philadelphia), which was in very leaky condition, has been painted and restored with this Paint where all others had failed.

ASBESTOS FIRE-PROOF PAINT.—White or light tints; for the protection of inside work of Factories, Bridges, Boiler Rooms and other wooden structures in danger of ignition from sparks, cinders, or flames.

 Nearly five acres of wood work in the two immense dry goods stores of Messrs. A. T. Stewart & Co., New York City, are protected with this paint.

ASBESTOS ROOFING with WHITE FIRE-PROOF COATING. For steep or flat roofs, the handsomest, coolest, most durable and only reliable portable Roofing made. Easily applied by any one. Costs only half as much as tin.

ASBESTOS STEAM PIPE AND BOILER COVERINGS.

The most durable, effective and economical appliances known for preventing Radiation of heat; will save from 25 to 40 per cent. of fuel.

Merchant's Gargling Oil!

A Liniment for Man and Beast.

"Whether for use on man or beast, Merchant's Gargling Oil will be found an invaluable Liniment, and worthy of use by every resident in the land. We know of no proprietary medicine or article now used in the United States which shares the good will of the people to a greater degree than this. Yellow wrapper for animal and white for human flesh."—N. Y. Independent.

Extract from a letter from G. H. Simmonds, Unionville, Ia., July 24, 1873.—"I am selling more Gargling Oil than all the liniments put together, and I am keeping twelve different kinds. I think it is the best remedy for horseflesh in existence, and can say it without fear of successful contradiction."

Extract from a letter from Shoemaker & Co., Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 17th, 1873.—"It is the popular horse liniment in this country."

Extract from a letter from Geo. A. Snell, Braham's Corners, N. Y., Aug. 9th, 1873.—"I sell more of your Gargling Oil than of all other liniments combined, and have seen it used on horses and cattle with good effect when others have failed."

Extract from a letter from Pattee & Co., Derry, N. H., Aug. 26th, 1873.—"We think your Gargling Oil one of the best articles for what it is recommended that we have ever used or sold."

Extract from a letter from Snowdon & Gibbs, Concordia, Kan., July 28th, 1873.—"We sell more of your Gargling Oil than of any liniment we keep."

Merchant's Gargling Oil as a Family Liniment.

We are now, and have been for some years, preparing the Oil free from stain, to be used as a common liniment for human flesh, extracting the coloring ingredient which has heretofore rendered it objectionable. This Oil possesses all the medicinal properties of that prepared with the dark tinge for horses and cattle, and will be found one of the best remedies for all purposes where a liniment is required that has ever been manufactured.

From J. K. Fisher, Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 31, 1857.—"Your Gargling Oil is doing much better here than formerly, since its virtues have become known; and the bottles put up for family use, without stain, are much sought for."

The Gargling Oil called "Family Oil," although prepared intentionally for human flesh, answers as well for beasts; vice versa, the dark Oil answers as well for human flesh, only it will stain and discolor the skin, but not permanently. Yellow wrapper for animal and white for human flesh.

Merchant's Gargling Oil as an Internal Remedy.

Merchant's Gargling Oil is a diffusible stimulant and carminative. It can be taken internally when such a remedy is indicated, and is a good substitute for pain killers, cordials and anodynes. For Cramps or Spasms of the Stomach, Colic, Asthma, or Internal Pain, the dose may be from fifteen to twenty drops, on sugar, or mixed with syrup in any convenient form, and repeated at intervals of three to six hours. Yellow wrapper for animal and white for human flesh.

MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL is the Standard Liniment of the United States. Established 1833. Large size, $1; medium, 50c; small, 25c; small size for family use, 25c. Manufactured at Lockport, N. Y., by M. G. O. Co., and sold by all druggists.

THE EARTH'S POPULATION.—The fifth publication of Behm & Wagner's well-known "Bevolkerung der Erde" is just out. Since the last publication of these statistics, the population of the earth shows a total increase of 15,000,000, partly arising from natural growth and partly the outcome of new and more exact censuses. The total population is now set down at 1,439,145,300, divided among the continents as follows: Europe, 312,398,500; Asia, 831,000,000; Africa, 205,219,500; Australia and Polynesia, 4,411,300; America, 86,116,000.

THE DIAMETER OF THE EARTH through the poles is 34 miles less than through the equator. This curious fact was suggested by perceiving that the pendulum of a clock had 110 vibrations less in a day at Paris than at Cayenne, in Guiana. Further observations were made, and it was found that this variation was uniform, and that the vibrations regularly diminished in proceeding northward from the equator. This led to many curious investigations, which resulted in demonstrating the fact above mentioned. It is interesting to observe how simple a circumstance led to so wonderful a discovery in science as the depression of the poles of the earth.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

EXECUTIVE.

President.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, of Fremont, Ohio.
Term expires March 4, 1881.

The President is chosen by electors, who are elected by the People, each State having as many as it has Senators and Representatives in Congress. He holds office four years; is Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States; has power to grant pardons and reprieves for offenses against the United States; makes treaties by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; nominates and, with the consent of the Senate, appoints all Cabinet, Diplomatic, Judicial and Executive officers; has power to convene Congress or the Senate only; communicates to Congress, by message, at every session, the condition of the Union, and recommends such measures as he deems expedient; receives all Foreign Ministers; takes care that the laws are faithfully executed, and the public business transacted. Salary, $50,000 a year.

WILLIAM K. ROGERS, Ohio, Private Secretary.
O. L. PRUDEN, New Jersey, Assistant Private Secretary.

WM. H. CROOK, District of Columbia, Executive Clerk.

CHAS. L. CHAPMAN, New York, Executive Clerk.
COL. T. L. CAREY, Com'r Public Buildings.

Vice-President.

WILLIAM A. WHEELER, of Malone, New York.
The Vice-President is chosen by the electors at the same time and in the same manner as the President; is President of the Senate, and has the casting vote therein. In case of the death, resignation, disability or removal of the President, his powers and duties devolve upon the Vice-President for the residue of his term. In cases of vacancy, where the Vice-President succeeds to the Presidential office, the ex-officio President of the Senate becomes Vice-President. Salary, $8,000 a year.

CABINET.

Secretary of State.

WILLIAM M. EVARTS, of New York.
The State Department preserves the public archives, records, laws, arguments and treaties, and supervises their publication; conducts all business and correspondence arising out of foreign relations, makes out and records passports, commissions, etc.

XLVITH CONGRESS.

The Constitution requires nine years' citizenship to qualify for admission to the Senate, and seven years to the House of Representatives. An act approved July 26, 1866, requires the Legislature of each State, which shall be chosen next preceding the expiration of any Senatorial term, on the Second Tuesday after its first meeting, to elect a successor, each House nominating viva voce, and then convening in joint Assembly to compare nominations. In case of agreement, such person shall be declared duly elected; and if they do not agree, then balloting to continue from day to day, at 12 m., during the session, until choice has been made. Vacancies are to be filled in like manner. The members of each House receive a salary of $5,000 per annum, and mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile. For each day's absence, except when caused by sickness, $3 per diem is deducted from the salary. The President pro tem. of the Senate receives the same compensation as the Vice-President. The Speaker of the House of Representatives receives double the salary of a member.

SENATE.—76 MEMBERS.

WM. A. WHEELER, of New York, Vice-President, and President of the Senate. ALLEN G. THURMAN, of Ohio, President pro tempore.

JOHN C. BURCH, Secretary.

IMPORTANT ACTS

PASSED AT THE THIRD SESSION OF THE FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS, AND THE FIRST SESSION OF THE FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

PENSIONS.

AN ACT providing that all pensions on account of death, or wounds received, or disease contracted in the service of the United States during the late war of the rebellion, which have been granted, or which shall hereafter be granted, shall commence from the date of death or discharge from the service of the United States; for the payment of arrears of pensions, and other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all pensions which have been granted under the general laws regulating pensions, or may hereafter be granted, in consequence of death from a cause which originated in the United States service during the continuance of the late war of the rebellion, or in consequence of wounds, injuries, or disease received or contracted in said service during said war of the rebellion, shall commence from the date of the death or discharge from said service of the person on whose account the claim has been or shall hereafter be granted, or from the termination of the right of the party having prior title to such pension: Provided, The rate of pension for the intervening time for which arrears of pension are hereby granted shall be the same per month for which the pension was originally granted.

§ 2. That the Commissioner of Pensions is hereby authorized and directed to adopt such rules and regulations for the payment of the arrears of pensions hereby granted as will be necessary to cause to be paid to such pensioners, or, if the pensioners shall have died, to the person or persons entitled to the same, all such arrears of pension as the pensioner may be, or would have been, entitled to under this act.

§ 3. That section forty-seven hundred and seventeen of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which provides that "no claim for pension not prosecuted to a successful issue within five years from the date of filing the same shall be admitted without record evidence from the War or Navy Department of the injury or the disease which resulted in the disability or death of the person on whose account the claim is made: Provided, That in any case in which the limitation prescribed by this section bars the further prosecution of the claim, the claimant may present, through the Pension Office, to the Adjutant-General of the Army, or the Surgeon-General of the Navy, evidence that the disease or injury which resulted in the disability or death of the person on whose account the claim is made originated in the service and in the line of duty; and if such evidence is deemed satisfactory by the officer to whom it may be submitted, he shall cause a record of the fact so proved to be made, and a copy of the same to be transmitted to the Commissioner of Pensions, and the bar to the prosecution of the claim shall thereby be removed," be, and the same is hereby, repealed.

24. No claim agent or other person shall be entitled to receive any compensation for services in making application for arrears of pension.

25. That all acts or parts of acts so far as they may conflict with the provisions of this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Approved January 25, 1879.

AN ACT making appropriations for the payment of the arrears of pensions granted by act of Congress approved January twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there be and hereby is appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the following sums, namely: For the arrears of pensions due on claims in which the pensions were allowed prior to January twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, twenty-five million dollars; the amounts paid out respectively for Army and Navy pensions to be accounted for separately to the proper accounting officers of the Treasury Department. For pensions for Army and Navy invalids, widows, minors and dependent relatives for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, one million eight hundred thousand dollars in addition to the amounts heretofore appropriated for those purposes, the amounts paid out on account of Army and Navy pensions respectively to be accounted for separately to the proper accounting officers of the Treasury Department. For temporary clerks in the Pension Office and for furniture, rent of additional rooms and other contingencies, fifty-two thousand two hundred dollars in addition to the appropriations which have been or shall be made under other acts, the same to be available until June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and eighty: Provided, That no more than three thousand five hundred dollars shall be used for furniture, contingencies and rent.

The pension agents shall receive for their services and expenses in paying the arrears upon pensions allowed previous to January twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, including postage on the vouchers and checks sent to the pensioner, thirty cents for each payment; and the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the payment of the same.

That the rate at which the arrears of invalid pensions shall be allowed and computed in the cases which have been or shall hereafter be allowed shall be graded according to the degree of the pensioner's disability from time to time and the provisions of the pension laws in force over the period for which the arrears shall be computed.

That section one of the act of January twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, granting arrears of pensions shall be construed to extend to and include pensions on account of soldiers who were enlisted or drafted for the service in the war of the rebellion, but died or incurred disability from a cause originating after the cessation of hostilities; and before being mustered out: Provided, That in no case shall arrears of pensions be allowed and paid from a time prior to the date of actual disability.

22. All pensions which have been, or which may hereafter be, granted in consequence of death occurring from a cause which originated in the service since the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, or in consequence of wounds or injuries received or disease contracted since that date shall commence from the death or discharge of the person on whose account the claim has been or is hereafter granted if the disability occurred prior to discharge, and if such disability occurred after the discharge then from the date of actual disability or from the termination of the right of party having prior title to such pension: Provided, The application for such pension has been or is hereafter filed with the Commissioner of Pensions prior to the first day of July, eighteen hundred and eighty, otherwise the pension shall commence from the date of filing the application; but the limitation herein prescribed shall not apply to claims by or in behalf of insane persons and children under sixteen years of age.

23. Section forty-seven hundred and nine of the Revised Statutes is hereby repealed.

Approved March 3, 1879.

REFUNDING THE NATIONAL DEBT.

AN ACT to facilitate the refunding the national debt.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized in the process of refunding the national debt under existing laws to exchange directly at par the bonds of the United States bearing interest at four per centum per annum authorized by law for the bonds of the United States commonly known as five-twenties outstanding and uncalled, and, whenever all such five-twenty bonds shall have been redeemed, the provisions of this section and all existing provisions of law authorizing the refunding of the national debt shall apply to any bonds of the United States bearing interest at five per centum per annum or a higher rate, which may be redeemable. In any exchange made under the provisions of this section, interest may be allowed, on the bonds redeemed, for a period of three months.

Approved January 25, 1879.

AN ACT to authorize the issue of certificates of deposit in aid of the refunding of the public debt.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to issue, in exchange for lawful money of the United States that may be presented for such exchange, certificates of deposit, of the denomination of ten dollars, bearing interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, and convertible at any time, with accrued interest, into the four per centum bonds described in the refunding act; and the money so received shall be applied only to the payment of the bonds bearing interest at a rate of not less than five per centum in the mode prescribed by said act, and he is authorized to prescribe suitable rules and regulations in conformity with this act.

Approved February 26, 1879.

NATIONAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

AN ACT to prevent the introduction of infectious or contagious diseases into the United States, and to establish a National Board of Health.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there shall be established a National Board of Health to consist of seven members, to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, not more than one of whom shall be appointed from any one State, whose compensation, during the time when actually engaged in the performance of their duties under this act, shall be ten dollars per diem each and reasonable expenses, and of one medical officer of the Army, one medical officer of the Navy, one medical officer of the Marine Hospital Service, and one officer from the Department of Justice, to be detailed by the Secretaries of the several departments and the Attorney-General, respectively, and the officers so detailed shall receive no compensation. Said Board shall meet in Washington within thirty days after the passage of this act and in Washington or elsewhere from time to time upon notice from the president of the board, who is to be chosen by the members thereof, or upon its own adjournments, and shall frame all rules and regulations authorized or required by this act, and shall make or cause to be made such special examinations and investigations at any place or places within the United States, or at foreign ports, as they may deem best, to aid in the execution of this act and the promotion of its objects.

§2. The duties of the National Board of Health shall be to obtain information upon all matters affecting the public health, to advise the several departments of the Government, the executives of the several States, and the commissioners of the District of Columbia, on all questions submitted by them, or whenever in the opinion of the board such advice may tend to the preservation and improvement of the public health.

§3. That the Board of Health with the assistance of the Academy of Science, which is hereby requested and directed to co-operate with them for that purpose, shall report to Congress at its next session a full statement of its transactions, together with a plan for a national public health organization, which plan shall be prepared after consultation with the principal sanitary organizations and the sanitarians of the several States of the United States, special attention being given to the subject of quarantine, both maritime and inland, and especially as to regulations which should be established between State or local systems of quarantine and a national quarantine system.

§4. The sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to pay the salaries and expenses of said board and to carry out the purposes of this act.

Approved March 3, 1879.

[An act approved June 2, 1879, contains provisions and requirements respecting vessels arriving from foreign ports, where contagious or infectious diseases exist, and authorizes the National Board of Health to co-operate with and aid State and municipal boards of health in the enforcement of the rules and regulations to prevent the introduction of contagious or infectious diseases from foreign countries and into one State from another; and at such ports and places in the United States where there are no quarantine regulations under State authority, or where the regulations are ineffective or insufficient, the National Board of Health is required to report the facts to the President, and with his sanction make such additional rules and regulations as may be necessary, and which shall be enforced by the State authorities, or by an officer appointed or detailed by the President in case the State authorities fail to enforce them. The act also makes it the duty of the National Board of Health to make rules and regulations to be observed by vessels sailing from foreign ports to ports in the United States, to obtain information of the sanitary condition of foreign ports through reports from consular officers and otherwise, prepare weekly abstracts of such reports, and make to the Secretary of the Treasury an annual report of its operations to be transmitted to Congress, with such recommendations as may be deemed important. The act appropriates the further sum of five hundred thousand dollars to be disbursed by the Secretary of the Treasury on estimates to be made by the National Board of Health, and requires the board to make full reports of expenditures as often as quarterly. An act approved April 18, 1879, authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to contract for the purchase or construction of such steam vessel and refrigerating machinery as may be recommended by the National Board of Health to disinfect vessels and cargoes from infected ports; and for this purpose two hundred thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated.]

HOMESTEAD SETTLERS.

An Act granting additional rights to homestead settlers on public lands within railroad limits.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, the even sections within the limits of any grant of public lands to any railroad company, or to any military road company, or to any State in aid of any railroad or military road, shall be open to settlers under the homestead laws to the extent of one hundred and sixty acres to each settler, and any person who has, under existing laws, taken a homestead on any even section within the limits of any railroad or military road land-grant, and who, by existing laws, shall have been restricted to eighty acres, may enter under the homestead laws an additional eighty acres, adjoining the land embraced in his original entry, if such additional land be subject to entry; or if such person so elect, he may surrender his entry to the United States for cancellation, and thereupon be entitled to enter lands under the homestead laws the same as if the surrendered entry had not been made. And any person so making additional entry of eighty acres, or new entry after the surrender and cancellation of his original entry, shall be permitted so to do without payment of fees and commissions; and the residence and cultivation of such person upon and of the land embraced in his original entry shall be considered residence and cultivation for the same length of time upon and of the land embraced in his additional or new entry, and shall be deducted from the five years' residence and cultivation required by law: Provided, That in no case shall patent issue upon an additional or new homestead entry under this act until the person, has actually, and in conformity with the homestead laws, occupied, resided upon, and cultivated the land embraced therein at least one year.

Approved March 3, 1879.

SUBSIDIARY COINS.

An Act to provide for the exchange of subsidiary coins for lawful money of the United States under certain circumstances, and to make such coins a legal tender in all sums not exceeding ten dollars, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the holder of any of the silver coins of the United States of smaller denominations than one dollar, may, on presentation of the same in sums of twenty dollars, or any multiple thereof, at the office of the Treasurer or any assistant treasurer of the United States, receive therefor lawful money of the United States.

§2. The Treasurer or any assistant treasurer of the United States who may receive any coins under the provisions of this act shall exchange the same in sums of twenty dollars, or any multiple thereof, for lawful money of the United States, on demand of any holder thereof.

§3. That the present silver coins of the United States of smaller denominations than one dollar shall hereafter be a legal tender in all sums not exceeding ten dollars in full payment of all dues public and private.

§4. That all laws or parts of laws in conflict with this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Approved June 9, 1879.

SOLDIERS' HEADSTONES.

An Act authorizing the Secretary of War to erect headstones over the graves of Union soldiers who have been interred in private, village, or city cemeteries.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to erect headstones over the graves of soldiers who served in the Regular or Volunteer Army of the United States during the war for the Union, and who have been buried in private village or city cemeteries, in the same manner as provided by the law of March third, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, for those interred in national military cemeteries; and for this purpose, and for the expenses incident to such work, so much of the appropriation of one million dollars, made in the act above mentioned, as has not been expended, and as may be necessary, is hereby made available.

The Secretary of War shall cause to be preserved in the records of his Department the names and places of burial of all soldiers for whom such headstones shall have been erected by authority of this or any former acts.

Approved February 3, 1879.

TROOPS AT THE POLLS.

(Extract from Army Appropriation Bill. Approved June 23, 1879.)

§ 6. That no money appropriated in this act is appropriated or shall be paid for the subsistence, equipment, transportation, or compensation of any portion of the Army of the United States to be used as a police force to keep the peace at the polls at any election held within any State.

CENSUS.

(Abstract of Act approved March 3, 1879.)

Provides for the appointment by the President of Supervisors not to exceed one hundred and fifty, who shall subdivide their designated districts, and name to the Superintendent of Census suitable persons as enumerators, the enumeration to be taken on the first Monday of June, and the returns to be forwarded to the Supervisors of the respective districts before July 1st, except that in cities having over 10,000 population, two weeks is allowed for the enumeration. Supervisors are to receive $500 in full compensation. The compensation of enumerators is graded according to difficulty of work, but must not exceed in districts east of the 100th meridian $4 per day of ten hours, and in districts west of the 100th meridian, $6 per day.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

(Abstract of Act approved March 1, 1879.)

Provides for levying a tax of sixteen cents per pound upon all snuff, manufactured of tobacco, or substitute for tobacco, ground, dry, damp, picked, scented or otherwise, when prepared for use; and upon all chewing and smoking tobacco, fine cut, cavendish, plug or twist, cut or granulated; or tobacco cut by hand or reduced into a condition to be consumed, or in any manner other than the ordinary method of drying and curing, prepared for sale or consumption even if prepared without the use of any machine or instrument, and without being pressed or sweetened, and on all fine cut shorts or refuse scraps, clippings, cuttings and sweepings of tobacco. Dealers in leaf tobacco, except retail dealers as further defined, are required to pay $25, and payment of a special tax as a dealer in tobacco or manufacturer of tobacco or segars does not exempt from this special tax those whose business it is, for themselves or on commission, to sell or consign for sale on commission leaf tobacco. But farmers or planters are not required to pay the special tax as above for selling tobacco produced by them or received as rents from tenants who have produced the same on the lands of said farmers or planters. Such persons, however, are not exempt from the tax when they sell leaf tobacco at retail directly to consumers or to persons other than those who have paid a special tax as leaf dealers, or to persons purchasing leaf tobacco for export.

UNITED STATES JURORS.

(Clause in Judicial Appropriation Bill.)

Provides that United States Jurors, grand and petit, shall be publicly drawn from a box containing not less than 300 names, placed therein alternately without reference to party affiliations, by the clerk of the court and a commissioner residing in the district, who is a well-known member of the principal political party opposed to that to which the clerk belongs; but judges may order the names of jurors to be drawn from the boxes used by the State authorities in selecting jurors in the highest courts, and no person shall serve more than one term in any year, and no citizen possessing all other qualifications shall be disqualified for service by reason of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The act approved Feb. 19, 1879, directs the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to officers, soldiers, seamen and marines, etc., in the Mexican war, who served out their time and were honorably discharged, the three months extra pay provided for in the act of July 19, 1848, on the presentation of satisfactory evidence that such compensation has not previously been received.

The act approved Feb. 15, 1879, provides that any woman who shall have been a member of the bar of any State or Territory for two years, and maintained a good standing and is a person of good moral character, may be admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States.

The act approved Feb. 26, 1879, provides for detailing officers from the Engineer corps of the Navy, not exceeding twenty-five, as professors in scientific schools or colleges making application, in order to promote a knowledge of steam engineering and iron ship building among young men.

An act approved May 12, 1879, amends the Revised Statutes, so that the number of persons of all grades (including 750 apprentices), who may be enlisted at any one time in the navy shall not exceed 8,250, preference being given in the appointment of warrant officers to men who have been honorably discharged upon the expiration of an enlistment as an apprentice or boy, to serve during minority, and re-enlisted within three months after such discharge to serve during a term of three or more years. Boys between the ages of 15 and 18 may be enlisted to serve until 21, and other persons may be enlisted to serve not exceeding five years.

Six Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, a Supreme Court Clerk, four members of a Board of Equalization and three Railroad Commissioners were also elected.

The official tickets of the Republican, Democratic, Workingmen's and New Constitution parties bore the words, "Against Chinese Immigration."

The New Constitution Party, also known as the "Honorable Bilks," and "Plug Hat Brigade," was organized to place the machinery of the New Constitution in the hands of its especial friends. The Workingmen's Party embodied Kearneyism as its leading idea.

The new Constitution, which makes radical changes in the working of the State government, was adopted in May, 1879, by 10,825 majority. Under it the Governor and other State officers hold office for four years. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court is elected for twelve years. Six Associate Justices are classified by lot so that two will serve for four years, two for eight years, and two for twelve years. Those elected in subsequent years hold office for twelve years. Forty Senators are elected for three years and eighty Assemblymen for one year. In 1880, and biennially thereafter, the Assemblymen will be elected for terms of two years. After 1882, the Senators will be elected for terms of four years; in that year one-half the Senators will be elected for two years and one-half for four years.

COLORADO.

State officers were chosen in 1878, when Frederick W. Pitkin was elected Governor by a plurality of 2,823. Wm. E. Beck, Rep., was elected Judge of the Supreme Court Oct. 7, 1879, by a plurality of 4,218, defeating George O. Richmond, Dem., and George Saulsbury, Gr. The next election for State officers will take place October 5, 1880.

The Republican platform pledged the vote of the State to Gen. Grant should he conclude to be a candidate for re-election, and demanded a law "providing for the unlimited coinage of the silver dollar on such terms as shall secure to the people the benefits of gold and silver as a circulating medium." The Democrats denounced President Hayes' vetoes, and condemned the purpose to renominate Gen. Grant, favored the free and unlimited coinage of silver, demanded the extinction of the title of the Ute Indians, and denounced the alleged Electoral frauds of 1876.

CONNECTICUT.

State officers were chosen in 1878. Charles B. Andrews, Rep., received a plurality of 2,482 over Hubbard, Dem., and there being no choice by the people, was elected by the Legislature. Eleven Senators and the House of Representatives were elected in November, 1879. Eight of the eleven Senators chosen are Republicans, and the vote for them resulted in a Republican majority of 2,220, against a Republican majority in the same districts for Governor in 1878 of 71. The Republicans also gained largely in the vote for Representatives.

Two amendments to the Constitution, the first providing for biennial sessions of the General Assembly, and fixing the pay of members at $300 for their term of two years, with mileage each way at twenty-five cents per mile, and the second in reference to the tenure of office of Judges of the Supreme Court and Superior Court of Errors, were submitted to the people and rejected, the vote for the first amendment being 21,430 for, and 46,019 against, and for the second amendment, 13,002 for, 49,221 against. The next election for State officers will occur Nov. 2, 1880.

‡ Two candidates.

The election of Hull, Dem., in the second district, was contested. It was shown that the vote of Brevard and other counties was falsified, and several canvassing officers were convicted of the crime in the United States court; but Gov. Drew gave the certificate to Hull, in disregard of an order of the Supreme Court, and the House of Representatives gave him the seat. Bisbee, Rep., was really elected by several hundred majority.

INDIANA.

No election was held in 1879. James D. Williams, Dem., was chosen Governor in 1876, by a plurality of 5,084, and a Secretary of State and other officers were elected in 1878. The next election for State officers occurs October 12, 1880.

Seven amendments to the Constitution are to be submitted to the people on the first Monday of April, 1880, having been adopted by two general assemblies. They require a residence of sixty days in a township or ward before voting; strike from the second article the words "no negro or mulatto shall have the right of suffrage;" change the day of State elections to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November; strike the word "white" from the fourth article; make provision for grading compensation of county officers in proportion to population and services; provide for the establishment of certain courts, and forbid political or municipal corporations, except in time of war, from incurring indebtedness to an amount in the aggregate exceeding two per centum on the value of the taxable property within the corporation.

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor, Jas. D. Williams; Lieutenant-Governor, Isaac P. Gray; Secretary of State, John G. Shanklin; Auditor of State, M. D. Manson; Treasurer of State, Wm. Fleming; Attorney-General, Thomas W. Woollen; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Jas. H. Smart — all Democrats.

Legislature — The Legislature of 1879, on joint ballot, consisted of 63 Republicans, 80 Democrats, and 7 Independents.

The Legislature which meets in 1881, will be elected in October, 1880.

IOWA.

State officers and Legislature were chosen October 14, 1879. John H. Gear, Rep., being re-elected Governor by a plurality of 72,515. An election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rush Clark, was held in the Fifth Congressional district. The next general election will be held November 2, 1880.

The Republican platform declared that "the United States of America is a Nation, not a league"; denounced the Democratic attempt to repeal the Federal Election laws; approved the financial policy of the Republican party; opposed any "Congressional tinkering" of the financial laws, and reaffirmed the position of the party upon the subjects of temperance and prohibition. The Democrats declared that the States and the General Government should be sternly restrained to their respective spheres, viewed with alarm the determination of the Republican party, through its Executive, to defraud the Republic of its army; favored the abolition of National banks, and free and unlimited coinage of silver; opposed "free whisky," and favored a judicious license law.

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor, Luke P. Blackburn; Lieutenant-Governor James E. Cantrell; Secretary of State, Samuel B. Churchill; Assistant Secretary of State, Thomas A. Harris; Attorney-General, P. W. Harding; Auditor, Fayette Hewitt; Treasurer, James W. Tate; Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. D. Pickett; Register of the Land Office, Ralph Sheldon—all Democrats.

Legislature—Largely Democratic.

LOUISIANA.

State officers were elected December 6, 1879, Louis A. Wiltz being chosen Governor by a majority of 34,005. The Republican platform urged the right and duty of the National government to guarantee a free Republicanism of government to each State; favored a protective tariff, aid for a southern route to the Pacific, subsidies for American shipping, and a Darien canal free from non-American predominating influence; asserted that the honor of the State required the attempt in good faith to pay the State debt; opposed the State debt ordinance of the Constitution, and urged that the Judicial department should be kept free from politics. The Democratic platform recommended the adoption of the new Constitution; declared for a free ballot; denounced the elevation of Hayes and Wheeler to the control of the Government as a crime against the freedom of the people; called for the admission of Mr. Spofford to the Senate and eulogized Governor Nichols for his services to the State and the Democratic party.

A new Constitution which was ratified at the December election, makes material changes in the machinery of State government. It omits all reference to the results of the rebellion, striking out the provisions adopted in 1863, recognizing the civil and political rights of the colored people. The State debt ordinance, submitted separately, provides that the interest on the consolidated bonds shall be two per cent for five years, from January 1, 1880, three per cent for fifteen years and four per cent thereafter.

The limitations upon the power of the Legislature to make appropriations and grant privileges are numerous. Special and local legislation are almost prohibited, and there is an absolute prohibition of the issue of bonds or contracting debt except in case of invasion. The Governor is clothed with power to veto separate clauses of appropriation bills. All charters granted by the Legislature shall be held subject to State authority, and corporations are forbidden to issue bonds except for money or labor actually received. Capital, machinery and other property employed in manufacture are exempt from taxation for ten years. All lotteries are prohibited after 1895, and among the purposes for which taxes may be levied, is the purchase of artificial limbs for ex-Confederate soldiers. State officers are elected in the third Monday in April, every four years, the vote for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor to be counted by a joint session of the General Assembly. The General Assembly meets on the 8th of May, 1882, and biennially on the 2d Monday of May thereafter. The salary of Governor is reduced from $8,000 to $4,000.

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor, Louis A. Wiltz; Lieutenant-Governor S. D. McEnery; Secretary of State, Wm. A. Strong; Auditor, Allen Jumel; Attorney-General, J. C. Egan; Superintendent of Education, E. Hay; Treasurer, E. A. Burke—all Democrats.
Legislature—Senate, Republicans, 6; Democrats, 30. House: Republicans, 17; Democrats, 75; Independent Democrats, 2; Greenback, 1.

MAINE.

A Governor and Legislature were voted for in September; Daniel F. Davis, Rep., received a plurality of the votes cast, but there was no election by the people. An amendment to the Constitution was adopted, which provides for biennial instead of annual elections of Governor and Legislature, and extends their term of office to two years. The next election occurs Sept. 13, 1880.

On the ground of various alleged technical errors, the late outgoing Democratic Governor and Council, in defiance of express provisions of law, and without affording opportunity of correction, rejected enough returns for members of the Legislature to change the Republican majority of 7 in the Senate and 37 in the House, to a Fusion majority of 9 in the Senate and 17 in the House. In doing this, the cities of Portland, Bath, Lewiston, Rockland and Saco were totally deprived of representation. Certificates were issued to the Fusionists thus counted in, and though there was at no time a quorum, they went through the form of organization, and elected and installed J. L. Smith, Governor, and a set of State officers. Meantime the defrauded Republicans referred the matter to the Supreme Court, which decided that the action of the Governor and Council was contrary to the spirit and letter of the law, and that the Fusion Legislature was clearly illegal. The Republicans-elect thereupon took peaceful possession of the State House, effected an organization, chose State officers, and put in motion the wheels of government. Their action was subsequently decided by the court to be legal, when the Fusionists adjourned their Legislature until August, 1880, and most of those legally elected took seats with the Republicans.

Governor, W. T. Hamilton; Secretary of State, Richard C. Hollyday; Comptroller, Thomas J. Keating; Treasurer, Barnes Compton; Attorney-General, Charles J. M. Gwinn; Adjutant-General, Frank A. Bond; Commissioner of Land Office, Wm. R. Hayward; Librarian, John H. T. Magruder; Court of Appeals Clerk, Spencer C. Jones — all Democrats.

Legislature — Senate: Republicans, 7; Democrats, 19. House: Republicans, 17; Democrats, 63. Democratic majority on joint ballot, 58.

MASSACHUSETTS.

State officers were chosen in November, John D. Long, Rep., being elected Governor by a plurality of 13,602. The next election for State officers occurs Nov. 2, 1880.

The Republican platform maintained that while local self-government in the State should be recognized, the National government should secure complete liberty and exact equality and that a free ballot is the right of every voter, deprecated the course of the Democrats in Congress, referred to the fact that Republican pledges have been redeemed in the resumption of specie payments and reduction of the public debt, congratulated the people upon the revival of business, opposed repudiation in all forms, applauded the patriotic course of President Hayes in maintaining his constitutional prerogatives and approved his efforts to reform the civil service, referred the temperance question to the people, urged modification of the system of taxation and the adoption of an amendment providing for biennial legislative sessions and elections, and approved generally the Republican State administration.

The Democratic Greenback platform contained as one of its leading planks a declaration that the soldier and sailor should receive a dollar as good as the bondholder's, and if, in defiance of the contract, honesty, equity and National honor require the payment of one hundred cents in gold for forty cents loaned, it is alike demanded by honesty, equity and honor that the difference between the soldier's dollar and the bondholder's dollar, with interest from the date of each deficient payment, now amounting to nearly $500 per man, be paid to soldiers and sailors of the late war in full legal tender money. The Regular Democratic platform reaffirmed the Democratic National platform of 1876, denounced the alleged "Electoral fraud," favored a strict construction of constitutional grants which prevent encroachments by State or Federal legislation on the rights of either, denounced the State registry laws as limiting the right of suffrage, arraigned the Republican administration of the State for various alleged abuses, approved the course of the Democrats in Congress, reaffirmed the doctrine that nothing but gold and silver should be a legal tender, denounced the Civil Damage act, and urged a union of the Democrats in the State.

MICHIGAN.

A Judge of the Supreme Court and two Regents of the University were elected April 7, 1879. Chas. M. Crosswell, Rep., was elected Governor in November, 1878, by a plurality of 47,777. The next election for State officers occurs Nov. 2, 1880.

The Republican platform, at the Spring election, opposed any radical change in the present financial system, congratulated the country on the resumption of specie payments, and invited the co-operation of all in favor of financial honesty. The Greenback platform, which was adopted by the Democrats, deprecated centralization of power, opposed the further allowance of war claims, demanded that all money, paper or metallic, should be issued by the government and made a full legal tender for all debts, urged the substitution of Greenbacks for National Bank notes, and opposed all monopolies and land grants to railroads.

CANDIDATES.

Supreme Court Judge—James V. Campbell, Rep.; John B. Shipman, Gr. and Dem.

Regents of the University—E. O. Grosvenor and James Shearer, Rep.; George P. Sanford and Henry Whiting, Dem.

MINNESOTA.

State officers were chosen November 4, 1879. John S. Pillsbury, Rep., being re-elected Governor by a plurality of 15,335. The next State election will occur November 2, 1880.

The Republican platform commended the ability and fidelity with which the finances have been conducted by the present administration; favored the maintenance of liberty and security in the South by every constitutional means; adhered to the Republican policy of Civil Service reform; demanded retrenchment and economy in National and State administration; opposed monopolies, and urged congressional effort to ameliorate commercial relations with Cuba and Mexico. The Democratic platform declared it the purpose of the party to resist all attempts at secession, centralization or usurpation; favored the speedy establishment of free trade; demanded thorough revision of the patent laws; regarded gold and silver coin as the money of the constitution, and insisted that paper currency should be at all times convertible into coin; favored unlimited coinage, genuine reform of the Civil Service, abolition of superfluous officers, and reduction of salaries; opposed sumptuary laws, class legislation, and exorbitant monopolies; demanded a free ballot and honest count of the votes cast at all elections, and condemned the management of the State institutions. The Greenback platform demanded the repeal of the act of 1869 to strengthen the public credit, and that all United States bonds be paid in strict accordance with the original contract; declared in favor of free coinage of silver; demanded the repeal of the resumption act, and denounced the locking up of coin in the treasury; regarded the system of contraction of the currency pursued since 1866 as subversive of the interests of the people; declared that the paper money circulation of the country should be steadily increased; favored equal taxation upon all property; opposed class legislation; condemned landed monopolies, railroad and others; opposed the present or any other national banking act; favored a graduated income tax, one term for the president, severe punishment for the bribery of voters, and the equalization of soldiers' bounties; protested against the ef-

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor, John S. Pillsbury; Lieutenant-Governor, Chas. A. Gilman; Secretary of State, Fred. von Baumbach; State Auditor, O. P. Whitcomb; Treasurer, Chas. Kittelson; Attorney-General, Chas. M. Start; Railroad Commissioner, Wm. H. Marshall—all Republicans.

Legislature—Strongly Republican.

MISSISSIPPI.

No State officers were elected in 1879. Part of the Senate and the full House of Representatives were chosen, and the people rejected an amendment to the Constitution providing for biennial sessions of the Legislature, and changing the general elections from the odd to the even years. John M. Stone, Dem., was elected Governor in 1877 without opposition. The next State election occurs Nov. 8, 1881.

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor, John S. Phelps; Lieutenant-Governor, Henry C. Beckmeyer; Secretary of State, Michael K. McGrath; Treasurer, Elijah Gates; Auditor, Thomas Holladay; Attorney-General, Jackson L. Smith; Register of Lands, James E. McHenry; Railroad Commissioner, Archibald M. Sevier; Superintendent of Public Instruction, R. D. Shannon; Supreme Judges, T. A. Sherwood, Chief Justice; Warwick Hough, Wm. B. Napton, Elijah H. Norton, John W. Henry, Associates—all Democrats.

Legislature—Senate: Republicans, 5; Democrats, 27; Greenback Democrats, 2; House: Republicans, 23; Democrats, 101; Greenback Republicans, 6; Greenback Democrats, 5; Independent Republicans, 2; Independent Democrats, 9; Straight Greenback, 7. Democratic majority on joint ballot, 97.

NEBRASKA.

A Supreme Judge, two Regents of the University and Judges of the District Court were elected in November, 1879. Albinus Nance was elected Governor in 1878, by a plurality of 15,996. The next election will occur Nov. 2, 1880.

The Republican platform declared the United States a nation and not a league of States, regarded with apprehension the utterances of the Democrats in Congress, affirmed the principle of the function of the ballot-box and demanded protection for the voters of the south, welcomed with pleasure the returning signs of prosperity, congratulated the country on the resumption of specie payments, and demanded economy in government administration. The Democratic platform denounced the violation of treaties with Indians, maintained the subordination of the military to the civil power, asserted the right of exercising the suffrage free from military interference, demanded the strictest economy in the management of government affairs, and arraigned the Republicans for wasteful and corrupt use of public funds.

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor, Thomas J. Jarvis; Secretary of State, W. L. Saunders; Auditor, Samuel L. Love; Treasurer, J. M. Worth; Attorney-General, Thomas S. Kenan; Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. C. Scarborough; Adjutant-General, Johnstone Jones—all Democrats.

Legislature—On joint ballot: Republicans, 57; Democrats, 113.

OHIO.

State officers were chosen on the 14th of October, 1879, Charles Foster, Republican, being elected Governor by a plurality of 17,129. The next election will occur on the 12th of October, 1880.

The Republican platform declared in favor of free suffrage and equal rights, denounced the course of the Democrats in the extra session of Congress, approved the financial policy of the government, condemned the conduct and acts of the Democratic State Legislature, and cordially thanked the President and Republican members of Congress for their firm stand against the designs of the Congressional majority. The Democratic platform denounced interference with elections by military power, demanded the modification of the Federal jury laws, opposed the appropriation of money to Federal soldiers and officials to interfere with and control elections, opposed the National banking system, favored the gradual substitution of treasury notes for National bank currency, demanded the full restoration of silver to its original place as a money metal, opposed further increase in the National bonded debt, and commended the work of the State Legislature. The Greenback platform opposed favoritism in the distribution of political rights and privileges, held the old parties responsible for the industrial depression, opposed the issue by the government of interest-bearing bonds of any description, demanded the immediate abolition of the National banking system, favored a tariff sufficient for the protection of American industries, and the substitution of a

STATE GOVERNMENT.

Governor W. W. Thayer, Dem.; Secretary of State, R. P. Earhart, Rep.; Treasurer, Edward Hirsch, Rep.; State Printer, W. B. Carter, Rep.; Superintendent of Public Instruction, L. J. Powell, Rep.; Justices Supreme Court, James K. Kelly, Dem.; P. P. Prim, Dem.; R. P. Boice, Rep.

Legislature.—Senate: Republicans, 10; Democrats, 18; Independents, 2. House: Republicans, 25; Democrats, 33; Independents, 2. Democratic majority on joint ballot, 12.

PENNSYLVANIA.

A State Treasurer and county officers were chosen in 1879, Samuel B. Butler being elected Treasurer by a plurality of 58,438. The next State election occurs November 2, 1880.

The Republican platform favored paying the national debt in coin, retention of the national banking system, and protection of home industry and production, insisted that the United States is a nation, not a league, and that its constitution and the laws under it are the supreme law of the land, and approved, generally, the policy of the government, financial and otherwise. The Democratic platform favored a constitutional currency of gold and silver and of paper convertible into coin. The Greenback platform opposed the further issue of interest-bearing bonds, urged the substitution of legal tender greenbacks for National bank notes, demanded that fractional silver be replaced by fractional paper currency, favored payment of the National debt strictly according to the terms of the contract under which it was created, insisted that the Federal government only shall issue money, which shall be a full legal tender, and favored an income tax law.

The candidates for Treasurer were Samuel B. Butler, Rep.; Daniel O. Barr, Dem.; Peter Sutton, Gr.; and J. L. Richardson, Pro.

TERMS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.

Regular Term, January 15th, 1879, to December 24th, 1879, with such recesses from time to time as the court may direct.

Justices of the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court consists of thirty-three Justices. The State is divided into eight judicial districts, and four Justices are elected in each, except the first, which elects five. Elections for Justices of the Supreme Court are held every alternate odd year. As fast as the terms of Justices expire, elections take place for a term of fourteen years. For General Term purposes, the State is divided into Judicial Departments. The Governor designates the Justices to hold the General Terms. In each department there is a Presiding Justice, who holds office during the term for which he was elected to the bench, and two associates, who hold office for five years, unless the terms for which they were elected sooner expire. The Justices receive a salary of $6,000 per annum, and an annual allowance for expenses.

GENERAL TERMS OF THE SUPREME COURT FOR 1880 AND 1881.

Chapter 408 of the Session Laws of 1870 divides the State into four Judicial departments. In pursuance of chapter 766, Laws of 1871, as amended by chapter 778, Laws of 1872, the justices appointed to hold general terms in the several departments have designated the following times and places for holding the same:

First Department for 1880 and 1881 — On the first Mondays in January, March, May and October, at the Court House in the city of New York.

Second Department — On the second Monday of February, at the Court House in Kings county; On the second Monday of May at the Court House in Poughkeepsie; On the second Monday of September at the Court House in Kings county; On the second Monday of December, at the Court House in Kings county.

Third Department — On the fourth Tuesday in January, at the City Hall in Albany; On the first Tuesday in May at the Court House in Ithaca; On the first Tuesday in September, at the Town Hall in Saratoga Springs; On the third Tuesday in November, at the City Hall, Albany.

Fourth Department — First Tuesday in January, at the Court House in the city of Syracuse; On the first Tuesday of April, at the Court House in Rochester; On the second Tuesday of June, at the Court House in Buffalo; On the first Tuesday of October, at the Court House in Rochester.

Special Terms and Circuits remain, and are to be held according to existing appointments, which will be found on Calendar pages.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Senate consists of 32 members, who are elected in November of every alternate year ('79, '81, etc.), and hold their offices for two years from the first of January next succeeding. The State is divided into 32 districts, each electing one Senator. The Senators receive an annual salary of $1,500, and also $1 for each ten miles of travel in going to or returning from the place of meeting once in each session. Ten dollars per day in addition is allowed when the Senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when acting as a court for the trial of impeachments. The Lieutenant-Governor is ex officio President of the Senate.

Clerk—JOHN W. VROOMAN, of Herkimer. Sergeant-at-arms—JOHN W. CORNING, of Wayne. Door-keeper—JAMES G. CAW, of Schenectady.

First District.

(Suffolk and Queens counties. Population, 136,219.)

JOHN BIRDSALL (Rep.), of Glen Cove, Queens county. Mr. B. was born in Flatbush, Kings county, N. Y., October 5, 1840. His ancestors settled in Queens county, L. I., over two hundred years ago. He was educated at a grammar school in Brooklyn; was formerly a merchant and farmer, and at present is not engaged in any regular business. During the war of the rebellion he was captain and major in the Thirteenth New York Cavalry, and after its close he was appointed captain of cavalry in the regular army. He was elected to the Senate by a majority of 2,343* over Charles T. Duryea (Dem.), running about 5,000 ahead of his ticket.

Second District.

(1st, 2d, 5th, 6th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 12th, and 22d wards of Brooklyn, and towns of Flatbush, Gravesend and New Utrecht, Kings county.)

WILLIAM H. MURTHA (Dem.), of Brooklyn (139 Park Place). Mr. M. was born in Brooklyn, January 3, 1841; educated at the public schools of Brooklyn; has been a clerk and salesman, and is now a coal merchant; was United States Mustering Officer at the Brooklyn Navy Yard from 1861 to 1865, and was Alderman from 1876 to 1879. He has always been a Democrat, and was elected to the Senate by a majority of 7,767 over Philip J. O'Hanlan (Ind. Dem. and Rep.)

Third District.

(3d, 4th, 7th, 11th, 13th, 19th, 20th, 21st, and 23d wards of Brooklyn.)

FREDERICK A. SCHROEDER (Rep.), of Brooklyn (249 Clinton avenue). Mr. S. was born in the city of Trier, in Prussia, March 10, 1833. He was educated at the public schools and at the Trier Gymnasium until he reached the age of sixteen, when he emigrated with his father to the United States, arriving at New York in 1849. He learned the trade of cigar making, commencing business operations on his own account before he became of age. He is the senior partner of the firm of Schroeder & Bon, engaged in leaf tobacco business in New York. He has been for many years president of the Germania Savings Bank of Brooklyn. He has always been a Republican, but never took any active part in politics until the year 1871, when, without his knowledge or consent, he was nominated for Comptroller of Brooklyn and elected. He served as Comptroller from 1872 to 1874, was elected Mayor in 1875, serving for two years and declined a renomination in 1877. He has vigorously fought the so-called Democratic ring of Brooklyn during the past eight years. He was elected to the Senate by a majority of 200 over Wm. W. Goodrich (Bolting Rep. and Dem.)

The Democratic party of Brooklyn made a special effort to defeat Mr. Schroeder in the late canvass, and he was also bitterly opposed by the Union Argus, a Republican journal.

Fourth District.

(14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 24th and 25th wards of Brooklyn, and towns of New Lots and Flatlands, in Kings county.)

JOHN C. JACOBS (Dem.), of Brooklyn. Mr. J. was born in Lancaster county, Penn., December 10, 1838; is a descendant of revolutionary stock, and of German origin on the maternal side; received a common school education, leaving school at the age of 14; has been a printer and journalist, and is now a lawyer; was for several years the Albany correspondent of the New York World and other papers, and was a war correspondent of New York journals during McClellan's campaign; he was an unsuccessful candidate for member of Assembly in 1863 and 1865, running against J. C. Perry the first year and W. W. Goodrich the second, and the Democratic candidate for Clerk of the House in 1864; he was elected to the Assembly in 1866, and served in that body continuously until 1873, his majority being usually larger than the State ticket received. In 1869 he served on the Committee on Commerce and Navigation and several special committees, and in 1870 was Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and a member of the committees on Insurance and Grievances; in 1871 he was a member of Grievances, Judiciary, and Ways and Means, and Chairman of the latter; in 1872 he was a member of Ways and Means and Petitions of Allens, and in 1873 he was a member of Ways and Means, Insurance and Rules. He was a member of the Senate in 1874, '75, '76, '77, '78, '79, from the then third district, serving on the Committees on Finance, Cities, Grievances and Rules, and was elected to the present Senate by a plurality of 2,184, his opponents being Henry E. Roehr (Rep.), M. H. Curran (Ind.), and Wm. M. Wood (Ind.). His majority in 1873 was 3,284, in 1875 it was 39, and in 1877, 5,137.

Fifth District.

(Richmond county, and 1st, 2d, 3d, 5th, 6th, 8th, 14th and parts of the 4th and 9th wards of New York city.)

EDWARD HOGAN (Dem.), of New York city (17 State street). Mr. H. was born in the third ward of New York, November 6, 1834; was educated in the public schools; is an agent, and has been engaged in the forwarding business. During the administration of President Buchanan he held the office of Deputy United States Marshal. In December, 1863, he was elected Police Justice for a term of six years, defeating John M. Costa. In 1869 he was re-elected without opposition, all parties uniting in his support, the Republican Judiciary Convention adopting resolutions warmly commending the manner in which he had discharged the duties of his office. His administration also received the marked approval of lawyers and all others familiar with police court matters, and he retired from the bench in 1873 upon the appointment of his successor by the Mayor, pursuant to legislative enactment. In the fall of 1874, ten days before the election, he was nominated for Congress as an independent candidate against E. R. Meade, the regular Democratic nominee, and though he was without the support of any recognized organization, he was only defeated by 175 votes in a district which usually gave 16,000 Democratic majority. He was elected to the last Senate by a majority of 10,874 over Joseph Shannon (Anti-Tam. and Rep.) He served on the Committees on Commerce and Navigation, Retrenchment and Apportionment, and was largely instrumental in securing the defeat of the bill proposing a reduction of the salaries of policemen, firemen, and school teachers in New York. He was elected to the present Senate by a majority of 6,505 over Cornelius Flynn (Dem.), the Republicans making no nomination.

Sixth District.

(7th, 11th and 13th wards, and part of the 4th ward of the city of New York.)

JACOB SEEBACHER (Dem.), of New York city (155 Clinton street). Mr. S. was born in Germany February 20, 1833; educated in select schools of Germany; was formerly a cigarmaker, and is now an auctioneer. He was for many years Lieutenant in Company H, 6th Regiment, N. Y. S. N. G. He has held the office of Inspector of Lamps and Gas in New York; was a Clerk in the County Clerk's office; warrant clerk in the Finance Department two terms and Deputy-Sheriff under Sheriffs O'Brien and Brennan. He was a member of Assembly in 1865, '66, '73, '79, serving on the committees on Aliens, Erection and Division of Towns and Counties, Public Lands, Internal Affairs, Expenditures of the Executive Department and Railroads, being identified with several important bills. He was elected to the Senate by a plurality of 5,398, his opponents being Philip S. Warner (Rep.), and Peter H. Jobes (Gr. and Ind.)

Seventh District.

(10th and 17th wards and part of the 15th, 18th and 21st wards of New York city.)

FERDINAND EIDMAN (Rep.), of New York city. Mr. E. was born in Germany, December 1, 1842; educated in German common schools; was formerly a lithographic printer and is proprietor of an oyster house. He served in the army 100 days in response to President Lincoln's first call for 75,000 men. He was a member of Assembly in 1879, serving on the Committees on Cities and Internal Affairs, and was elected to the Senate by a plurality of 428, his opponents being Thomas G. Creamer (Dem.), and Paul Ruehl (Ind.) His plurality in 1878 in the Assembly canvass was 1,337.

C., graduating from the latter in 1868; was formerly a printer and is now a lawyer; served three years in the army; was a member of Assembly in 1871, '72, from the first district of Orange county, and in 1876, '77, '79, from the then Thirteenth district of New York, serving the last three years as Chairman of Judiciary, and also as member of Privileges and Elections, Rules, Militia and Apportionment. He was elected to the Senate by a majority of 30 over John W. Browning (Dem.)

Ninth District.

(Parts of the 18th, 19th and 21st wards of New York city.)

FRANCIS M. BIXBY (Dem.), of New York city,

(501 Fifth Avenue). Mr. B. was born at Deposit, Delaware county, N. Y., December 20, 1829; educated in academies and common schools; also, studied law for two years in Troy with Geo. R. Davis and Calvin E. Mather; has been a merchant, but is not now in active business; was for eighteen years actively engaged in extensive warehousing and shipping business in New York. He has always been a Democrat and was never a candidate for any other office. For a period of ten years he steadily opposed the Tammany Hall organization, and during the rule of Tweed and his associates he aided in forming the anti-Tammany party, and was prominently active in that organization until the fall of 1879, when, on the theory that anti-Tammany was degenerating into a personal organization for the benefit of ex-Governor Tilden, he ceased his connection with it, and accepted a nomination for Senator proffered by Tammany Hall. He was largely supported by Republicans and anti-Tammany men, and was elected to the present Senate by a majority of 4,706 over John R. Fellows (Anti-Tam.) He was a member of the Senate, 1876, '77, serving on the committees on Commerce and Navigation, Public Health and Militia, and in that body he sustained all measures calculated to give New York a good and economical government.

Tenth District.

ASSEMBLY.

The Assembly consists of 128 Members, elected annually, by single districts. Each county has at least one Member. They receive a compensation of $1,500 per annum, and also $1 for every ten miles traveled in going to or returning from the place of meeting once in each session. In case they serve as managers of an impeachment, they are entitled to an allowance of $10 per diem additional. Their officers are chosen at the opening of the session.

Speaker—GEO. H. SHARPE, of Ulster. Clerk—EDWARD M. JOHNSON, of Otsego. Sergeant-at-Arms—SIDNEY M. ROBINSON, of Niagara. Door-keeper—HENRY WHEELER, of Rensselaer.

Albany County.

Population, in 1865, 115,504; in 1875, 147,530.

1st DISTRICT. (1st, 2d, 3d and 5th wards of the city of Albany, and towns of Bethlehem, Berne, Coeymans, Rensselaerville and Westerlo.) WM. H. SLINGERLAND (Rep.), of Slingerland's. Mr. S. was born at New Scotland, Albany county, November 13, 1820, his parents being of Dutch and English descent. He was educated in the common and select schools of Albany, and for thirty-five years has been a practical Civil Engineer and Surveyor, being at the same time extensively engaged in farming at Slingerlands, making a specialty of breeding thoroughbred Short Horns. He also deals largely in real estate, has been a successful practical business man and is a heavy land-owner in Albany and vicinity. At the age of 18 he was elected Colonel of a regiment of State militia, and continued in command for ten years. In connection therewith he held the offices of Division Judge Advocate and enrollment officer. He established a post-office at Slingerlands, and was postmaster at that place for several years; was a delegate to the convention at which the Republican party was first organized in this State, and has several times since been a delegate from his district to State conventions; was appointed U. S. Loan Commissioner for the county of Albany by Gov. John A. King. His eldest brother, John I. Slingerland, who died in 1857, was twice elected to the Assembly, and subsequently elected to Congress. Mr. S. was elected to the Assembly by a plurality of 66,* his opponents being Thos. Powers (Dem.) and Michael Cassidy (Ind. Dem.) In 1876 his district gave the Democratic State ticket 1,346 majority.

2d DISTRICT. (10th, 11th, 14th, 16th and 17th wards of the city of Albany, and Towns of Guilderland, Knox and New Scotland.) HIRAM GRIGGS (Rep.), of Knowersville. Mr. G. was born in Schoharie, March 13, 1836; educated in Schoharie Academy, and is an attorney and counselor at law. He has always been a Republican, and his father was a Whig and afterward a Republican. He was Supervisor of the town of Guilderland from 1867 to 1877, being twice Chairman of the Board; Member of Assembly in 1878, serving on the Committees on General Laws, State Prisons, and Indian Affairs; member of the last House, serving as Chairman of General Laws, and member of Public Printing and Two-thirds and Three-fifths Bills, and was elected to the present House by a plurality of 2,251, his opponents being Isaac Jones (Dem.), Francis Marshall (Am. Dem.), and Ambrose Morgan (Gr.) His plurality in the first district in 1878 was 1,323; in 1877, 992.

3d DISTRICT. (4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 12th, 13th, and part of the 9th ward of the city of Albany.) IGNATIUS WILEY (Dem.), of Albany (61 Beaver street). Mr. W. was born at Cape Vincent, N. Y., in September, 1831; educated in Brownville Academy, and is a butcher. He was twice elected member of the Albany Board of Supervisors, and was elected to the Assembly by a plurality of 2,966, his opponents being George W. Miller (Ind. Dem.), and Wm. Hill (Rep.)

* The full vote for members of Assembly is given on pages 70, 71.

4th DISTRICT. (Part of the 9th ward of the city of Albany, city of Cohoes, and town of Watervliet.) THOMAS LIDDLE (Rep.), of Cohoes. Mr. L. was born in Danesburgh, Schenectady County, N. Y., January 28, 1839; educated in common schools; is a merchant and farmer, having been engaged in business in Amsterdam for the past twenty-one years, and also managed a farm in the town of Watervliet for thirteen years. He has always been a Republican, and never before held office. In the canvass for the Assembly, Joseph Hynes (Dem.), was declared elected by a plurality of 157, but after a contest in the House, Mr. Liddle was awarded the seat, the evidence clearly showing fraudulent counting in the Fifth district of Watervliet. Had the votes of that district been truly returned, Mr. Liddle's majority would have been at least 58, while, by rejecting the vitiated return, and counting only proved votes, his majority is 510.

HAYES (Rep.), of New York city (Sinclair House). Mr. H. was born in Chester county, Pa., March 5, 1832; is of English and Irish extraction; was educated in public and private schools, and in the Academy at Westtown, Chester county, Pa.; graduated in medicine from the University of Pennsylvania in 1853; has been a farmer, teacher, physician and Arctic explorer, and is at present an author and lecturer on literary and scientific subjects and travels. Soon after graduating he accompanied Dr. E. K. Kane on his Arctic expedition as Surgeon and was absent two years and a half. In 1860 he commanded an expedition to the same regions, and was absent about a year and a half. This was entirely a private and purely a scientific enterprise, and the expedition was fitted out after three years' effort, partly at Dr. Hayes' expense and partly at the expense of individuals and scientific societies. He also explored Greenland in 1869, and visited Iceland in 1870 to take part in the millennial celebration of the colonization of that country. In 1872 he published a paper, which attracted some attention, in relation to the injury being done to the harbor of New York by encroachments along the water front. Other papers on hydrographic subjects in connection with commerce occasionally appeared from his pen. Besides numerous pamphlets and papers on various scientific subjects, especially in relation to exploration and travel, and also a number of purely literary articles, he has written the following works: "The Open Polar Sea," "An Arctic Boat Journey," "Cast Away in the Cold," and "The Land of Desolation." In the Arctic regions he reached a point within 480 miles of the North Pole, nearer than any other explorer had ever approached. For his discovery of the most northerly known land, he received gold medals from the leading scientific societies of the world and numerous decorations. Early in the war of the Rebellion he entered the Army as Brigade Surgeon. He afterward became a Surgeon of United States Volunteers with rank of Major and brevet rank of Colonel. He built and commanded until the close of the war the Army Hospital at West Philadelphia, Pa., capable of accommodating 4,000 patients. It was the largest hospital ever built, and was famous for its good discipline and hygienic regulations. Since 1865 he has resided in New York city. Dr. Hayes was formerly a Whig, but since 1856 he has been a Republican. He took part in the Convention which nominated Fremont, and subsequently rendered efficient service to that candidate on the stump. He also stumped this and other States in the last Presidential canvass. He was a member of Assembly in 1876, 77, 78, 79, serving the first year on Ways and Means, and Insurance, the second on Commerce and Navigation, Ways and Means, and Insurance, the third as Chairman of Canals, and member of Ways and Means, Cities and Insurance and the fourth as Chairman of Cities, and member of Canals and Rules. He was elected in the fall of 1876 by a majority of 725, his plurality in 1875 being 1,375, and a majority over two candidates of 1,060, the largest ever given in the district, except under the Tweed regime, when fraudulent voting was charged. His majority in 1877, over John Carey (Tam. Dem.), was 716, which was 300 ahead of the State ticket. In 1878, his plurality was 1,277, and last fall his majority was 1,602 over Hollis L. Powers (Dem.). In the House he has been identified with important New York city measures, the State Survey Bill, Reform in the Pilotage Laws, Free Canal Advocacy, speedy completion of unfinished Insane Asylums, etc., and was the author of the "Free Canal Resolutions," the "Hayes' Finance Bill," and other notable measures.

After working as a journeyman a year he became the private secretary and stenographer of Dr. Alfred Brehm, a noted scientific author and traveler, acting as such for five years, and accompanying Dr. Brehm on a journey to the Northern Season on behalf of the Berlin Aquarium. During this period also he contributed to a number of political, stenographic and other periodicals. In 1869 he came to this country, working for a time as a printer, but soon getting a position as reporter on the "Arbeiter Union," a German daily. Later he became city editor of the "Oestliche Post," a Republican daily, published in New York during the years 1872 and 1873, and when that ceased to exist he accepted editorial positions successively on the "New Yorker Presse," and the "New Yorker Staats Zeitung," and also filled a clerkship in the law office of Mr. Henry Wähla, studying law in the day-time and doing editorial work at night. Finally he abandoned journalism, and, devoting himself wholly to his law studies, he graduated in 1878 and was admitted to the bar. Since then he has practiced as an attorney at law, having an office at 25 Avenue A. Until his nomination to the Assembly, Mr. Grosse had not been actively in politics. He was nominated by the German Independent Citizens' Association of his district, which also supported and secured the election of Ferdinand Eidman to the Senate, and was endorsed by the regular Republican Association, of which Police Justice Jacob Patterson is President. He was elected to the Assembly by a plurality of 794, his opponents being Ferdinand Levy (Tam. Dem.), John H. Cori (Anti-Tam. Dem.) and Frank Skarda (Soc.)

NEW YORK PARTY PLATFORMS.

The Republican Platform.Adopted at Saratoga, September 3, 1879.

The Republicans of New York, pledging ourselves anew to National Supremacy, Equal Rights, Free Elections and Honest Money, declare these principles:

1. The Republic of the United States is a Nation and not a league. The Nation is supreme within its own constitutional sphere. It is endowed with power to guard its own life, to protect its own citizens, to regulate its own elections and to execute its own laws. The opposite doctrine of State sovereignty is the baleful mother of nullification, secession and anarchy. Republicanism stands for National supremacy in National affairs, and State rights in State concerns. Democracy stands for State sovereignty with its twin heresy that the Union is a mere confederacy of States.

2. To refuse necessary supplies for the Government, with the design of compelling the unwilling consent of a co-ordinate and independent branch to odious measures, is revolution. To refuse appropriations for the execution of existing and binding laws is nullification. We arraign the Democratic representatives in Congress as guilty both of revolutionary attempts and nullifying schemes; and we reprobate their action as calculated to subvert the Constitution, and to strike at the existence of the Government itself.

3. The safety of the Republic demands free and pure elections. The Democratic Congress has attempted, by caucus dictation, by threats of starving the Government, and by months of disturbing agitation, to break down the National election laws. We denounce this effort as a conspiracy to overthrow the safeguards of free suffrage, and to open the ballot-box to the unchecked domination of the rifle clubs of the South and the repeaters of New York. We declare our uncompromising opposition to any repeal of these just protective laws; and the Republican Senators and Representatives in Congress for their resistance to this attempt, and President Hayes for his veto messages, deserve and receive our hearty approval.

4. The Republican party neither justifies nor tolerates military interference with elections. It seeks only to protect the ballot-box from the interference of force and fraud. It repels the false charges and denounces the false pretenses of conspirators who, while professing free elections everywhere, sustain mob-law in the South; while inveighing against troops at the polls to protect citizens, refuse to prohibit armed clubs from surrounding the ballot-box to intimidate them; and while affecting fear that the soldier's bayonet will overawe free electors, remain silent when the assassin's bullet seals the fate of political independence.

5. We call upon the people to remember that the Democratic party forced the extra session of Congress without warrant or excuse; that it prosecuted its partisan purposes by revolutionary methods; that it persistently obstructed resumption, and still constantly presses disturbing measures; that it reopens sectional questions closed by the National triumph, and threatens to repeal the war legislation; that its Southern element answers conciliation only with violence; that its hope of success rests alone on a solid South; and that its triumph would make the solid South the ruling body of the Nation. We recognize that the great body of the people who defended the Union, of whatever party name, are equally patriotic and equally interested in good government; and we earnestly invoke them to unite in resisting the dangerous designs of a party organization under the sway of those who were lately in rebellion, and now seek to regain in the halls of legislation what they lost on the field of battle.

6. The successful resumption of specie payments, despite Democratic prediction and hostility, is the crowning achievement of Republican financial policy. Followed by returning National prosperity, improved credit, a refunded debt and reduced interest, it adds another to the triumphs which prove that the Republican party is equal to the highest demands. Our whole currency should be kept at par with the monetary standard of the commercial world, and any attempt to debase the standard, to depreciate the paper or to deteriorate the coin, should be firmly resisted.

7. The claims of the living and the memories of the dead defenders of the Nation conjure us to protest against the partisan and unpatriotic greed which expels Union soldiers from their well-deserved public rewards and advances Confederate soldiers to their places.

8. As a pledge and proof of its economy in State administration, the Republican party, in spite of prolonged Democratic resistance, proposed and passed the Constitutional Amendments which restrict the expenses of the canals to their receipts, and reform the whole system of canal and prison management; and by extinguishing the public indebtedness and relieving the people from any further tax therefor, it effected the great saving in State taxation. These fruits of Republican measures the Democrats have brazenly attempted to appropriate as their own. Appealing to the records in support of our declaration, we pronounce their claims unfounded, and hold up their authors as public impostors.

9. The inequalities of taxation, which press most upon those least able to bear them, should be remedied. To this end the Republican Legislature created a commission to revise the assessment and tax laws and to reach a class of property which now largely escapes; and we remind the people that this salutary reform was unwarrantably defeated by the present Democratic Executive.

10. Moneyed and transportation corporations are not alone works of private enterprise, but are created for public use, and, with due regard to vested rights, it is the clear province and the plain duty of the State so to supervise and regulate such corporations as to secure just and impartial treatment of all interests, to foster the industrial and agricultural prosperity of the people, and, with a liberal policy for our public water-ways, to maintain the commercial supremacy of the State. We look to the inquiry now in progress under the direction of the Legislature to develop the facts which will guide to all needed action.

The Democratic Platform.Adopted at Syracuse, Sept. 11.

The Democratic party of the State of New York, in Convention assembled, profoundly sensible of the important consequences depending on the immediate result of their deliberations, do declare and reassert the principles of popular liberty and rights laid down by Washington, Jefferson, and the other founders of the Republic. We hold to the Constitution with all its amendments sacredly maintained and enforced, and to the rights of the States under the Constitution. The tendencies of the Republican party to centralization and consolidation are contrary to the principles of our institutions. The United States form a Nation in the sense, the extent and for the purposes defined in the Federal Constitution, and we resist every attempt to transform it into an empire. We insist on unity, fraternity and concord, and that the issues settled by the war shall not be revived. We deprecate the efforts of the Republican managers to revive sectional feuds and to rekindle the passions of the past. We demand honest elections and an honest count of votes. Never again by fraud or force shall the popular will be set aside to gratify unscrupulous partisans.

The Democracy oppose all favoritism. No single interest or class of persons should be protected at the expense of others. Democracy means the government of the whole people, for the whole people and by the whole people; but if any class is to receive special consideration it should be the working people, whom all other governments oppress and crush. The rights of the people should be scrupulously protected from the encroachments of capital and the despotic greed of corporations.

The Democracy believe now, as they have always believed, in gold and silver as the Constitutional money of the country. We condemn the speculative methods of the present Secretary of the Treasury, the questionable favoritism he has shown to particular monetary institutions or so-called "syndicates," and the extravagance he has permitted in his department in connection with his refunding schemes. We look with shame and sorrow on the disgraceful repudiation of all their professions of Civil Service Reform by the Executive and his supporters. Federal offices have been freely given for despicable partisan services; leading officers of the Government are making partisan speeches, managing political campaigns and requiring their subordinates to contribute to campaign funds in derogation of every principle and promise of an honest civil service. The hundred and four thousand Federal officers constitute an army moving under a single direction to keep the Republican party in power, and this vast patronage is now used as a corruption fund against the people. We congratulate the people of New York on the results of Democratic Administration, in the payment of the State debt, the reduction of expenses and the diminished burden of taxation. We condemn the efforts of demagogues to create jealousy and antagonism between the city of New York and the rest of the State, when their interests are identical, and the growth of one is the prosperity of the other. The people of New York—farmers, manufacturers and merchants alike—demand that they shall have all the advantages which accrue to them from their favorable position, and that the railroads they have chartered and endowed with vast and profitable privileges shall be operated for their benefit and not for their ruin. We therefore indorse as our expression of the foregoing principles the following:

The Democratic officers of the State of New York, by the ability and fidelity in which they have discharged their duty during the past three years, by their conscientious application of Constitutional tests to the acts of every department of the State Government, by their successful resistance to private and partial legislation, and by their economic conduct of the finances and reduction of expenses of the State Government, have entitled themselves to the gratitude of their fellow-citizens of all parties.

1. Honesty, efficiency and economy in every department of the Government.
2. All property should bear its just proportion of taxation, and we pledge the Democratic party to reform the laws of assessments to that end.
3. Lessening the burdens and increasing the advantages of the working people.
4. The equal protection of the rights of labor and capital under just laws.
5. The railroads prohibited by law from unjust discrimination, and from favoring localities or individuals.
6. The tolls upon the canals to be kept at the lowest rates possible consistent with economical and efficient management.
7. The maintenance of the public schools, the pride and hope of a free State.
8. Prisons for the punishment and reformation of criminals, and not for the injury of honest labor, which should be protected as far as possible from such competition.
9. Municipal self-government in local affairs.
10. That the successful efforts of our Democratic Representatives in Congress in restoring a fair and intelligent jury system, and in protecting the freedom of the ballot and preventing the unconstitutional interference of the Federal Administration with the State elections, are approved, and the action of the Executive in vetoing the legislation designed to prevent the presence of armed soldiers and the employment of paid Federal supervisors and marshals at the polls, and the use of the public funds for this purpose, is denounced by the Democracy of the State of New York.

11. And as the foundation of all liberty and prosperity, privileges and rights, under our government, we shall continue to uphold a system of untrammelled suffrage absolutely free from Federal force or supervision. It is the duty of the State, alike in the interest of taxation, temperance, and equal and exact justice to the community, to make such revision of the Excise laws as will better secure the rights of the citizens to life, liberty, property and public order.

The Greenback Platform.

Adopted at Utica, Aug. 29.

The National Greenback Labor Party of the State of New York, in convention assembled, do demand—

1. That the national bank currency shall be withdrawn and that all money that may be used by the people—whether gold, silver or paper—shall be issued by the general government, and be made a full legal tender for all debts and dues, public and private. The volume of such money to be about fifty dollars per capita or sufficient to meet all the requirements of trade.
2. That the established volume of the currency shall be increased from time to time in a direct ratio with the increase in the business and population of the country, so as to maintain for the dollar as nearly as possible a uniform purchasing power.
3. That all the new issues of paper money shall be used to cancel the interest bearing debt of the Nation, to promote needed improvements and to pay current expenses.
4. That the surplus money now in the Treasury of the Nation shall be used to cancel the interest-bearing debt.
5. That the National government shall issue no more interest-bearing obligations and that outstanding bonds shall be paid and canceled at once.
6. That postal savings banks shall be established.
7. The equal taxation of all property.
8. That the salaries paid public officers shall be reduced to the basis of just compensation for services rendered and all unnecessary offices abolished.
9. That there shall be proper legislation for the purpose of collecting and preserving reliable statistics to form the basis of intelligent action on all labor questions, to the end that labor may be fully and constantly employed and justly compensated.
10. The establishment of just and equitable rates for railroad fare and transportation.
11. That the Legislature, at the earliest moment possible, shall pass a law giving to mortgagors of real estate the right of redemption for five years after sales.
12. That reasonable land limitation laws shall be enacted to prevent land monopolies.
13. The abolition of the State Prison contract system.
14. That no political assessments on candidates for office or officeholders shall be permitted in this party.
15. A reduction of the legal rates of interest.
16. That a debt due for labor performed shall take precedence of all other claims.
17. That no more public lands shall be voted to corporations, but that they be held for actual settlers.
18. That we favor a tariff which shall protect American industry and manufactures.
19. That the government shall faithfully perform its pledge made to the Union soldiers at the time of enlistment—to wit, that they receive sixty acres of land on being discharged, and an equitable payment per month of each soldier according to the value of the full legal tender dollar.

The annual interest charge is computed upon the amount of outstanding principal at the close of the fiscal year, and is exclusive of interest charge on Pacific Railway bonds.

The slight increase of the interest charge for 1878 is owing to the interest charge on bonds sold for resumption, less the amount saved by refunding at lower rates.

The excess of the value of American exports in the trade with Great Britain amounted during the year ended June 30, 1879, to $240,289,627.

The tonnage of the United States on the 30th of June, 1879, was as follows: Sailing vessels, 2,993,429 tons; steam vessels, 1,176,172 tons; total tonnage, 4,169,600. Of this tonnage 1,491,533 tons represented 2,717 vessels registered for the foreign trade, and 2,678,067 tons represented 25,494 vessels enrolled and licensed and engaged in the coasting or domestic trade. There was an increase of 948,342 tons in sailing vessels as compared with that of the previous year, and an increase of 8,494 tons in steam vessels. In 1857, over 75 per cent of the merchandise imported and exported was carried in vessels of the United States; at present, but 23 per cent, as stated, is carried in such vessels, though the total volume of the trade has risen from a value of nearly seven hundred, to nearly twelve hundred, millions of dollars.

As to the much-controverted question of the amount of the precious metals mined which is to be deducted from the circulation on the account of use in the arts, the Director of the Mint, after careful and extended inquiries, in 1879, came to the conclusion that the annual consumption of gold and silver, in all forms, in the United States, is not less than 7,000,000 of gold and $5,000,000 of silver.

The balance of exchanges in the precious metals, which had been steadily against the United States ever since 1861, has been changed during 1879. The imports of gold and silver coin and bullion at the port of New York alone, from July 1st to November 1st, amounted to the sum of $52,187,174.

Brief History of the Standard Silver Dollar.

Authorized to be coined, Act of April 2, 1792. Weight, 416 grains, standard silver, fineness, 892.4: equivalent to 371¼ grains of fine silver, with 44½ grains alloy of pure copper.

Weight changed, Act of January 18, 1837, to 412½ grains, and fineness changed to 900, preserving the same amount of pure silver—371¼ grains, with ½ alloy.

Coinage discontinued, Act of February 12, 1873.

Total amount coined, from 1792 to 1873, $8,045,838.

Coinage revived, $2,000,000 per month required to be coined, and issue made legal tender for all debts, public and private, Act of February 28, 1878.

Total amount coined, February 28, 1878, to November 1, 1879, $45,206,200.

Resumption of Specie Payments.

On January 1, 1879, the day fixed for resumption, the reserve of coin, over and above all matured liabilities, was $133,508,804.50. The total amount of United States notes presented for redemption from January 1 to November 1, 1879, was $11,256,678. Very little coin was demanded on the coin liabilities of the government, and the aggregate gold and silver coin and bullion in the Treasury increased during that period from $167,558,734.19 to $225,133,558.72, and the net balance available for resumption increased from $133,508,804.50 to $152,737,155.48.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

All domestic mail matter must be prepaid by postage stamps. All letters received in the office with stamps cut from stamped envelopes, or with such postage stamps as were in use prior to 1861, or with revenue stamps on them, are treated as "unmailable," and sent to the Dead Letter Office. Departmental postage is prepaid by special stamps, prepared and furnished by the Post-office Department. Letters deposited in city lamp-post boxes must have the requisite number of stamps before placing them therein. Depositing money in the boxes does not insure their being prepaid. Newspapers are not taken at city lamp-post boxes. A letter on which one full rate of postage is prepaid, but on which further postage is chargeable, will be forwarded, when deposited in a post-office, and the deficient postage at single rates collected on delivery. If the postage is left wholly unpaid, or is prepaid, less than one full rate, it will be "held for postage," and sent to the Dead Letter Office. Should it reach its destination by inadvertence, however, it will be charged with double postage on delivery, with allowance of any amount less than one full rate which has been prepaid thereon. "One full rate" means, in the case of mail letters, three cents. All matter other than letters must be fully prepaid, or it will not be forwarded except possibly by inadvertence, in which case double postage will be collected on its delivery. Letters addressed to initials or fictitious names are not deliverable unless the address contains a designated place of delivery. The following are the rates payable on the different classes of domestic mail matter:

First Class.

On letters, sealed packages, mail matter wholly or partly in writing (except book manuscripts and corrected proof sheets passing between authors and publishers, and except local or "drop" letters); on all printed matter so marked as to convey any other or further information than is conveyed by the original (except the correction of typographical errors); on all matter not otherwise chargeable with letter postage, but which is so wrapped or secured that it cannot be conveniently examined by postmasters without destroying the wrapper or envelope; on all newspapers, magazines and periodicals sent from publishers to subscribers and inclosing any article whatever except bona fide supplements or bills and receipts for subscriptions; and on all packages of matter not in itself chargeable with letter postage, but in which is enclosed or concealed any letter or other thing chargeable with letter postage, 3 cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of packages limited to four pounds. On local or "drop" letters, at offices where free delivery by carriers is established, 2 cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of packages limited to four pounds. On local or "drop" letters, at offices where free delivery by carriers is not established, 1 cent per half ounce or fraction thereof, weight of package limited to four pounds.

Second Class.

On newspapers and periodicals issued weekly or oftener, sent from a known office of publication, or news agency, to regular subscribers or news agents, 2 cents per pound. On newspapers or periodicals, including magazines, sent from a known office of publication, or news agency, to regular subscribers or news agents, and issued less frequently than once a week, 3 cents per pound. These rates are payable by the publisher or news dealer at the office of mailing, and at the time the matter is deposited in the post-office. Postage on printed matter to Canada and other British North-America Provinces can be prepaid only to the boundary line—the rates being the same as on domestic matter of the same kind. "Exchanges" are rated the same as subscribers' papers, and have the privilege of free circulation in the county of publication, the same as county papers.

Third Class.

By act of July 12, 1876, pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, magazines, books, periodicals, hand-bills, posters, sheet-music (printed), prospectuses, maps, proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets and regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes or free circulation, or for circulation at nominal rates, are subject to postage at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof; and printed cards and blanks, lithographs, prints, chromo-lithographs, engravings, photographs and stereoscopic views, book manuscripts, unsealed circulars, seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, bulbs, flexible patterns, samples of ores, metals, minerals and merchandise, sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes and wrappers, unprinted cards, plain and ornamental paper, card-board, and other flexible material, and all other mailable matter of the third class not herein enumerated, one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

All packages of matter of the third class must be so wrapped or enveloped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily and thoroughly examined by postmasters, without destroying the wrappers; but seeds and other articles liable, from their form or nature, to loss or damage, unless specially protected, may be inclosed in unsealed bags or boxes which can readily be opened for examination of the contents and reclosed; or sealed bags, made of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents clearly, without opening, may be used for such matter.

Matter of the third class, inclosed in sealed envelopes, notched at the ends or side, or with the corners cut off, cannot be mailed, except at letter postage rates.

Matter of the second or third classes, containing any writing whatever, will be charged with letter postage, except as follows:

The sender of any article of the third class of mail-matter may write his or her name or address therein, or on the outside thereof, with the word "from" above or preceding the same, or may write briefly or print on any package the number and names of the articles inclosed.

Postal Cards

may be procured at any post-office, at a cost of 1 cent each. The message, etc., must be always written on the back of the card. If any thing but the address is written on the face, letter postage must be paid by stamps, or the card will not be forwarded. Nothing whatever must be attached to the card. Postal cards will be forwarded from one office to another, in case of removal of the person addressed, but will in no case be returned to the writer, nor sent to the Dead-Letter Office, nor advertised. By the act of 1879, two cent postal cards and double-letter envelopes, so arranged that they may be forwarded and returned, are authorized.

Domestic Money Orders

are issued at any money-order post-offices in the United States, payable at any other money-order post-office, in sums of not more than fifty-dollars. Larger amounts can be sent to the same person by additional orders. RATES: On orders not exceeding $15, 10 cents; over $15 and not exceeding $30, 15 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, 20 cents; over $40 and not exceeding $50, 25 cents.

Foreign Money Orders.

At the principal money-order post-offices in the United States (including all the larger post-offices), money orders, payable at money-order post-offices in Great-Britain, Ireland and Switzerland, may be procured at the following rates: On orders not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40 and not exceeding $50, $1.25. Orders can also be obtained on Germany at the following rates: On orders not exceeding $5, 15 cents; over $5 and not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40 and not exceeding $50, $1.25.

Unclaimed Letters.

All letters remaining unclaimed for thirty days in a post-office, after being advertised, are sent to the Dead-Letter Office, except letters bearing a request to return to the writer if not called for within a specified time, and letters bearing the name and address of the writer on the outside. Such letters are returned direct to the writers without advertising.

Forwarding Letters Free.

Prepaid and free letters are forwarded from one post-office to another, at the request of the persons addressed, without additional postage. But a letter which has been once delivered to an authorized person cannot be remailed to a new address without the prepayment of additional postage. Drop-letters, when forwarded by mail to another post-office, must be prepaid at 3 cents per half ounce. No mail matter, except letters or postal cards, can be forwarded to a new address except on prepayment of postage by stamps at regular rates.

Registered Letters.

Letters can be registered to any part of the United States and Territories and to foreign countries, on payment of a registration fee of 10 cents. All registration fees must be paid by stamps, and the postage on all registered letters must also be prepaid in full by stamps. The public are desired by the Post-office never to send money or valuable articles in unregistered letters. Postmasters at all post-offices are obliged to register letters and packages when requested to do so.

Registry of Third Class Mail Matter.

The registry system was extended to third class matter October 1, 1878, and all packages of such matter may now be registered, and will be treated in the mails the same as registered letters. Both postage and registry fee must be fully prepaid by stamps affixed to the package. The registry fee is uniformly ten cents for each package.

Foreign Postage.

For letters not over half an ounce, to Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Netherlands, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Norway, Portugal, Roumania, Servia, Switzerland, Denmark, Egypt, Greece and Turkey, 5 cents.

[A one-cent adhesive postage stamp must be affixed to each postal card sent to the above countries in addition to the one-cent stamp already printed thereon.]

Letters, postal cards, newspapers, magazines, books, engravings, sheet music, etc., sent to Canada, are subject to the same rates and regulations as domestic mail matter of the same class. Patterns and samples of merchandise, including grains and seeds, packages limited to eight ounces, must be prepaid at a uniform rate of ten cents per package, so inclosed, as to be easily examined.

Suggestions.

All mail matter should be plainly and fully directed. In addition to the town or city and State, the name of the county should be added, if known: though the latter is not necessary in the case of matter for New York, Chicago, or other large cities.

All mail matter for large cities should be directed to the street and number of the person or firm addressed, or to box number. Letters for large cities, addressed to transient residents and intended "to be called for," should be marked.

Postage-stamps should be affixed to the upper right hand corners of letters, and the use of envelopes of dark colors or fanciful forms should be avoided. Sealing-wax should not be used on mail matter in hot weather, nor at any time on letters directed to tropical countries.

Letters are sometimes "held for postage," in consequence of the failure of the stamps to adhere after the letters have been mailed. This difficulty can be avoided by taking care to wet moderately both sides of the stamps.

Glass, liquids, poisons and explosive materials are excluded from the mails by law, and, if deposited in a post-office, will not be forwarded.

Cases of serious loss or delay should be reported to the "Second Assistant Postmaster-General, Washington, D. C.;" ordinary cases to the local postmaster.

STANDARD REMEDIES.—It is a fact well known to all our readers, that a few proprietary medicines have achieved a reputation as standard remedies, and occupy a place in every well regulated household, almost as universally as the Bible and the family almanac. Foremost among these is the Merchant's Gargling Oil, manufactured by the well-known company of that name, at Lockport, N. Y.—a sovereign remedy for man and beast, and one which has wrought hundreds of well-attested cures. We need hardly say here what the patrons of the BLADE fully understand—that we do not make a practice of praising indiscriminately the numerous compounds offered to the public, but since we believe the “Gargling Oil” to be a carefully compounded and efficacious remedy, we do not hesitate to say as much.—Toledo (Ohio) Blade.

The Christian Leader (N. Y.) in speaking of Merchant's Gargling Oil, says: “Mr. Hodge is a gentleman of liberal tastes and excellent judgment, and the Gargling Oil Company, under his thoroughly judicious direction, has become one of the strongest and soundest concerns that grace the commercial annals of our State. Other medicinal specialties, in addition to the Gargling Oil, are beginning to claim the Company's attention, and of their great success we have as little doubt as we have of their intrinsic value.”

COVERT'S

Patent Improvement in

ROPE GOODS.

No more Splicing or Winding Ends with Cord.

No. 1.

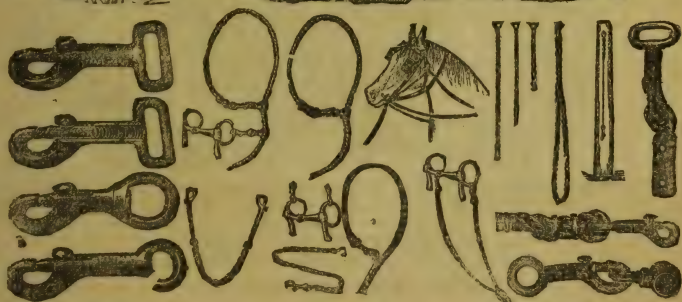

No. 2.

Rope Halters, Horse Ties, Cattle Ties, Halter Leads, etc., made by clamping the lap with steel rings, as shown in cut. Also, clamping the end with a ring to prevent unbraiding.

This is accomplished by machinery, and a superior article can be made at so much less cost, it will not pay any one to make up goods the old way. We are now prepared to furnish the trade the cheapest and best Rope Halters ever made. No. 1 illustrates the twisted and irregular form of the spliced Halter; also the insecure method of whipping the end with cord, which invariably comes off, and allows the rope to untwist. No. 2 illustrates the New Halter. It is made by clamping the laps with steel rings. The end is also secured with a steel ring, which will remain as long as the rope lasts. We have also a full line of

COVERT'S HORSE and MULE JEWELRY.

Consisting of Covert's Celebrated Harness Snaps, Swivel Snaps, Open Eye Bit and Chain Snaps, Snap and Thimble for Horse and Cattle Ties, Rope Goods, consisting of Horse Ties, Cattle Ties and Halter Leads, Leather Horse Ties, Breast Chains, Halter Chains, Martingale Chains, Rein Chains, Post Chains, Post Rods, &c. These goods are far superior to anything of the kind on the market. They have from real merit become standard, and never fail to give entire satisfaction. They are for sale by all hardware and harness dealers.

4600 NEW WORDS & MEANINGS.

ALSO ADDED, A NEW

Biographical Dictionary,

OF OVER 9700 NAMES.

A NATIONAL STANDARD.

WEBSTER'S is the Dictionary used in the Government Printing Office, Jan. '79.
Every State purchase of Dictionaries for Schools has been of Webster.
Books in the Public Schools of the United States are mainly based on Webster.
Sale of Webster's is 20 times as great as the sale of any other series of Dictionaries.
THIRTY-TWO THOUSAND COPIES have been placed in the public schools of the U. S.
Engravings—contains 3000, nearly three times as many as any other Dictionary.
Recommended by State Supt's of schools in 35 States, and by 50 College Presidents.

PICTORIAL DEFINITIONS.

For the great aid rendered by pictures in defining, look at the pictures under the following words in Webster, each illustrating and defining the number of words and terms named:

Beef, p. 129.....15	Moldings, p. 851..10
Boiler, p. 148.....17	Phrenology, 982..37
Castle, p. 203.....24	Ravelin, p. 1089..14
Column, p. 253.....26	Ships, 1164, 1219..110
Eye, p. 588.....11	Steam Engine, ..20
Horse, p. 639.....45	Timbers, p. 1385..14

Making 343 words and terms defined by the pictures under above 12 words, in Webster's Un-abridged, far better than could be done by any description.

Is there any better aid than Webster to help a family to become intelligent?

In meeting names in reading, how frequently the thought is in mind, "Who was he? Where was he? What was he? and When was he?" This New BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY, in Webster, just answers these questions in brief.
